GIVE FARMERS HIGHER PRICES ON FIVE CROPS

Peas, Beans and Oil Sources Included.

Raise Asparagus Price

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Processor price ceilings for quick frozen asparagus will be raised in an effort to attain the maximum harvest of the crop this year, the OPA and agriculture department announced jointly today. An increase of one and one-half cents a pound in the price paid growers by processors will be allowed in Washington, Oregon, and California, and a one cent increase in other states.

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Food Administrator Chester C. Davis announced tonight that the government would guarantee farmers higher prices in 1943 for five vital war crops—dry beans and peas, peanuts, soy beans, and flaxseed—to encourage greatest possible production.

Funds to finance the program will be furnished thru the Commodity Credit corporation's purchase and loan department.

The higher prices will replace a $100,000,000 incentive payment program previously announced for these crops by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard. Funds for such payments have not been provided by congress because of farm bloc opposition.

The government has asked for greatly increased acreages of beans and peas, commodities now rationed, and peanuts, soy beans, and flaxseed for vegetable food oils and for live stock protein feed.

Other Incentives Remain.

Davis announced that incentive payments would be made on potatoes and truck crops—carrots, snap beans, lima beans, beets, tomatoes, cabbage, onions, and green peas—at rates previously announced by Wickard and for which funds are available.

In the case of dry beans and peas and soy beans, the new guaranteed prices are higher than present office of price administration ceiling prices.

Officials of the CCC explained that if ceilings were not increased, the government might have to sell the products to consumer outlets at prices which enable the latter to comply with ceilings. Such sales would involve losses to the government.

The guaranteed price for dry edible beans was set at $6.50 per 100 pounds at country shipping points. The guaranteed price had previously been announced at $5.60. The ceiling price is now $5.80.

Premiums and Discounts.

A guaranteed price of $7.50 per 100 pounds was set for lima and kidney beans. The ceiling price on these is now $6.30.

Yellow soy beans were raised from $1.70 to $1.80 per bushel. The present ceiling price is $1.66.

The new guaranteed price for peas will be from $5.65 to $5.40 per hundred pounds, depending on grade, compared with the former price range from $5.50 to $5.25.

The guaranteed price and loan rate for flaxseed will be $2.85 per bushel instead of $2.70 as announced previously.

On potatoes the incentive payment will be 50 cents per bushel on the normal yield of that part of the farmer's production between 90 and 110 per cent of his goal.

On truck crops the incentive payment will be $50 an acre on that part of a farmer's acreage between 90 and 100 per cent of his goal.

Farmer Loses Day at Plow While Drunk; Fined $25

Macon, Ga., April 7 (AP).—Because he wasted a plowing day by being drunk, a Bibb county farmer was under sentence of $25 fine or 50 days in jail today. Recorder George M. Nottingham levied the fine in his personal campaign against absenteeism, reminding the prisoner that absence from farm work was just as serious as absence from a war plant.

CAFE MEN FEAR MEATLESS DAYS ARE IMPENDING

Appeal to OPA for Larger Supplies.

Many Chicago restaurants will be without meat from April 20 to May 1 unless the office of price administration revises rationed food allotments, Marion Isbell, president of the Chicago Restaurant association, said last night. Isbell estimated that restaurants have suffered reductions in their meat supplies ranging from 40 to 80 per cent and predicted that at least one or two meatless days a week will be inevitable.

A telegram appealing for liberalization of the meat allotments was sent by the Chicago Restaurant association to Archie Palmer, associate director of food rationing for the OPA, in Washington. Yesterday the association started a post card poll of its 1,200 members on the question of meatless days.

Tries Meatless Menus.

D. L. Tofenetti, former president of the association and owner of a chain of seven restaurants, instituted meatless days in his restaurants on Tuesday. Tofenetti said last night that the menu, containing chicken, creamed turkey, fish, seafood, spaghetti, and egg entrees, had been well accepted by his customers.

"Under present allotments some restaurants may be forced to close," Isbell said. "There are not enough restaurants now to meet demands."

Isbell said that altho proprietors have tried to budget their meat allotments many have been unable to stretch them to cover an entire month.

Restaurants specializing in full dinners rather than short orders have been hit hardest, Isbell said. Several managers said last night that they feel a point differential should be made on the basis of average checks.

Based on December Servings.

Under present regulations restaurant allotments are based on the number of persons served last December multiplied by .93, or a reduction of 25 per cent in the point value of actual meats and other foods rationed with meat, used last December, whichever is the smaller total points.

Yesterday was the deadline for restaurants and other institutions to make application with local ration boards for allotments.

MERMAIDS OF BRAWN TO REPLACE MEN AS GUARDS AT BEACHES

Young women will take the places of men life guards along many north shore beaches this summer. It's because of the war, said beach officials yesterday as they outlined plans for the transition. Virtually all young men eligible as beach guardians are in uniform or expect to be.

Girl guards must be 18 years old or older, and, of course, expert swimmers. Muscles and not feminine shapeliness will help determine those to be chosen. The girls must be strong enough to handle struggling swimmers twice their weight. Applicants will be selected after tests conducted by D. Clark Leach, chairman of the swimming committee of the Central Amateur Athletic union.

Kenilworth, Wilmette, Highland Park, Lake Forest, Winnetka, and Glencoe have indicated that they will rely on girl life guards. Wilmette already has received eight applications and Winnetka five. Only Evanston is against feminine life savers. "They're all right in a swimming pool, but Lake Michigan would be too treacherous for them," said Charles F. Byrnes, recreation superintendent of Evanston.

TAX BILLS FOR 1942 COMING IN MAY WITH DEADLINE OF JUNE 15

Chicago's taxpayers will get their 1942 tax bills about May 15 and will have to meet a June 15 payment deadline. These estimates were made yesterday by public officials having to do with the taxes and tax billings. Not for many years have the mailing and penalty dates been so late.

The last books containing revisions of personalty assessments were received by County Assessor John S. Clark's staff yesterday from the county board of tax appeals, it was reported. Informally, staff members said that a week or more would be required to enter the changes ordered by the board.

Clark then will turn these books over to County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, whose duty it is to establish the 1942 tax rate and make out the bills, first for the country towns and then for the city.

He would make no forecast as to the city tax rate. The Civic federation has estimated that the rate will be at least $10.35 on the $100, and may go beyond $10.50. In comparison the 1941 tax rate was $9.89, the highest in history.

ALLIED FOOD PARLEY TO BE OPEN TO PRESS

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Elmer Davis, director of war information, said today the forthcoming allied food conference will be open to the press.

President Roosevelt told a press conference March 19 he hoped reporters would not be allowed to cover the conference, adding that he was looking for efficiency. To an inquiry "aren't newspapermen efficient?" Mr. Roosevelt grinned and said that sometimes newspapermen slow down the efficiency of others and the real trouble is that they are too efficient themselves.

Eight more governments today announced they would participated in the conference which will open April 27, making a total of 17 acceptances to date. Those added today were Brazil, Canada, Greece, Luxemburg, the Netherlands, Norway, South Africa, and Jugo-Slavia.

Schools Get $1,163,700 and Civil War Debt's Paid

Madison, Wis., April 7 [Special].—Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman and State Treasurer John M. Smith today signed a certificate for $1,163,700 to the state common school fund as a "write-off" of Wisconsin's Civil war debt. The obligation was incurred in outfitting troops. The money was "borrowed" from school funds. The 1943 legislature ordered repayment of the money. Interest on the debt totaled $69,466.43.

A Girl in Party Dress Needs a Place to Rest

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

There was never a bird that fell from a tree or a mouse killed in a trap that Marie Tremmel, 9 years old, didn't put in a match box and bury with the somber dignity of childhood. Today little Marie will be buried, perhaps in a potter's field.

Marie, the eldest of six children of Mrs. Elva Tremmel, 1920 South Leavitt street, was the victim of a simple tragedy Sunday. A fragile, blue eyed youngster, she was watching over her sisters and brothers at play when some taunting playmate passed by and threw a blazing match in her direction.

Dies Without Shedding Tear.

The flame caught at her dingy cotton garments and she was ablaze in a matter of seconds. Early the next morning Marie died in Children's hospital, never once having shed a tear.

Shocked and dazed, Mrs. Tremmel, whose husband disappeared seven weeks ago and who has been supporting her children on meager relief funds, realized that there was no money to bury her daughter with even the simple honors Marie had always given baby birds and other tiny creatures. Her child was taken to the county morgue, and there was not even a frock to lay her out in. Marie had never had a party dress.

Teachers Buy "Party" Dress.

Word reached the teachers of the Pickard school, where Marie had been a pupil. Chipping in, they bought her her first and last party dress, a dainty white taffeta frock trimmed with lace. But there was still little money for a funeral.

The Chicago Welfare administration contributed $75 and yesterday a group of neighbors endeavored to collect the remaining $75 necessary to bury the child. Their efforts fell short of the mark. Marie lies now in her party frock in a funeral home at 2153 West 18th place with a pink bow in her auburn curls. She is scheduled to be buried at 2 p. m. today.

Soldier Gets WAAC's Bag and Is His Face Red!

Camp Tyson, Tenn., April 7 (AP).—The boys at Camp Tyson claim the "reddest face in Tennessee" belongs to Corp. William Herron. Arriving here from Florida, Herron proceeded to unpack his barracks bag, and pulled out dainty feminine undergarments in a steady stream. The reason: en route, he'd accidentally exchanged his bag with one belonging to a WAAC.

COUNTY TO PAY OLD DEBTS; 4½ MILLION IN WARRANTS SOLD

Cook county's board of commissioners, temporarily having funds to disburse, were busy yesterday formulating plans to pay the most pressing bills of the more than $5,000,000 owed for supplies and equipment.

The cash on hand came from the sale of 1943 tax anticipation warrants—about $4,500,000 worth. Formal authorization for the payments to be made is expected at the board meeting next Monday.

One commissioner said that it was planned to satisfy all debts contracted in 1941, and then settle 10 per cent or so of the 1942 bills, with special arrangements made to suppliers of vital supplies for the county institutions. Recently the board has been forced to pay cash for such supplies, its credit rating being low.

None of the commissioners was optimistic about the long range view of the county's finances, and a couple were extremely pessimistic, holding that payless pay days for employés were a prospect before the summer ends.

3 Excuses, All Missing, for Overparking His Car

New York, April 7 (AP).—Magistrate Charles E. Ramsgate in Downtown Traffic court granted a suspended sentence today when Sam Kleinman gave this excuse for overtime parking: "When I got up to my office I found a telegram from my secretary. It said: 'Sorry, boss, but I eloped and couldn't come down.' Then, my shipping clerk had a heart attack and was taken to a hospital. Then, I found all my other help drafted, so I was left alone and couldn't get down to move my car."

REVEAL PATTON'S FORCES WEAKENED AXIS DEFENSE

Diverted Armored Strength from Nazi Lines.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 7 (AP.)—American troops of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. joined hands today with the British 8th army of Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery in pursuit of Marshal Erwin Rommel's fleeing African corps.

The long anticipated junction of the British and Americans also merged the air forces, which were declared in a special communique to be "now enjoying common targets."

[The Vichy radio reported today that Lt. Gen. Kenneth Anderson's British 1st army had launched an attack on an apparently large scale in the Medjez el Bab sector of northern Tunisia. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.]

Advanced troops of the 2d American corps fought thru the flank of the withdrawing enemy forces and united with the British on the ridge of Chemsi, 15 miles east of El Guetar on the Gafsa-Gabes road to the coast.

Yanks Divert Axis.

As the Americans and the British met triumphantly on the hill where elite German troops had fought bitterly only a few hours earlier, heavy forces of American Billy Mitchell bombers with a Spitfire escort were bombing the enemy transports fleeing northward from the area.

It now can be disclosed officially that an American infantry division which for more than two weeks has been trying to batter thru to the coast has performed the vital role of containing most of Rommel's armor in this sector, thereby weakening his defenses, first at the Mareth line, and then on the new line along the Wadi el Akarit, which the 8th army cracked in two hours yesterday.

When the Akarit line was cracked Rommel's gamble to hold his triangular flank against the Americans was lost.

Retreat Under Screen.

In this triangle between the sea, El Guetar, and Maknassy, the Americans had waged day after day the bitterest kind of struggle to gain a few hundred yards across a rugged terrain pocketed with machine guns and artillery and swathed with mine fields.

By yesterday afternoon many of Rommel's tank troops moved north under a smoke screen.

Harassed by flare dropping R. A.-F. bombers last night, the enemy's vehicles continued to edge toward the rear, and at dawn helmeted American riflemen plunged forward against dwindling resistance. There is no official information as to whether any considerable enemy force was trapped on the south side of the Gafsa-Gabes road when the Americans and British spliced their common front.

BOLIVIA JOINS WAR ON AXIS AND CALLS TROOPS

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 7 (AP).—President Enrique Penaranda and his cabinet tonight promulgated a decree putting Bolivia in the war as a partner of the allied nations against the axis—the second South American country to take up arms—and calling for general mobilization.

A spokesman, Chief of Staff Maj. Gen. Antenor Ichazo, said the mobilization would send some soldiers into production work.

Foreign Minister Tomas Manuel Elio notified all legations in Bolivia of the government's action and declared that the congress would debate a formal declaration of war against the axis powers as soon as it meets.

While the decree referred only to a "state of war with the axis powers," Elio said it applied to Germany, Italy, Japan, and the nations associated with them in the conflict.

President Penaranda, he added, will leave May 1 for Washington to confer with United States authorities as to the best means of integrating Bolivia's war potential in the allies' war effort.

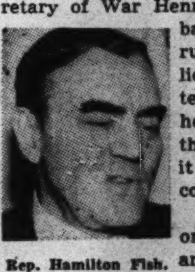
The decree declared Bolivia's action was in harmony with agreements among the American republics for continental solidarity and with Bolivia's position as a partner of the allies.

It reaffirmed that solidarity and ordered the mobilization to be carried out according to law and directed that the national defense council adopt emergency measures authorized by the decree.

Protest Order Barring Yanks as Candidates

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson's ban on soldiers' running for public office was protested in the house today on the ground that it violates the constitution.



Rep. Hamilton Fish.

The Stimson order forbids army officers or enlisted men from seeking election to public office unless they have held the same office before joining the service. Announcement of the order raised suspicion that it was directed against Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose admirers have suggested him for the Presidency.

Legality Assailed.

Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] brought the order to the immediate attention of the house today. He said:

"Since when has the executive department of the government assumed powers that nullify the Constitution of the United States? Under the constitution, every citizen is guaranteed the right to hold any public office to which the people may elect him.

Calls It Dictation.

"I do not know whether Gen. Douglas MacArthur would even consider the nomination for the presidency on the Republican ticket if offered to him. But I am quite sure that the executive department of the government has no power whatever to dictate to the free people of America whom they should nominate and elect as President of the United States.

"I anticipate that there will be a reversal of Secretary Stimson's directive, as the people in America resent executive dictation and reserve for themselves the right to select their own candidates."

Rep. Bernard W. Kearney [R., N. Y.] told the house:

"An unfair blow has been struck at the service men in the political ukase forbidding them to be candidates. It will disfranchise the wounded and disabled men of the service."

KELLY RESUMING OCD JOB; STATE CALLS M'KIBBIN

Mayor Goes West After Inaugural Tomorrow.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly, who was reëlected Tuesday by a margin of 116,159 votes, soon will resume his duties as coördinator of civilian defense now that the election is over. He had been granted a leave of absence from his OCD job until April 6.

George B. McKibbin, defeated Republican nominee, according to word from Springfield, will be offered reappointment by Gov. Dwight H. Green to his old post of state finance director, from which he resigned to make his campaign.

Inauguration Tomorrow Night.

Inauguration of the mayor for his third elected term of four years will occur tomorrow night in the council chamber, when the mayor and other newly elected city officers and aldermen will be sworn in. Mayor Kelly said he will make only a brief talk, if any.

On Sunday the mayor and Mrs. Kelly will leave for Phoenix, Ariz., for a rest of two weeks in the sun. Next Tuesday will be the 10th anniversary of Kelly's election as mayor for the first time by the city council.

The complete election figures on mayor gave Kelly 687,646; McKibbin, 571,487.

Proclaim Results Today.

Election results were canvassed yesterday by the election board, and the official proclamation is to be made at noon today. No material changes in the police returns are made by the official figures.

Republicans yesterday spoke of the reduced Democratic pluralities Tuesday as a barometer of trends for the 1944 elections. They see a chance next year not only to carry Illinois, which has been rolling up Republican majorities outside Chicago—President Roosevelt lost the downstate area and the Cook county suburbs in 1940 and carried Illinois by less than 100,000 votes because of his Chicago vote—but to elect some of the county officers, an important part of the Democratic machine.

Republican leaders also expressed deep satisfaction with Tuesday's aldermanic gains. They hailed the fact that they backed seven victors in the nine runoffs as a turn of the Democratic council tide that began even before the New Deal landslides of the last decade. This, they said, puts the city hall machine bosses on notice that their days of ruthless dominance are numbered.

"Watch Our Smoke," Says Ross.

"Tuesday's aldermanic vote was a wave that swept away G. O. P. defeatism in many wards," said Dr. Joseph C. Ross, retiring Republican alderman of the 40th ward. "Watch our smoke from now on."

Indication that there is now a strong nucleus of independence in the council was contained in statements by some of the winners yesterday.

Bertram B. Moss, new 5th ward alderman, backed by the Republicans after the Kelly-Nash indorsement was switched from him to Horace G. Lindheimer, declared he does not intend to be a dominated council member.

"I shall keep my campaign promise to be independent in thought and action," Moss said. "I aim to work for the best interests of my ward and the city as a whole."

Hilburn Pledges Independence.

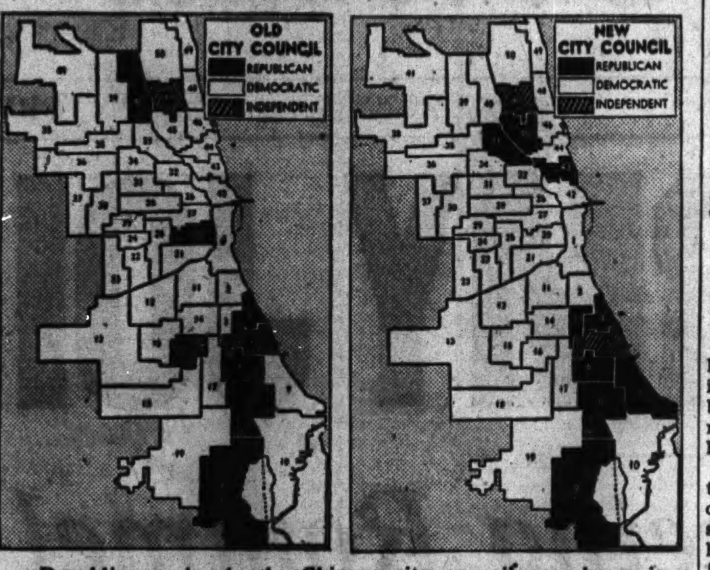
Ald. Frank O. Hilburn [47th], whom the city hall forces tried in vain to purge, declared he would continue his policy of voting in accordance with the needs and desires o. his constituents rather than those of a political group.

Oscar DePriest, former G. O. P. congressman who unseated Ald. Benjamin A. Grant in the 3d ward, said his election was an adequate reply to those who termed his age a handicap.

"With the aid of the younger workers who are with me I shall fight as always for the good of my ward and my city and the rights of my people," DePriest said. "In the council my Republicanism will in no wise be lessened by the fact that I was elected on a nonpartisan ticket. I am too thoroly steeped in party interest to do otherwise."

Republican Gains in Council

(Story in adjoining column.)



Republican gains in the Chicago city council are shown in a comparison of the maps.

VOTERS DEFEAT AIRPORT; NEW SPONSOR SOUGHT

The army presumably will try to find another Chicago area community to sponsor the 2 million dollar airport project which was defeated by Kane county voters Tuesday, H. E. Horner, regional supervisor of airports for the civil aeronautics administration, said yesterday.

Kane county rejected a proposal to issue $180,000 in bonds to buy a 700 acre site for the port by a vote of 8,506 to 5,017, with the Elgin city township and the rural sections rolling up large majorities against the idea. At a previous election the proposal was defeated by Aurora city voters.

STEAL 72 NECKTIES.

Six dozen neckties valued at $135 were taken Tuesday night from a haberdashery at 188 North State street, Max Berry, manager, reported to police. The burglars shattered the front door glass.

SCHOOL BOARD ASKS 52 MILLION PEGGED LEVY FOR OPERATION

The board of education voted authority yesterday to James B. McCahey, president, to file a bill in the state legislature in Springfield next week asking the continuation of the 52 million dollar pegged levy that has been granted the Chicago schools for each of the last three years. McCahey said he didn't see how the school board could operate on less than that amount.

The board appointed seven teachers to the principalships of elementary schools that had lost their principals thru death, retirement or requested transfer. They are Evan B. Clogston, to Bridge school; Helen Lowell, to Prussing; Mary Edna Howland, to Dewey; Merle J. Isaac, to Drake; Anna D. Jensen, to Hammond; Mary T. Lucas, to Shields, and Helen R. Gallagher, to Burns.

F. O. Washam, director of lunchrooms, told the board the schools would receive approximately $100,000 a month from the federal government to enable them to carry on their penny lunch program without the aid of rapidly diminishing surplus commodities. He said 4 million bottles of milk would be distributed thru the schools monthly at a cost of only ¾ of a cent apiece to the school board.

Delay Tipsy Driving Case of Comedian-Politician

A drunken driving charge against Ted [Poor Bartek] Kantor, radio comedian whose candidacy for sheriff last November was thrown out because of allegedly faked signatures on his petition, was continued to April 13 by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Safety court yesterday. Kantor was arrested Monday morning by park police at Mozart street and Augusta boulevard. A capias was issued when he failed to appear in court that day.

The body of Merle Harmon, 35 years old, 908 West 37th place, who was last seen alive on Nov. 24, was recovered yesterday from a river slip at 37th street.

POST-WAR PLANS BODY IS FORMED BY NEW COUNCIL

Slated to Co-operate with Older Commission.

A new city council committee to handle post-war planning problems in Chicago was formed last night by the council committee on committees meeting in a downtown hotel.

Membership of this new committee will include chairmen of the 20 council standing committees and some others, and probably will be headed by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th]. Subordinate officials and other members will be selected today.

To Work with Plan Body.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee on committees, said the new unit will be known as the committee on planning or the committee on city planning. It will work in coördination with the Chicago Planning commission which, for some years, has been drawing a master plan for a better and more beautiful Chicago. Much of the master plan has been completed; it deals largely with reconstruction, a factor apparently to be considered in post-war plans for the material enhancement of the city.

Earlier in the day the city council elected members to the committee on committees, and Ald. Quinn was made chairman. Each member represents a group of wards. The members and ward groups they represent are:

Ald. Lindell, wards 1 to 10; Ald. Hugh B. Connelly [11th], wards 11 to 20; Ald. James B. Bowler [25], wards 21 to 30; Ald. Joseph P. Rostenkowski [32d], wards 31 to 40, and Ald. Quinn, chairman, wards 41 to 50.

One Republican in Group.

Lindell is the only Republican on this important committee. A resurgence in G. O. P. strength in the city council was indicated by the Tuesday election, which bolstered the Republican membership in the council to nine. With two independents also elected, and probably closest to Republican sentiment, observers now expect the formation of a Republican bloc of at least 9 and perhaps 11 men, which may easily be influential in council affairs.

Fifteen new aldermen, including several Republicans, made their bow at yesterday's council meeting. All arrived at 10:30 a. m., the scheduled starting time, but were an hour ahead of the old timers.

Broker Starts 90 Day Sentence for Contempt

F. Gerald Thomas, 50 years old, of 1002 North Central avenue, a real estate broker with offices at 155 North Clark street, surrendered yesterday to the United States marshal to begin serving a 90 day sentence for contempt of court. Thomas was sentenced to the jail term by Federal Judge William H. Holly when he allegedly violated an injunction not to communicate with stockholders of a bankrupt hotel at 4145 Broadway.

1,276,537 TOTAL VOTE IS 70% OF CHICAGO REGISTRATION TALLY

A total of 1,276,537 ballots cast in Tuesday's city election represented 70.37 per cent of the total registration of 1,814,060 voters, figures from the election commission showed yesterday. The 1st ward had the lowest percentage of votes cast, 45.86, a phenomenon attributed by many to the closer surveillance given the precincts in the ward by anti-fraud workers. Ward figures are:

Ward.	Total ballots cast.	% of reg. voters.
1	9,539	45.86

The 1,276,537 total vote Tuesday was less than 100,000 under the total vote in the city in the 1942 state election. At that time 1,374,574 ballots were cast, or 76.76 per cent of the registration.

RAISE $4,470,226 IN CAMPAIGN FOR RED CROSS FUND

Three more groups in the business division of the Red Cross War Fund campaign topped their assigned quotas yesterday as the drive reached $4,470,226, 51 per cent of its $8,750,000 Chicago area goal, Martin H. Kennelly, general chairman of the drive, announced.

The three groups which reached their goals yesterday are personal finance, florists, and clubs. The music, stocks and grains, and alcoholic beverage groups previously had reached their goals, Kennelly said. There are 61 groups in the business division.

Contributions announced yesterday included: $18,375, Harris Trust and Savings bank; $7,750, Stewart-Warner corporation; $5,000 each from the Slovene National Benefit society and the International Cellucotton Products company; $2,500 each from the Beaumont Electric Supply company and the Central Steel and Wire company; and $2,000 each from Sargent Lundy, Pick Securities company, and the Corn Products Sales company.

CONTESTS OF 5 COUNCIL SEATS AWAIT CANVASS

It's 20 Years Since Any Has Been Allowed.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

Close votes in five of the nine aldermanic runoffs in Tuesday's balloting brought speculation yesterday on whether the defeated candidates, two Republicans and three Democrats, will start contests. The beaten candidates or their representatives said they will study official canvass figures, to be proclaimed at noon today, before making decisions.

Council Sole Judge.

By the terms of the cities and villages act, the council itself, as sole judge of the eligibility, election, and qualification of its members, has undisputed jurisdiction in such matters. Robert A. Taylor, veteran attorney for the election board, said it has been more than 20 years since the council granted a plea for a council contest.

In seeking a recount, a candidate presents his request to the council as a whole. The council then may appoint a special committee to hear evidence of precinct errors and irregularities, which reports its findings back to the main body.

See Democrat Contests.

It is then up to the aldermen either to grant or deny the request. Observers said yesterday that, because of the overwhelming Democratic strength in the new council, G. O. P. hopes of changing the results in the 2d and 40th wards, which they lost by 619 and 566 votes, respectively, according to unofficial returns, are rather forlorn.

It may be another story in the 3d, where the Democrats lost by 461, in the 33d where their losing margin was 882, and the 43d where they lost by 488.

Export Price Is Increased to Make Hot Dogs Comfy

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Because Yanks on distant battle fields don't like their hot dogs squashed, OPA today increased the price of export frankfurters 1½ cents a pound. The extra money, OPA said, is for wirebound wooden boxes for packing. Similar price increases for army-navy purchases included a cent a pound on bologna.

Coast Guardsman Crushed Fatally by Cable Reel

Daniel J. Regan, 23 years old, Wilmington, Del., coast guard electrician's mate, third class, was killed yesterday when he was crushed between a heavy reel of cable and the side of a truck at the coast guard station at the mouth of the Chicago river. Coast guard officers said he was one of a crew transferring the reel, which weighed more than two tons, from one truck to another.

MERRY HAS NO. 5 AND A PASSPORT ALL FOR $1,500

Fahrney Heiress Last in South America.

New York, April 7 [Special].—Merry Fahrney, patent medicine heiress was revealed today as the heroine of a new madcap adventure—the acquisition of a hard-up waiter as her fifth husband merely in order to get a passport to South America. The bridegroom, who declares the marriage never was consummated, cost Merry only $1,500, which he tossed away on a holiday in Florida.

As the wife of Nils Kurt Holm, a Swede, Merry became a Swedish subject and was able to get her coveted passport in November, 1941. Thereupon she took off for the Argentine with a satchel containing a fortune.

Holm, who is now a waiter at Gallagher's Steak house, in Manhattan's West 52d street, was a bartender and waiter at the Castleholm Swedish restaurant here back in 1941.

Needed Money, Took Offer.

He said today that a man whom he knew only as Carlson approached him at the Castleholm and asked him if he wanted to make some money. Holm, low paid and living in a $5 a week room, seized the opportunity. He said Carlson took him to an east side restaurant and introduced him to Merry Fahrney.

"She told me," he said, "that she wanted badly to marry some one in South America, but couldn't get a passport. She asked me to marry her so she could leave the country as a Swedish subject. I needed the money, so I took her offer,

"She and Carlson and I went by train to Cheraw, S. C., in early November, 1941, and I married her. We took the first train back to New York and I have never seen her since." He worried at times about the queer deal, he said, but lacked the courage to tell his story to authorities.

Knew High Nazis.

Merry fraternized with high placed Nazis before this country entered the war. During 1940 and '41, she was seen frequently with Manfred Zapp, former head of the German Transocean News service in New York, since tried and convicted as a foreign agent. She also knew Dr. S. H. W. Scholz, former German consul in Boston, and Herbert von Strempel, former first secretary of the German embassy in Washington.

The red headed heiress began her latest adventure on Aug. 15, 1941, when she sailed for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, on the liner Uruguay. She carried an American passport, under the name of Merry Fahrney Berlingieri Cassini, the last two appellations being the surnames of husbands 3 and 4.

On her return by Clipper to Miami on Sept. 29, immigration authorities picked up her passport. She tried in vain to get a new one, but the state department said no.

By Oct. 21 the heiress was back in New York, hostess at a swank party at the Plaza hotel. Then suddenly she vanished and for months no one knew her whereabouts.

Actually she was in the throes of a "business elopement." Early in November she turned up in Cheraw with Holm and the two were wedded by Justice of the Peace T. J. Radcliff. Holm said he was 35 years old and came to this country from Malmo, Sweden, in 1928. Merry gave her age as 21. [Her first marriage, to Hugh Parker Pickering, was in 1931.]

On Nov. 14, the new Mrs. Holm appeared at the Swedish consulate in New York, and, as a Swedish subject by marriage, obtained a Swedish passport from Consul General Martin Kastengren. On Dec. 1 she left New York on the first leg of a journey to Los Angeles, then to Mexico, and finally Buenos Aires.

Since that time, she has communicated with her attorney here occasionally from Buenos Aires, sending him, among other things, a sealed will "To be opened only upon my decease."

REPORT ASTOR'S WIFE IN NEVADA TO GET DIVORCE

New York, N. Y., April 7 [Special].—Mrs. John Jacob Astor III., the former Ellen Tuck French, whose marriage to the Astor heir in Newport in 1934 was one of society's most widely heralded events in decades, was reported by friends today to be "somewhere in Nevada" to establish residence for divorce proceedings.

According to the same sources an agreement has been signed whereby Mrs. Astor will receive a settlement unofficially estimated at $1,000,000 in return for relinquishment of all other claims against her husband's estate. Custody of their 7 year old son, Billy, will be divided on a basis of six months with one parent and six months with the other, it was said.

Altho Mr. and Mrs. Astor have made joint appearances at numerous public functions in recent years, they have been living apart.

Thompson Demands That Senate Clarify It.

Provisions dangerous to the rights and liberties of individuals and publications—provisions that should be eliminated, modified, or "clarified"—still remain in the Roosevelt administration's war security or "Gestapo" bill, Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, said last night. The senate judiciary committee in Washington prepared to open consideration of the measure today.

"The house amendments to the measure have corrected some of its objectionable features," Thompson said. "But there still remain some provisions in the bill which congress should clarify before it is adopted."

The bill provides for severe punishments: death for "any hostile act against the United States' while the country is at war; life imprisonment, for conspiring to commit such act or attempting to; and 10 years and up to $10,000 fine for failure to report knowledge that another person has committed, is committing, or is about to commit a hostile act.

Press Provision Amended.

Among the definitions of a "hostile act" included in the bill, the one referring to newspapers and publications reads: "Acquiring, compiling, obtaining access to or transmitting any data calculated to inform the enemy with respect to the war effort of the United States or the war effort or defense of any nation whose defense shall have been publicly declared by the President to be vital to the defense of the United States, with intent to aid a country with which this country is at war."

In the house, however, with this paragraph remaining in it, the act was amended as follows: "Nothing in this act or any rule or regulation made pursuant thereto shall be construed to prevent any citizen or any newspaper or other publication at any time from freely discussing or openly criticizing the domestic policy of the federal government, or any public official, or from discussing or criticizing any existing or proposed law, regulation, directive, or executive order."

Jurist Points Danger.

Thompson characterized the provisions of the bill, even thus amended, still "very dangerous." He saw the same dangers in a provision in the bill directed against corporations or associations, where some act is committed by an officer or employé that might be construed as sabotage or criticism of the prosecution of the war.

Of the provision affecting newspapers and other publications as well as individuals, Thompson said:

"This is, of course, just a revival of the old fashioned sedition act of the Federalist days, which already has been condemned in the earlier history of our country as dangerous legislation. It already has been somewhat taken care of by amendment. It would be a good thing if it were eliminated.

Danger to Stockholders.

"In the other provision, the danger lies against innocent stockholders of corporations or members of associations, including labor unions and other organizations of citizens. I consider it fundamental in the American system of justice that criminal conduct is personal, that only the person who commits a crime should be punished and that innocent persons who may be associated should not be subjected to prosecution for acts of the guilty person.

"Then, also, the section of the act providing severe penalties for failure to report another person makes no exceptions of lawyers, priests, or physicians, or husbands or wives. Any or all of these may get information in a confidential way or relation. And it furnishes no protection to the citizen who mistakenly reports another and who may subject himself or herself to heavy damages.

"We all certainly want to make it clear that we favor any necessary legislation to give the civil courts authority to try saboteurs or any others caught interfering with the winning of the war and thereby removing any necessity or claimed necessity of prosecuting such persons before military courts.

Sees Citizens Made Informers.

"There is no objection to the law insofar as it affects the most vigorous prosecution and punishment of persons committing direct acts endangering their country. My objections are against those provisions making people responsible by association—connection—or making all our citizens into informers."

The former Illinois chief justice made a vigorous attack on the bill at a recent meeting of the American Bar association's house of delegates in Chicago. He is a member of the organization's board of governors. The house of delegates voted to approve the legislation insofar as it provided for the prosecution and punishment of acts in aid of the enemy; but it disapproved the informer provisions and those that might be used against innocent persons simply because connected with some organization with which the guilty were connected.

2 Tutors Teaching Stalin English, London Is Told

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 7.—Josef Stalin, premier of Russia, is learning to speak English and has engaged two tutors, the Daily Telegraph said today. His decision to study the language was said to date from the visit of Prime Minister Winston Churchill to Moscow last year.

DEALERS SLASH BUTTER PRICES ON OVERSUPPLY

Some Cut Ration Value to Single Point.

Food retailers faced with spoilage of large butter stocks are liquidating their supplies at reduced point values, in some instances at one ration point a pound, an 87½ per cent reduction in point value, butter wholesalers disclosed yesterday.

The forced sale of butter followed a slackening of consumer demand after the sale of butter, meats, fats, and oils was resumed March 29. In the week from March 22 to March 29, when these foods were frozen by the office of price administration, many retail stores stocked large supplies of butter in anticipation of heavy sales when the ban was lifted. However, butter sales did not reach expected volume and many retailers found themselves with excessive supplies that might become rancid.

Stores Exercise OPA Option.

At least one chain store system and numerous independent food stores were reported to have exercised the option granted by OPA rationing rules to lower point values in order to speed the sale of perishable goods threatened with spoilage. The reduced point value must be accompanied by lowered prices.

OPA rationing officials said that under a ruling effective April 5 a retailer must cut the price of the perishable food at least 25 per cent below the ceiling price before he can reduce its prescribed point value. If the retailer desires to lower the point value more than 25 per cent, he must cut the price proportionately, but not more than 50 per cent under the price ceiling.

The retailer is required to make a written report of his action within 24 hours to his local rationing board, and within 4 days a full report of the types and quantities of the food sold under the lower point value.

Decline in Consumption Unnoted.

Butter dealers explained that butter normally was sold within 10 days after leaving the warehouse. Some retailers may have had butter in their refrigerators for more than a week, spoilage thus threatening.

Dealers reported there had been no apparent decline in butter consumption as the result of rationing, which was intended to cut the average consumer's weekly use from one quarter pound to about 5 ounces.

Action to reduce point values to increase scales of perishable foods also was taken by butchers, who complained that pork, liver, and other sausage and sandwich meats were given point values too high to encourage sales.

Marriage Revealed

MARGIE HART.

New York, April 7 [Special].—Edna Margaret Cox of Kansas City, Mo., better known to the burlesque trade as Margie Hart, première stripteuse, has been the wife of Lt. Seaman B. Jacobs of the army, her former press agent, since last July 4, her present publicist announced today. The ceremony, the formal announcement stated, was performed at Belton, Mo. Early last month Mrs. Jacobs deserted the burlesque stage to open, fully garbed, in a road company version of "Cry Havoc" in Chicago. The show is now in Detroit.

FIX MAXIMUM PRICE ON FROZEN FISH, SEAFOOD

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—The office of price administration today established maximum prices on sales of frozen salt water fish and seafood sold by processors, which the agency said would result in a leveling off of existing prices.

OPA said the regulation, which replaces ceilings based on March, 1942, maximums, would result in little change in retail prices.

The leveling off of prices, the agency predicted, would tend to aid production "in an industry already harassed by the fact that many boats ordinarily used in fishing are now serving as auxiliaries to the armed forces," and by military restrictions on the movement of off-shore vessels.

OPA also disclosed that ceilings on fresh fish are being considered.

requiring meat packers to set aside large percentages of their meat production for the army and navy and other government agencies.

The government will continue its meat buying to replenish its stock, nevertheless, but meat will not be especially reserved for government purchase, the government apparently being willing to take its chances on the open market.

The meat reservation order took effect March 15, but last week was suspended for a two week period until April 10, in an effort to channel enough meat supplies into civilians' hands. Today's action continues this suspension indefinitely.

At the same time, the department instituted inventory controls over all pork and beef held by federally inspected slaughterers.

Restrict Inventories.

Such slaughterers after April 17 will not be permitted to have more pork and beef—fresh frozen, cured and in cure—on hand than they had when they calculated their inventories at the end of their second quota period—about March 31. Smaller slaughterers, without quotas, may not keep more beef and pork on hand than they had on either March 27 or April 3, whichever is higher.

The inventory control does not apply to lamb, veal, and mutton.

Officials said the new inventory restriction is a temporary measure and will be replaced soon by a permanent order controling meat packers' stocks. They said the provision is designed to prevent excess accumulation of meat stocks by the packers at a time when both government agencies and civilian consumers are having some difficulties in getting meat for their needs.

May Be Reinvoked.

The suspension of the meat reservation order does not affect quota restrictions on meat that may be delivered by packers for civilian use. But it is expected to result in making sufficient meat available so these quotas can be met. The restrictions limit deliveries for consumers by packers killing more than 500,000 pounds of meat a quarter to about 70 per cent of their 1941 deliveries, and limit deliveries by smaller packers to the same amount sold in 1941.

Officials emphasized that the reservation order for government needs has not been canceled, but merely suspended. If sufficient meat is not obtained for government agencies without the "set aside" provision, it will be reinvoked, they added.

Before the suspension, federally inspected slaughterers were required to hold back varying percentages of their beef, veal, pork, lamb, and mutton output, averaging about 40 per cent. According to informed officials, this resulted in the piling up of more meat than current requirements of government agencies demanded and unnecessarily restricted supplies for civilians.

SCRAPPLE MUST BE 20 PCT. MEAT TO RATE POINTS

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—OPA tackled the question, "What is scrapple?" today and came up with a mathematical formula.

Complaints were rolling in that stores were collecting ration points for scrapple that contained practically no meat. OPA, accordingly, ruled that scrapple can be considered a meat product and be charged meat ration points only if meat makes up 20 per cent or more of its contents. If the product has less meat, stores can call it whatever they please, but it's not scrapple so far as meat coupons are concerned.

Scrapple, especially in these days of meat shortage, is a widely varying combination of ground meat and cereals.

RAPS OPA PLAN TO USE JUDGES AS RATION TOOLS

Scheme Dangerous, Says Donald M'Kinlay.

The proposal of W. M. McFarland, chief hearing commissioner of the office of price administration, that judges and masters in chancery serve as presiding officers in rationing suspension hearings yesterday was termed "a backward procedure, fraught with a dangerous tendency" by Superior Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

Judge McKinlay's action was in response to an inquiry from McFarland thru the war activities committee of the Chicago Bar association as to the willingness of the judges to act in the rationing matters.

Burocrats Have Final Say.

Under the proposed procedure, after the report of the presiding officer is filed, the hearing commissioner would pass on it, issuing a suspension order or not as he might deem proper.

"In my opinion this use of the judges of our court would not be a desirable thing," Judge McKinlay stated. "The various bar associations already have been concerned with the tendency to have judicial matters heard by federal department heads and commissioners. To have the judges of the courts, even ex-officio, conduct the initial hearing and then have their findings reviewed and passed on by the bureau heads or commissioners would seem to me a backward procedure, fraught with a dangerous tendency."

Bar Asks 100 Volunteers.

Charles F. Hough, chairman of the war activities committee, said Judge Joseph Burke, a member of the committee, was canvassing the judges and masters in chancery as to their reactions to the suggestion.

In the meantime, Hough asserted, a letter has been sent to a selected list of bar association members outlining the situation and calling for volunteers from among the attorneys to sit as presiding officers at the hearings. Hough said the committee hoped to get at least 100 volunteers and that their names would be submitted to McFarland.

FIREMEN OVERCOME BY SMOKE.

Lt. Marvin Brown and Firemen Robert Duke and John Nudo of engine company 50 were treated at Chicago Memorial hospital last night after they had been overcome by smoke in a fire in an apartment building at 4719 Michigan avenue. Five tenants were rescued.

HOUSE ANGERED BY FILIBUSTER IN 'CRACKPOT' QUIZ

Witness on Stand 4 Days, Still Going Strong.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The house was stirred to anger today by the disclosure that a special subcommittee investigating charges of subversive activities against 39 government employés has bogged down in a filibuster being conducted by its first witness.

F. L. Schuman.

The witness, identified as Frederick L. Schuman, political analyst for the federal communications commission, has been on the stand for four days, members of the subcommittee admitted. And, they said bitterly, if he receives all the time he wants he will stay there for four weeks "or even four years."

Schuman, former University of Chicago professor, was among the 39 pay rollers named by Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] of the committee on un-American activities, in a speech Feb. 1 as being disloyal to the United States. Dies termed all 39 of them crackpot bucrocrats and charged they were conspiring to destroy Democratic government.

Dies' Foe Is Chairman.

The special subcommittee was created to sift the charges following the storm of protest over a move to strike the name of William Pickens, Negro treasury official who was on the Dies list, from the federal pay roll. Apologists for the accused employés declared in two days of frenzied oratory that it would be unfair to discharge them without a hearing.

The subcommittee, created on Feb. 9, is made up of members of the house appropriations committee. Its chairman is Rep. John Kerr [D., N. C.], who campaigned and voted against continuation of the Dies committee.

During today's heated discussion the house learned that all its committee has done so far is [1] picked itself a lawyer; [2] received evidence in 10 cases from the Dies committee, and [3] started hearing Schuman's testimony.

Committee Also Irked.

The subcommittee members did not take kindly to the sharp criticism they received from their colleagues.

"Any one who wants my job on the committee can have it," said D. Lane Powers [R., N. J.]. "They may have an opportunity to take it shortly anyway."

"I am as apprehensive about the investigation as any one else," declared Rep. Frank B. Keefe [R., Wis.], another member. "I recall that the chairman of the appropriations committee said the subcommittee would go to work at once and might begin reporting the next day.

"But we had to organize and we had to get the charges. It was difficult to get the evidence. The Dies committee has done a terrific amount of work in assembling the information. Any one who thinks it's a peanut job is wrong. Our first witness has been on the stand four days and if he had his way he'd be on four weeks. . . ."

"You mean even four years," interposed Rep. Powers. "Why, we have a stack of testimony three feet high for each case. It comes not only from the Dies committee but from the civil service commission, the department of justice and the interdepartmental committee. There are thousands of pages we must read."

100,000 VETERANS OF WORLD WAR I. AGAIN IN SERVICE

More than 100,000 veterans of the first world war are back in uniform in the present war, said H. H. Lark, a national vice commander of the American Legion, at a meeting of the Cook county council of the Legion in Hotel Sherman last night. Most of the veterans are in positions of command, he added.

Vice Commander Lark urged legionnaires to take the lead in all civilian war activities such as bond drives, rehabilitation of the wounded, and job placement for the returned fighters.

"The Legion can do much to build morale and to maintain our American democracy for the boys on their return after peace," said Lark. He is from Steelville, Mo.

Believe 400,000 Failed to File Income Tax Returns

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The bureau of internal revenue said today that some 400,000 persons probably failed to file income tax returns before the March 15 deadline or make a one-fourth down payment on their tax bills.

The 400,000 estimate is based on the ratio of delinquencies to the number of returns filed in 1940, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury John L. Sullivan said in a Washington speech this week.

Tells Ways of Checking.

"Thru form 1099, the information return, and thru social security records, we have ways and means of checking almost every one who is liable to pay an income tax," Sullivan said, "and we do check them."

"For the year 1940 a check of information returns and followup of the delinquents showed that of the total number who filed taxable returns an additional 1 per cent had been delinquent and the taxes owed by that additional 1 per cent amounted to less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the total amount collected."

While the offices of the collectors of internal revenue still are swamped with work and expected to be for the next 10 days, sufficient returns have been recorded to indicate that more than 40 million persons filed returns this year. The internal revenue spokesmen said thus some 400,000 persons probably failed to file returns this year, if the 1940 record can be used as a basis for an estimate.

Won't Forecast Increase.

The bureau refused to forecast any increase in delinquencies on the basis of the vast increase in the number of returns filed this year and the heavier tax burden on the lower income brackets.

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter H. Harrison had estimated last week that 100,000 Chicagoans had failed to file returns or were delinquent in their first tax payments.

To date in the 1943 fiscal year which started July 1, 1942, the American people have paid $10,511,963,130 in income taxes into the treasury, compared with $5,384,121,731 in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Ready to Crack Down

Cleveland, O., April 7 [Special].—Frank F. Gentsch, internal revenue collector for the Cleveland district, is getting ready to crack down on war workers and other delinquent taxpayers who have adopted a "come and get me" attitude about their income payments.

The collector said he will send a list of 15,000 names to the internal revenue bureau in Washington of persons who either failed to include any money with their income tax returns or failed to file a return.

Assessments on the persons will be fixed at Washington and returned to this area office for collection. Gentsch and his assistants then will check the list. Those who failed to pay thru neglect, according to Gentsch, would be ordered to pay the entire year's tax in one payment. Those who failed to pay thru wilful violation will be turned over to the United States district attorney's office for criminal prosecution.

RATION COUPONS GOOD ONLY WHEN GIVEN IN PERSON

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—You can't put rationed stamps on the doorstep for the milkman who leaves butter.

OPA explained today that ration stamps must be handed over in person. Likewise, the milkman or the butcher can't trust you for coupons and must collect them on delivery of rationed merchandise.

OPA also ruled that military men who eat part of their meals at camp and part at home are entitled to ration books if they eat 10 or more meals per week away from army posts. They are also entitled to coupons when on furlough.

DAVIS SELECTS CHICAGOAN AS MEAT ADVISER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Food Administrator Chester C. Davis today appointed two meat packing executives to serve as consultants on policy matters concerning live stock and meats.

The consultants are G. B. Thorne, vice president of Wilson & Co., Chicago, and Wells E. Hunt, manager of the pork and provision division of the William Schluderberg-T. J. Kurdle company, Baltimore.

NEW PAY-AS-GO TAX CAMPAIGN OPENS IN HOUSE

Delay Is Costly

Louisville, Ky., April 7 (AP).—Taxpayer S. R. Glenn was all square today with S. R. Glenn, United States collector of internal revenue here. Overwhelmed by the March 15 rush, Glenn, as a private individual, applied in writing to himself as collector of internal revenue for a 60 day extension of his first quarterly income tax payment. Collector Glenn approved the application but informed citizen Glenn he must pay interest on the first quarterly payment. Today Citizen Glenn paid to Collector Glenn the first payment plus interest.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The congressional clamor for revival of pay-as-you-go income tax legislation was heightened today as house Democrats opened up with a new drive to force action by the ways and means committee.

Rep. Clinton P. Anderson [D., N. M.] and Rep. Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.], began circulation of a letter among their Democratic colleagues urging "early resubmission" of the proposal to put taxpayers on a current basis in meeting their obligations. The letter, which they are asking other members to sign, is addressed to Rep. Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means committee. They said they had nearly 40 signatures and expect many more.

Their letter follows closely the argument of Majority Leader John McCormack [D., Mass.] who was the first administration spokesman to seek revival of the pay-as-you-go tax proposal after the house rejected the Ruml skip-a-year plan and sent a ways and means bill back to committee nearly two weeks ago.

McCormack suggested that the house would be willing to accept a "reasonable" compromise version and urged that the committee bring in a new bill without taking the time to hold public hearings.

Speculation over the possibilities of early consideration of a current tax measure was renewed by the surprise reappearance of Rep. Doughton in the capitol during the day. Despite the urgings for committee action to give the house another chance to deal with the problem, he has declared that the matter will not be reconsidered until a general revenue bill is taken up later in the year.

8TH ARMY JOINS FORCES WITH U.S. ARMY IN TUNISIA

Meet on Gafsa Road as Rommel Retreats.

nate the axis' precarious lebensraum [living room] in Tunisia is rising in tempo.

The British 8th army's advance in the south was in the second stage today, the first having been concluded successfully yesterday with the dislodging of the axis from two hills near the Wadi el Akarit, some 20 miles northwest of Gabes, and the capture of 5,000 prisoners.

Mopping up operations continued today, more prisoners were brought in, and the progress of the campaign was reported favorable.

[Prime Minister Churchill reported in the house of commons that the number had been increased to 6,000.]

Big Air Offensive.

From the sky American and British planes continued to pour it on the axis supply routes and to carry out the heaviest blitz on both sides of the Sicilian straits that this theater has seen.

Twenty-seven enemy aircraft were destroyed yesterday, raising the two day total to 79. Five allied planes were missing. Reconnaissance photographs showed that on Monday American and British bombers destroyed or damaged more than 150 axis planes parked on three Sicilian airfields and four in Tunisia.

The 8th army's resumption of activity yesterday came in pitch darkness at 4:30 a. m. Hundreds of Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's big guns opened fire in one of the heaviest barrages ever laid down in the African war. Bombers from the western desert air force pounded axis positions to usher in the infantry advance.

The immediate objectives were two hills, the Djebel Tebaga Fatnassa on the west and Djebel el Roumana on the east, which are about four miles apart and north of Akarit.

Most of Prisoners Italian.

These—the strongest defensible positions in the neighborhood—were taken only after hand to hand fighting. They were in the British possession by 6 a. m.

An axis counter-attack was repulsed and half an hour later the enemy opposition ceased. Of the 5,000 prisoners taken, the great majority, as usual in this campaign so far, were Italians.

Entrenched in the hills, the 8th army had a bridgehead thru which it moved its formations for the second stage of the pursuit. For a considerable distance to the north there is no strong defensive position available to the axis. The country is flat and pitted with wadis, which are dried up gulches. About 18 miles north of the hard won hills is a salt lake known as Chott en Noual.

[A French communique broadcast by the Algiers radio said that in the northern coastal sector "elements landed at Cape Serrat (35 miles west of Bizerte) have consolidated their positions. In the central sector there is intense patrol activity, especially at Bou Arada (45 miles southwest of Tunis)."]

Airmen Hit Ships and Planes.

What was characterized as one of the most devastating strokes against axis shipping was accomplished yesterday by American Flying Fortress and Mitchell bombers and P-38 Lightning fighters also carrying bombs. During attacks on Trapani, Sicily, and Tunis, and over the intervening water they shot down at least 22 enemy planes.

The Mitchells, opening the day's bombing chores, fell on a convoy of one large supply ship and four escorting vessels. Two of the ships were sunk.

The Flying Fortresses went into action against another convoy only five miles from its destination, Bizerte. Flying thru a strong barrage of ack-ack [anti-aircraft fire] and strong attacks from enemy fighters, the bombers did their job. They blew up a 6,000 ton vessel loaded with explosives. Another ship in the convoy also was left flaming and 15 Messerschmitt 109s were knocked down.

Fighter-bombers recorded two hits and a near miss on a third ship in a convoy bound for Sicily and then the Flying Fortresses came over Trapani, leaving at least 10 ships sunk or damaged and setting off a big fire in a magazine.

NAZIS ADMIT BREAK-THRU.

Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, Berlin radio commentator, was quoted in a German broadcast recorded by the Associated Press as saying that British troops had broken into "a deeply echeloned defense zone reaching from Wadi el Akarit many kilometers northward."

Sertorius said the fight for Tunisia was "a very unequal match" from the axis standpoint because of "numerically far superior" allied ground and air forces.

Combined British-American Army Pursues Rommel After Juncture

How juncture between American and British armies was effected in Tunisia yesterday. Inset map shows larger area in smaller scale.

BRITISH TORPEDO ITALIAN CRUISER, 3 OTHER SHIPS

40 Blasted in Week by Allied Attacks.

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—The axis' Tunisian stand is fast becoming a death trap for Italy's already hard hit shipping, with British submarine attacks on a light cruiser, two tankers, and a supply ship boosting to 40 or more the number of Italian ships sunk or badly damaged in a single week of the allied naval-aerial onslaught.

A cruiser of the new Regolo class, which the admiralty announced had been attacked with a consequent explosion but otherwise unobserved results in the Strait of Messina, between Sicily and the Italian mainland, was the first of Italy's warships larger than destroyer size known to have been caught within allied aerial, surface, or undersea striking range since last December.

The admiralty announced that besides a torpedo hit on the cruiser, one tanker was torpedoed and believed sunk off Sicily, another damaged and possibly sunk off Cape Spartivento at the southern tip of Italy, and a medium sized supply ship torpedoed in a convoy near Marettimo, off the west coast of Sicily.

Armor Extremely Light.

The Regolo class cruisers were laid down in 1938, and scheduled for completion in 1941. Their armor is extremely light, and their fire power consists of eight 5.3-inch guns and a like number of 21-inch torpedo tubes. They can lay mines.

Despite the pressing needs of the North African front and repeated attacks on convoys, Mussolini's fleet has been wary of any mid-Mediterranean meeting with allied sea or air power for months, and the last blows at major Italian warships were reported last December.

Even when the attack had to be carried into an Italian port, where United States Liberators [B24s] hit a battleship and two cruisers in a dusk attack on Naples Dec. 4.

Ammunition Ship Blown Up.

A middle east communique reported that six ships in a convoy were sunk, and an ammunition ship blown up in the straits of Sicily by medium and fighter bomber attacks yesterday.

On April 5 a destroyer was blown up and other convoyed vessels were hit by bombers in a daily patrol of waters between the tip of Italy, Sicily, and Tunisian ports. On the same day, the admiralty said, light coastal forces of the navy sunk a supply ship and possibly another off the Tunisian coast.

BRITISH PLEDGE PENSION TO ALL INJURED IN WAR

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—The British government promised today all British men and women—civilians and those in the fighting services—a basic pension of $7.50 a week for total disablement from war injuries and a war injury allowance for civilians of $7 a week while they are unable to work.

Under the new rates women are to receive the same compensation as men for the first time and men and women not gainfully occupied are given the same rates as persons gainfully occupied. The rates, effective April 19, were announced by Walter James Womersley in the house of commons.

The biggest boost of $4.50 is given under the new rates to the housewives' pension which previously was $3—that of a nongainfully occupied woman. The old pension for a gainfully employed woman was $5.50 and for a nongainfully occupied man was $4.

Report Nazis Seize Luther, Ex-Chancellor and Envoy

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 7 (AP).—The Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet reported today, without confirmation, that Dr. Hans Luther, former German chancellor and former ambassador to Washington, D. C., had been placed under "protective arrest" in Germany by Nazi officials. The newspaper also said that Fritz Thyssen, German industrialist and once an ardent supporter of Hitler, had been placed under custody in a Berlin hotel.

EISENHOWER IS 'SURPRISED' BY DE GAULLE STORY

A Hitch in Negotiations Indicated.

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 7 (AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today expressed "surprise" over a French national committee statement that he had asked Gen. Charles De Gaulle to postpone his visit to North Africa, thus indicating that a new misunderstanding had arisen to plague the delicate negotiations for union of Giraudists and De Gaullists.

The headquarters statement did not flatly deny that Eisenhower had asked De Gaulle to delay his trip, but said that since the communique was issued in London, Eisenhower "has no doubt that a full statement of the circumstances will be made in London."

The national committee statement in London on Monday said in part that "General Eisenhower has asked Gen. De Gaulle to delay his journey to French North Africa. Gen. De Gaulle and the national committee regret this delay which could not be prolonged without serious disadvantages."

Conferences Continue.

Meanwhile, Gen. Georges Catroux continued conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud designed to establish a basis for De Gaulle's talks here, with matters reportedly progressing satisfactorily.

Giraud recently made a rapid tour of the Tunisian front and is seeking modern armaments for "the reborn French army" with the goal of making it "the rival of the 8th army" in achievements.

It was reported Giraud may visit the United States to stress the importance of bringing the French army up to the standard of the American and British armies in equipment.

Hold Back General's Letter

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—A Fighting French spokesman said today he saw no occasion for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's "surprise" over the French national committee announcement that the American general had requested Gen. Charles De Gaulle to postpone his trip to Algiers. giers.

The spokesman said the committee made public Eisenhower's request for delay—presumably because of military necessity—"because De Gaulle had been expecting to go since shortly after the first of the year, and the reason for the delay in opening negotiations with Giraud [Gen. Henri Giraud] otherwise could not be understood."

The committee at the moment is planning no further statement on the incident, he said, and "the text of Eisenhower's letter will not be made public because it will add nothing to the case."

Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons he was in full accord with Gen. Eisenhower in the latter's request to Gen. De Gaulle to delay his trip to North Africa. His statement said:

"With regard to the statement issued by the French national committee on Monday last about the delay enforced on Gen. De Gaulle's visit to North Africa, the prime minister wishes it to be known that he has been thruout in fullest agreement with Gen. Eisenhower in deprecating the visit by De Gaulle during the battle crisis in Tunisia, which requires the undivided attention of the allied command."

682,710 REFUGEES AIDED BY BRITAIN AND PALESTINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 7.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today told parliament that Britain, exclusive of the dominions, and Palestine maintain 682,710 refugees. Of these, approximately 150,000 are in the United Kingdom.

At the outbreak of war, Churchill said, there were 55,000 adult refugees and 13,000 children here from Germany and Austria and 10,000 Czechs. An additional 63,000 have been admitted, including 20,000 seamen, he continued. Since 1939, government grants for refugees have amounted to $4,480,000 and since 1933 the contribution in money and kind from private sources is estimated at $38,000,000, he said.

Palestine has admitted 38,000 immigrants during the war and India has provided accommodation for 400,000 evacuees, mostly of Indian origin, he reported.

REGIONAL OPA CHIEFS TO MEET BROWN IN SOUTH

Regional administrators of the office of price administration will confer at New Orleans, La., this week-end with Prentiss M. Brown, national administrator, on the development and execution of new policies. Brown is pushing his program to give local price and rationing officials greater authority in the administration of OPA policies. Enforcement and compliance programs discussed last Friday and Saturday in the Morrison hotel by regional OPA attorneys also are expected to be on the administrators' agenda.

THOSE P-40 BOYS IN TUNISIA GIVE NAZIS LESSONS

'Flip Corkin's' Flyers Are Sensational.

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN TUNISIA, April 3 [Delayed]—(AP).—The combat boys on the North African front are beginning to learn first hand—and certainly so are the Germans—what the French meant back in the earlier days of the Tunisian battle when they tagged the P-40s [Curtiss Warhawks] "the guerrilla fighters."

Lt. Col. Philip G. Cochran.

They are beginning to know because the P-40 lads are following the rugged tradition established by their former leader, the fiery Lt. Col. Philip G. Cochran [Flip Corkin] of Erie, Pa.

A big part of the fighter show on the sector that became so hot when Marshal Erwin Rommel's African corps made its late March bid formerly was run by Cochran. He headlined the show and his daring performances made him a legend with the French.

Following in His Steps.

Now he has moved on to other work but the precedent he set is being energetically followed by his old command. Actually it is a new type of war the old Cochran outfit is fighting, but the results are primarily the same. In the old guerrilla days the P-40 boys operated on a hit and run basis. They functioned in small units. They weren't looking for combat with the enemy.

They hedgehopped thru the area, smashing troop movements, supply dumps, vehicular traffic, and gun concentrations. They shot up anything that moved and some things that didn't.

Their shooting aim wasn't bad, either, when it came to combat, and occasionally when the handicap was not too great they tangled with the foe and gained great respect therefrom.

Headed by Young Colonel.

Now the old Cochran punch in a new setting has become the sensation of the Tunisian front.

The present outfit is headed by Col. William W. Momyer, 26, of Seattle, who led a recent splurge of 34 Nazi planes in five days by shooting down five of the planes himself.

Another Cochran headman helping pace the current assault is Maj. Levi R. Chase, 25, of Cortland, N. Y., whom Cochran tabbed a "one man wave of destruction." As of April 1, Col. Momyer and Maj. Chase are tied for top honors with eight Nazis each.

[On April 5, two days after this dispatch was written, Maj. Chase moved up into the lead, with a total of 10 planes destroyed, by knocking down two Messerschmitt 109s in quick succession. Air victories on that and the preceding day raised the group's total to 41 in less than two weeks.]

Other members of the old outfit now shining with the new luster include Lt. James W. Gray, 23, of Summerfield, La., a crossroads storekeeper, and Lt. Thomas A. Thomas Jr. of Ada, Okla., a baby faced chap who vainly grew heavy whiskers to look the part of a guerrilla fighter.

REVEAL YANKEE RAIDERS RIPPED 7 SUBS AT BASE

Heavy Toll of Vagesack Blow Told by R.A.F.

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—The royal air force today disclosed thru a commentator that American heavy bombers in their daylight attack March 18 at Vegesack had inflicted severe damage on seven of 15 U-boats building there. Submarine experts said this may mean that the yards' production will be impaired for many months.

Vegesack is 10 miles north of Bremen, Germany, on the Weser river.

The consensus after examination of reconnaissance photographs was that the Americans had struck what may have been the heaviest single blow of the war against Germany's U-boat production.

Hail Other U. S. Attacks.

The full reconnaissance study has not been made on the American attack last Sunday on the Renault motor works outside Paris, but the R. A. F. commentator said it was "extremely successful and scarcely a building in the entire plant area escaped damage."

Other American attacks praised by the R. A. F. were those on Hamm's railway station, Rennes, where a naval stores station was damaged, and Wilhelmshaven, where nearly all the harbor fixtures were damaged.

Of the R. A. F. night bombings the commentator said the number of raids was increasing appreciably and that the large numbers of planes lost recently did not represent any alarming rise in the ratio of losses.

Krupp Plant Idle 10 Days.

In a recapitulation of the principal destructions in recent raids, the R. A. F. said there were no signs that the Krupp armament plants at Essen were at work on March 22, 10 days after the second of the early March raids, and since then there has been another heavy blow at Essen.

The commentator said 15,000 Krupp workers and 90,000 of the 300,000 population of Essen had been deprived of their homes or places of business.

Nazis Attack Two Towns.

It also was noted that Berlin fire fighters were so badly disorganized in the March 1 R. A. F. raid that they had to summon fire companies from as far as Leipzig, 110 miles away.

German hit-and-run raiders attacked two towns on the British southeast coast early today.

The Bremen radio went off the air tonight, indicating allied aircraft were over Europe again after a two night lull in the aerial offensive against axis held targets.

LACKING DIVERS, ARMY TURNS TO 'SKIP' BOMBING

MacArthur Favors It for Accuracy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Recent communiques from the South Pacific war area indicate the army is abandoning its previously highly touted high altitude precision bombing in favor of the more accurate but extremely dangerous skip bombing originated by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney.

The majority of the communiques coming to hand since the great victory over the Japanese fleet in the battle of the Bismarck sea where skip bombing first came into prominence have stated "direct hits were scored from skip bombing," or "bombers attacking at low level hit enemy vessels," indicating skip bombing had been used.

Designed for High Flying.

The communiques disclosed that mighty Flying Fortresses, the big bombers that attain maximum flying efficiency when well above 20,000 feet in the air, are being used for this skip bombing. They are being flown at only 25 to 50 feet above the waves in order that they may "skip" their "eggs" like flat rocks into the side of an enemy vessel.

The Flying Fortresses in this operation are being put to almost the identical use that the navy puts its torpedo bombers. But the army has no planes equipped for this purpose and has lagged in the development of dive bombers so that the costly, slow maneuvering Flying Fortresses have evidently had to be adapted for these extremely dangerous missions, according to observers.

Makes for Accuracy.

The war department admits skip bombing with any type of plane is extremely dangerous but said Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the director of his air arm, Gen. Kenney, have elected to employ this type of bombing against enemy ship concentrations because of its high accuracy.

14 POLES CHANGE RAF BLUE FOR U.S. AIR FORCE KHAKI

Four Chicagoans Join Yanks in London.

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—To staccato orders snapped in Polish, 14 men and boys in royal air force blue marched into the bustling United States army office in an erstwhile department store annex today, participated in a simple ceremony and a few minutes later marched out—to orders snapped in American.

They were Americans, most of them of Polish descent, who went to Canada before Pearl Harbor and enlisted in the Polish branch of the R. A. F. and who were exchanging their blue uniforms for the khaki of the 8th United States air force. They were sworn in as American soldiers.

Among them were Aircraftsmen Frank Sitek, 2928 West 25th place; Chester J. Skowron, 1438 West 49th place; Edmund Blaszcznsky, 5740 Roscoe street, and Julius Busse, 133 North Ashland avenue, all of Chicago.

Illinoisan's Mother in Poland.

Barney F. Kaslevich, 4116 Elm street, East Chicago, Ind.; Marcell R. Cieclerski, 2924 North 74th street, Elmwood Park, Ill.; Chester Dabek, 4138 31st street, and John Kurowski, 3391 East Milwaukee street, both of Detroit, Mich.; Sergt. Pilot Alexander Kucherenko, 1339 Allen street, Flint, Mich., and Aircraftsmen Anthony J. Booza, 915 5th street, N. W., Grand Rapids, Mich., were among the others.

Most of the parents of the men taking part in today's ceremony were born in Poland and now reside in the United States.

Cieclerski's mother still is in Poland. He has not heard from her for months.

Former Spitfire Pilot.

Kucherenko, 21 years old, is a former General Motors worker and has been a Spitfire pilot. Booza, whose parents were born in Lithuania, once was a machinist and has been a mechanic on both R. A. F. bombers and Spitfires. Dabek was a Spitfire mechanic. Kurowski, a Polish canteen worker, was a former carpenter and Polish headquarters interpreter. Kaslevich, once an Inland Steel clerk, and Cieclerski were R. A. F. electricians.

The men were given a formal farewell by an R. A. F. group captain and Col. Bogdan Kwiecinski, Polish embassy air attaché. They were sworn in by Lt. Winston Pendleton of Atlanta, Ga., recruiting officer, and welcomed by Brig. Gen. C. C. Chauncey of Ada, Okla., chief of staff of the 8th United States air force.

STEAL JEWELRY AND CASH.

Burglars who broke into the apartment of Dorothy Parker of 4345 Oakenwald avenue, took jewelry valued at $120 and $105 in cash, she told police yesterday.

JAPS FORCE NEW BRITISH RETREAT ON BURMA FRONT

Wavell Pulls Army Out of Peninsula.

CALCUTTA, India, April 7 (AP).—Japanese infiltrations and the approach of the monsoon forced the British Indian army to start pulling out of the Mayu peninsula above the Burma port of Akyab to more tenable positions in the Kyau Apandu, three miles northwest, Marshal Archibald P. Wavell's command said today.

The communique said:

"The enemy dug in at Taungmaw and then proceeded during the past several days to develop a move against our exposed northern flank on the Mayu peninsula. Infiltrating across the Mayu river south of Kwazoc, the enemy succeeded over the week-end in mounting a direct threat to our communications in the narrow strips between the hills and the sea north of Donbaik. To meet this outflanking movement, necessary readjustments have been made in our positions on the Mayu peninsula."

Breaks 12 Day Silence.

The communique broke a 12 day silence on the Arakan front which was maintained, according to a supplementary statement, because "it is not desirable to give the enemy any indication of our reaction to his infiltration movement."

The communique was the first indication that the British had started withdrawin from the Mayu peninsula.

"The enemy has committed considerable air and land forces to regain, before the onset of the rains, ground lost since mid-December, but has so far succeeded only in reoccupying areas which were untenable in any event during the monsoon," the supplemental British statement said.

"In fact the same applies to certain positions still in occupation by our forces, but the Japanese may be expected to continue pressure with a view of gaining some local success before rains restrict operations."

Repel Jap Attack.

The statement said initial Japanese attempts to develop a drive in the Buthedaung-Maungdaw area, 65 miles northwest of Akyab, "to recover lost ground," had been brought to a standstill. Severe casualties were inflicted on the Japanese and fighting continues, the communique said.

Farther north, the British said they had inflicted heavy casualties on the Japanese in the mountainous area south of Indin, a town in the Chindwin river valley, 45 miles inside Burma from the Indian province of Assam. Indin is 150 miles northwest of Mandalay.

American Liberator bombers from India again attacked the Pazundaung bridge near Rangoon, destroying the southern approaches, a United States communique said. Medium bombers attacked the enemy in North Burma and all planes returned.

British planes bombed the village of Thinganet on the Arakan front and machine-gunned Japanese at Indin. The airdrome at Pakokku on the Irrawaddy river southwest of Mandalay also was bombed.

JAP ATTACK IN CHINA REPULSED WITH 100 DEAD

CHUNGKING, China, April 7 (AP).—The Chinese high command said today that a Japanese counterattack on Chinese positions west of Kinhwa, important railway town in Chekiang province, was repulsed and more than 100 of the attackers were killed.

This clash on March 27 followed by one day a successful Chinese raid on Japanese positions west of Kinhwa, the Chinese reported, and added that fighting of this nature occurs regularly on the fringes of the occupied territory.

On March 24 the Chinese attacked two points near Suihsien, a Japanese base 90 miles northwest of Hankow in Hupeh province, and inflicted more than 200 casualties, the bulletin said.

FLYING FORT STRAFES 3 JAP SHIPS IN CONVOY

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, April 8 [Thursday]—(AP).—A Flying Fortress has strafed a three ship Japanese convoy northwest of Kavieng, New Ireland, it was announced today. The convoy consisted of a destroyer and two cargo vessels. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said a Japanese float plane escorting the convoy attempted interception but was damaged and driven off.

In the northern Solomons, medium allied bombers attacked a Japanese destroyer off Bougainville. Babo, on MacCluer gulf in Dutch New Guinea, was raided by allied four motored bombers. In the same area, a heavy bomber attacked the town of Fak Fak. Enemy planes on the ground were strafed on the airdrome at Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

In New Guinea, a heavy bomber made a midday raid on the harbor of Wewak; a medium bomber bombed and strafed five villages in the Saidor sector; heavy bombers bombed and straffed Finschhafen in two attacks; a heavy bomber attacked the airdrome at Lae, and a heavy bomber attacked the town sector of Salamaua.

In the area to the northwest of Australia, a two motored plane bombed and strafed the town of Saumlaki on the Tanimbar Islands.

YANKS RAID KISKA 5 TIMES FOR 51ST ATTACK IN 5 WEEKS

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—The navy reported today that army bombers raided Japanese positions on Kiska Island in the Aleutians five times Monday and scored hits on enemy positions for the 51st time since March 1.

The communique said:

"On April 5, forces of army Liberator heavy bombers and Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by Lightning and Warhawk fighters, carried our five attacks against Japanese installations at Kiska and one attack against Attu. Hits were scored on enemy positions.

"On April 7, a group of Dauntless dive bombers and Lightning fighters attacked Japanese positions at Bila in the central Solomons. Fires were started."

RED ARMY TAKES TWO VILLAGES IN SMOLENSK DRIVE

Blasts Nazi Blockhouses Along Donetz Line.

LONDON, April 8 [Thursday]—(AP).—Russian troops captured two localities on the Smolensk front and destroyed three blockhouses and dispersed an infantry concentration on the Donetz defense line in the Ukraine, Moscow announced early today in its midnight communique.

Moscow dispatches also reported fighting in the Kuban delta near Novorossisk, but there was no essential change along the front.

The communique, recorded by the soviet monitor, said the Germans had suffered heavily trying to crack Russian lines near Izyum, 70 miles southeast of Kharkov.

Kill 500 Along Donetz.

Near Belgorod, 50 miles north of Kharkov, a German battery was reported destroyed.

Moscow dispatches said recent German attacks against Russian bridgeheads on the Donetz river cost them at least 500 dead and a front line position.

Capture of the two localities south of Bely on the Smolensk front resulted in the killing of 200 Germans, the communique said.

Batter Nazis in North.

The Caucasian battle lines are close to the Black sea naval base of Novorossisk, the only large town held by the Germans on that front. The Germans are dug in on Tzeneskaya bay, across from the Crimea.

The Germans attacked in the Volkhov river sector south of Leningrad and lost heavily, the Russians said.

[The German communique yesterday said a German "offensive enterprise" in the central Donetz region "reached the planned goal notwithstanding tenacious enemy resistance. In the course of a successful assault in the northern sector of the front," it added, "shock troops of a Spanish volunteer division blew up 14 bunkers and returned with prisoners."]

200 Millions in Supplies Sent to Russia by Britain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 7.—Nonmilitary supplies sent to Russia by Britain since the German invasion exceeded 200 million dollars in value, it was announced tonight. Deliveries from all parts of the empire to Russia have been arranged by the government sponsored United Kingdom Commercial corporation.

WILSON BLAMED FOR CESSION OF ISLANDS TO JAPS

Hughes of Australia Denies He Did It.

SYDNEY, Australia, April 7.—William M. Hughes, Australia's World war premier who now is a member of the war council, today said that "the statement that I was responsible for cession to Japan of islands north of the equator is absolutely untrue." He added that an editorial published in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE containing that allegation was "a string of blazing inaccuracies."

Hughes declared:

"The truth is that Japan annexed the islands when the 1914-'18 war broke out and forestalled the expeditionary force which Australia had equipped at the request of Britain to take possession of them for and on behalf of the allied powers.

Threaten to Join Germany.

"Japan subsequently delivered to Britain what amounted to an ultimatum which made it clear that unless their permanent possession of these islands was assured, they [the Japanese] would range themselves on the side of Germany.

"At that time I was not the prime minister of Australia and never heard of Japan's demands.

"The statement that I had said at the peace conference that there was a pre-armistice arrangement to give Japan the islands north of the equator and the islands south of the equator to British dominions is utterly false.

Put Up to Wilson.

"If President Wilson had refused to grant Japan a mandate over the islands north of the equator, they would not have got the mandate. But Wilson, instead of standing up to Japan, wilted before every demand.

"When China vehemently protested against Japan's 21 demands at the very meeting that dealt with the mandates, Wilson was silent. When Japan sought to insert a racial equality clause in the covenant of the league of nations, Wilson supported it, altho this would have meant unrestricted migration of Japanese into the western states of America. He only receded from his position as the result of angry protests from California.

"I opposed Japan at every turn. I never have been under any illusion about Japan, its ambitions, and its power."

SEIZURE OF COAL BY CITY HELD TO BE IMPRACTICAL

Barnet Hodes, city corporation counsel, gave an opinion yesterday that the city, by utilizing the right of eminent domain, probably could confiscate coal owned privately, but that the legal process probably would be too slow to be practical in meeting emergency needs.

The opinion was requested by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, who said he feared a coal shortage would result in the event coal miners go on strike. He expressed the opinion a strike appeared probable. Hewitt declared sufficient coal must be available if the water and sewage systems are to function.

The city has an adequate supply of coal at present, about 22,243 tons, which is sufficient for several weeks of operation, Hewitt said, and could store another 14,000 tons.

Hodes suggested that more confiscation power be sought for cities at the present session of the state legislature, and that federal government agencies be asked to give the city priorities on coal.

TAVERN HOLDUP NETS $200.

Two robbers early yesterday threatened Richard Orlandi with revolvers in his tavern at 704 North St. Louis avenue, and took $200 from the cash register, Orlandi reported to police.

The Song "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."
The words are from a poem, "The Forest," by Ben Jonson, famous English writer, who translated them from Philostratus, a Greek poet of the second century—the air from Mozart. Echoing from the portals of churches for generations, the melodic refrain of this song has become an integral part of the sacred wedding service

CHAMP SHAKY? SURE! WAR AND NEW SON DO IT!

But Golden Glover Still Hits Hard for Navy.

Lawrence [Larry] Haga Jr., Golden Gloves champion in peace time and navy coxswain since the United States went to war, jiggled his 7 month 20 pound red haired boy on his knee yesterday and with all the bashfulness of a 26 year old father seeing his son for the first time, offered him a rattle.

The sailor's hand shook. That, he explained, was the result of seeing the aircraft carrier Lexington go down in the Coral sea, of battling submarines that sank the Yorktown at Midway, of pulling American seamen out of the sea and blasting Jap survivors to a quick death.

"I might as well admit it," he said, "I've been scared ever since I left home 16 months ago.

Often Felt Time Had Come.

"A couple of times when Jap planes came low, when battle wagons closed in, or when torpedoes seemed to be coming from everywhere, I said to my self, 'Well, Larry, it's your turn now.'"

But his turn never came. He boarded a destroyer 13 months ago and on her sailed thru every major fight in the Pacific. Once a near miss buckled her plates and sent the destroyer into Pearl Harbor for repairs, but not one man aboard her has been killed or wounded.

Haga himself would have come home unhurt had he remained on the ship. But last August, after helping take the American invasion force into Guadalcanal and being caught and pounded by a Japanese force two days later, Haga was one of six volunteers who swam about Savo sound rescuing the wounded. Injuries from depth charge concussions necessitated hospital treatment later in the South Pacific and San Francisco.

Ship Rescues 648 Wounded.

"There were a lot of our boys from other ships floating around," he said. "Those who weren't wounded could swim to another ship. But many were wounded, kept afloat by their life jackets. So our mates tied 250 yard lines to us six. We'd swim out, grab four or five men and then our buddies would pull us back with our load. We kept at it four and a half hours. Our ship picked up hundreds of men."

After seeing all transports safely out of Guadalcanal, Haga's ship took its wounded survivors to a base, resumed patrolling the area, went thru a terrific air battle late in August and finally returned to Guadalcanal in November in time to help blast a Jap invasion force to bits.

Haga's wife, Betty, and son, Larry Ill., live at 2153 Humboldt boulevard. The sailor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Haga Sr., 2140 Van Buren street.

Air Base Builder Returns.

Ray Patton, 31, of 3303 South Morgan street, home on leave after helping build several air bases on South Pacific islands, told how a forest of 9,000 palm trees was converted into an airport in 28 days.

At work one day Patton said he saw a plane taxi up to the beach with two men lashed to the wings. Patton waded out, untied one man, and carried him ashore. "Am I too heavy?" the newcomer asked. Patton, who weighs 230 pounds, looked at the wasted figure and laughed. Later he learned the man he aided was Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Among other Chicagoans working with Patton, a chief machinist's mate in the naval Seabees construction unit, were Leroy M. Sanderson, 3745 West 64th street; George Costello Jr., 7914 South Hermitage avenue; Lionel Perrault, 2717 Pine Grove avenue; Henry Zeigelmeir, 10442 Charles street; C. O. Looney, 7120 Yates avenue; James Lowery, 709 South Springfield avenue; George Moore, 2610 Central Park avenue, Evanston; Clemens Juszkiewicz, 1223 West 31st street; John Silwa, 2435 North Lorel avenue; Bert Maenzle, 1340 West 91st street; Joseph Nugent, 7921 South Wood street; Marty Conlon, 5652 South Paulina street, and Walt Begginger, 5520 Magnolia avenue.

IOWA'S ENDERLE BOYS HAVE MAIL SYSTEM OF THEIR OWN IN AFRICA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 7.—The mail delivery enjoyed by the Enderle brothers—Sergeants Thomas and Jack, of Fort Madison, Ia.—is the envy of their less fortunately situated fellows in this war theater.

Thomas is the conductor of an army railroad unit. They recently met on leave and Thomas discovered that the railroad runs past his brother's quarters. So when Thomas recently received a letter intended for Jack, the former just had to sound a blast of his train's whistle as he went by. Then he tied the letter to a lump of coal and tossed it to his waiting brother.

ARMY AND NAVY FREE 8,600 IN STATE AS UNFIT

Springfield, Ill., April 7 (AP).—More than 8,600 Illinois residents, most of them with physical or mental disabilities, already have been honorably discharged from the army or navy, Frank G. Thompson, executive officer of the governor's committee on veterans' rehabilitation, said today.

Rehabilitation of returning fighters is becoming one of the state's major responsibilities, Thompson declared. Less than 15 per cent of disabilities reported thus far resulted from "line of service" activities, but he expressed belief that proportion will change drastically.

Thompson explained that under the state's long range program the resources of the departments of labor, public instruction, welfare, health, agriculture, registration and education, and the division of veterans' service will be coördinated. All returning veterans now are being contacted promptly and assigned to the state division which can serve them best, he said.

REFUSES TO LIFT POLITICS GAG ON BRITISH SOLDIER

Commons Told 'Uniform Is a Muzzle.'

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 7.—The house of commons today rejected a proposal to allow members of the fighting forces while off duty to "take part in political controversy." The vote was 195 to 33.

Capt. A. S. Cunningham-Reid, Independent, introduced a motion saying that the fighting men not only were fighting for survival, but for a better world and that it was only fair to allow them to say what's in their minds. He said that under present regulations millions of men in the services are unable to utter one public word on such subjects as the Atlantic charter, the Beveridge social insurance report, and Prime Minister Churchill's four year plan.

Calls Uniform a Muzzle.

"When they put on the uniform, they put on a muzzle," Cunningham-Reid said. "It is un-British to gag them in this unnecessary and undemocratic manner."

Richard Acland, Commonwealth party leader, said the people in war services "are bewildered and dismayed to learn that in taking on the duty of fighting for their country they have been deprived of the right to talk about the sort of country in which they would like to live." He asserted that the fighting men are fearful that they are being led, as in the last war, up a garden path by their rulers.

Urges Knowledge of Rights.

J. J. Lawson, Laborite, who recently returned from North Africa, said that interest in political questions was so great that men were putting questions on paper and addressing them to official channels and that it was up to the war secretary to allow them to know just what their rights to freedom of speech are.

W. J. Brown, Independent, said he believed that in some respects the British army is less democratic than the German army and suggested that the soldier be given the same liberty as the civil servant, who is allowed to state his views if he does not use any special knowledge acquired from his position.

OBLIGING MILKMAN GETS IT STRAIGHT ON EGG RATIONING

Early yesterday an energetic milkman aroused a housewife, Mrs. Edward F. Stegen, by insistently ringing the doorbell.

"The reason I rang so loud," he explained, "is because I want to do you a favor." He lowered his voice. "They're going to ration eggs tonight. You're a good customer, so I brought you two dozen."

"But they're not going to ration eggs," protested Mrs. Stegen. The milkman winked. "Got it straight from the source," he said.

The housewife's husband stepped in. He said a few words and the milkman retreated with his two dozen eggs. What Stegen said was that eggs weren't being rationed, and he should know because he's the regional OPA rationing executive who plans rationing programs.

DOCTORS TREAT TWO CHILDREN BITTEN BY DOG

Two south side children, who were bitten Sunday by a dog presumably suffering from rabies, were under medical treatment in their homes yesterday.

They are Mary Fitzgerald, 9 years old, 7140 Honore street, and Edward Shannon, 13, of 7141 Honore street. Mary was bitten by the dog at 72d street and Marshfield avenue, Edward by the same dog, so far as could be learned, at 72d and Wood streets.

The girl received first aid at the Holy Cross hospital. Later she and the Shannon boy were placed under the care of their family physicians.

NURSE ROBBED OF $40.

Mrs. Charlotte Meyer, 40 years old, a nurse at Waukegan general hospital, reported to police last night that a Negro robbed her of purse and $40 after knocking her down at 32d street and Cottage Grove avenue. She lives at 8141 Kenwood avenue.

DICK TRACY—LAST CALL

SMITTY—A HORSE ON BAILEY!

AVENGE BATAAN! ROMULO APPEAL TO NEWS GROUP

Tells Fraternity of Corregidor Fall.

They explored the foul corridors of Corregidor, they crouched in the foxholes of the Philippine peninsula of Bataan, they saw the Stars and Stripes hauled down as they listened last night to the melancholy and epic story of the "Fall of Bataan" told by Col. Carlos P. Romulo.

The listeners were members of Sigma Delta Chi professional fraternity of newspaper men. And Romulo, the Manila newspaper man, told the plain story of his escape from the fated fortress of Corregidor on April 7, 1942—just one year ago.

Avenge Bataan, His Plea.

There was more to it than that, more than the dramatic recital of the book Col. Romulo wrote about the greatest disaster ever to befall American arms. At the end he quoted, simply: "To you from faltering hands we throw . . . the torch . . . thine be the hands to hold it high . . . if ye break faith with us who die . . . we shall not sleep." For Col. Romulo's plea was that "Bataan shall not be forgotten in the sweep of events, but remembered and avenged."

Col. Romulo's salute was to the valor of his American comrades, now captives of the Japanese conquerors, a salute he said Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright earned when he sent Col. Romulo on the last plane out of the Philippines with this message to Gen. Douglas MacArthur: "If you reach Australia, tell MacArthur we'll do our best here to the end."

Fight to the End.

"I like to think of that tonight," Col. Romulo told the newspaper men, "because it was the spirit of Bataan. It was the symbol of courage for men who were starving and fighting for the richest nation in the world . . . from whom no help could come."

Telling of his escape, Col. Romulo related how he passed the streams of refugees making for Corregidor—the Rock. "There were trucks of nurses, every one a heroine," he said, "but I hope that I may never look on the faces of women like that again. They knew their fate and we should never forgive ourselves that Americans and Filipinos under the American flag should see a night like that last night on Bataan."

War for Freedom.

In a plea for military assault to redeem the Philippines from the Japanese conquest, Col. Romulo said: "We in the Philippines have anticipated any Atlantic charter declarations by 42 years. For us this is not a war for antiquated imperialisms but for freedom, as we have known freedom under the American flag.

"Remember these men died that all of us can be free. They died for you and me in a jungle warfare more terrible than any man has ever experienced, with shells and bombs falling and planes machine gunning them constantly."

EIGHT INJURED AS TRUCK HITS SUBURBAN TRAIN

Seven passengers on a Rock Island suburban train were injured, none seriously, late yesterday when a truck-trailer crashed into the side of the train at Crawford avenue, Midlothian. The truck driver, Arthur E. Pepin, 2746 Hampton court, was slightly hurt. He was held by state police at Blue Island, who said he had ignored flashing signals at the crossing.

The injured passengers, taken to St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, were Mrs. Martin Krueger, 46 years old, of 160th and Grove streets, Oak Forest, and her twin daughters, Jane and Jean, 4; Mrs. George Skoriz, 25, and her daughter, Sandra June, 3, also of Oak Forest; Mrs. Nellie Gleich, 76, of 5603 Princeton avenue, and Henry Tritt, 620 Greenshaw street, Joliet.

Police said Pepin, northbound in Crawford avenue with a cargo of cabbages, swerved his truck when he saw the approaching train and the trailer swung around, crashing into the first passenger car.

Edward Pilch, 4, 1923 Canalport avenue, was fatally injured when he was struck by a truck at Des Plaines street and Canalport avenue. The driver was Carl White, 47, of 2300 Michigan avenue.

TAILORS CHARGE PRICE SQUEEZE; PLAN OPA PLEA

Complain of Ceiling; Cleaners' Charges.

Representatives of the Independent Retail Tailors and Cleaners association met last night in the Atlantic hotel and took the first steps in a complaint to be filed with the office of price administration telling how they are being squeezed between OPA price ceilings and increased prices levied by several master cleaners.

The organization, which represents about 400 of Chicago's 4,500 neighborhood tailoring shops, wants the OPA to enforce price regulations against the offending master cleaners. "If this isn't done, many, if not most of us, will be forced out of business," said one tailor.

During March, the OPA price ceiling for cleaning was 49 cents per garment. Out of this the tailor paid an average of 30 cents for the cleaning to a master cleaner. This left him 19 cents for pressing and other overhead and his profit.

Tell of Price Boost.

Now, the tailors complained last night, the several master cleaners involved have boosted their prices from 30 to 40 and 45 cents, leaving the tailor 9 and 4 cents for his own labors and profit.

The same situation applies to hat cleaning, the independent tailors also complain. They charge 55 cents under OPA to clean a hat. Formerly they paid 35 cents to the master cleaners, leaving them 20 for overhead and profit. Today they must pay the master cleaners 45 cents, but cannot charge the public more than 55 cents.

The tailors said they are "owned body and soul" by the master cleaners involved, and that they cannot transfer their business to any of the many reputable master cleaners. To do so, they said, might invite personal danger or more likely, refusal of the cleaners to service them, which, in the end, they say, would put them out of business.

Recall Fatal Beating.

They still remember an incident, the background of which is now revealed for the first time, which happened two years ago. Early in April, 1941, the Independent Tailors transferred their cleaning business in a body to a suburban master cleaner. On April 23, 1941, Anton Gorczak, a driver for the suburban company, was beaten to death while calling on his new customers.

The tailors took the hint and gave their cleaning business back to the old master cleaners, and still do business with them, with their reward, they assert—a squeeze boost in price in violation of OPA rules.

MORE FIGHTING MEN ARRIVE IN BRITISH PORT FROM CANADA

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, April 7 (AP).—Thousands of fighting men of the British empire and a group of French sailors from war vessels berthed in the United States sailed from here recently for Britain. Their arrival was announced tonight.

The French sailors are en route to serve with the Fighting French of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. They had "deserted" the French war vessels shortly after they arrived in the United States from Dakar, French West Africa.

The contingent included principally Canadian army men, but included R. C. A. F., Anzac, and British airmen, sailors of the royal and Canadian navies, and several Canadian army nurses.

Northampton, Mass., April 7 (AP).—Mrs. Grace Coolidge, widow of former President Calvin Coolidge, was discharged today from Cooley Dickinson hospital where she has been a patient for three weeks. She has been suffering from a respiratory ailment.

SUFFOCATED IN FIRE.

Walter Sterling, 50 years old, Negro, of 469 Bowen avenue, was suffocated last night when a fire, started as a kerosene stove overturned, attacked the apartment of Mrs. Sara Murray, Negro, 4222 Calumet avenue, where he was visiting.

CONTINUE UNION SUIT ON OUSTER OF PRESIDENT

Hearing of a motion to dismiss an injunction suit started by members of local 66 of the Elevator Operators and Starters' union to restrain its international parent union from interfering with reinstatement of James L. O'Grady as president was continued yesterday until tomorrow by Samuel Epstein, master in chancery.

Attorneys Daniel D. Carmell and A. C. Lewis, representing the Building Service Employés' International and its president, William L. McFetridge, who ousted O'Grady, said the local had not exhausted its rights of appeal from this action before the international's executive board. A review of the local's petition for O'Grady's reinstatement has been scheduled for hearing April 13 in Milwaukee.

Atty. Francis Heisler contended that the international did not call a hearing before the executive board until after the local filed its petition for an injunction. After the close of the hearing on the injunction petition, Epstein will make a recommendation to Circuit Judge Benjamin Epstein, before whom the suit is pending.

DELAYS GANG'S REMOVAL CASE FOR ONE WEEK

Arraignment of six associates of the late Frank Nitti on removal warrants charging extortion and mail fraud was continued until next Wednesday yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. All the defendants appeared before the commissioner and reiterated their pleas of not guilty to the New York indictments.

The continuance was granted on motion of A. Bradley Eben, attorney for Paul Ricca, Louis Campagna, Ralph Pierce, Philip D'Andrea, and Charles Gioe. Eben said the delay was necessary because he was required to be out of the city for several days. Leroy Krein, assistant United States attorney, made no objection.

Atty. Francis J. Kennedy, who represented the sixth defendant, Frank Maritote, alias Diamond, contended the commissioner has no jurisdiction over his client because he has an appeal for a writ of habeas corpus pending in the Circuit Court of Appeals. Commissioner Walker ignored the objection.

Predicts Mississippi Is to Be Open Year Around

St. Paul, Minn., April 7 (AP).—The Mississippi river soon will be kept open the year round, Lt. William E. Murray, coast guard director of public relations for the 9th naval district, predicted here today. Murray was aboard the icebreaker Del Commune, which arrived here Monday after breaking a channel thru Lake Pepin to open the upper river navigation season on one of the earliest dates in history. The trip proved a navigable channel can be opened regardless of ice conditions, Lt. Murray said.

Kidnaper of Stepfather Sentenced to Five Years

Terre Haute, Ind., April 7 (AP).—Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell imposed a five year prison sentence today on Walter Lee Moore, 42 years old, convicted of abducting his stepfather, Fred Skaggs, from Skaggs' home in Lawrenceville, Ill. The kidnaping occurred last Feb. 24 and, according to evidence at the jury trial, followed accusations by Moore of mistreatment of his mother by Skaggs.

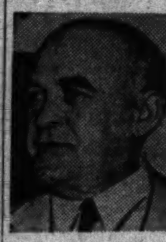
BANKHEAD BILL KEPT ALIVE AS LEVER ON F.D.R.

Senate Refuses to Kill Vetoed Measure.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Ignoring powerful administration protests, the senate late this afternoon voted, 62 to 23, to keep the Bankhead farm parity bill alive by sending it to the committee on agriculture and forestry, where it can be held as a weapon against the administration's conduct of inflation control.



Rep. J. H. Bankhead.

The administration, counting sufficient votes to sustain the President's veto of the measure by preventing a two-thirds vote in favor of overriding the veto, sought immediate senatorial action on the veto. This would have killed the bill.

Bankhead's Strategy.

Sen. John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.], author of the measure to annul part of an executive order on parity price policy, himself had moved to refer the bill and the veto message to committee. Strategy of the bill's supporters is to keep it where it can be produced and probably passed over the veto if the administration allows further boosts in industrial wages or otherwise releases the brakes against labor in its inflation policy.

After the vote, Bankhead said, "we'll let it simmer for a while; after all, we still have that cudgel behind the door; the time it comes out again depends upon developments."

There were 34 Democrats, 27 Republicans, and 1 Progressive supporting the Bankhead motion. Fifteen Democrats and 8 Republicans opposed it. The Illinois senators, Wayland Brooks, Republican, and Scott W. Lucas, Democrat, were included in the majority vote.

Lucas Opposes F. D. R.

Lucas, who is acting as presiding officer of the senate in Vice President Wallace's absence, left the chair to defend the bill against the President's veto, saying the measure "would not injure consumers one iota." Altho opposing the President, Lucas tried to retain his good graces by describing Mr. Roosevelt as "the farmers' greatest and best friend" and not deserving of any "condemnation."

The farm bloc has accused the administration of playing ball with organized labor and ignoring the farmers in the war program. One of the principal objections to approval of the Bankhead bill now over the President's veto was that it would afford the President an alibi to grant the demands of labor for further wage increases.

Consider Lewis Demand.

An important consideration was the current pressing demand of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for a $2 a day wage boost for coal miners.

To bolster congressional watchfulness of administration inflation and labor policy from here on, Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] introduced a resolution to require the President's war labor board to submit monthly reports to congress on what it has done on wage increases and the effect of this action on the cost of living.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] sounded the majority Republican opinion on the Bankhead bill when he said he favored the bill, but would be compelled to support the President's veto if a vote were taken on the bill now, in view of the attempts of the President in his veto message to pin the blame on congress and the farmers for any future lack of control over inflation. The responsibility is on the President, he said, adding:

"I shall not be any sort of party to giving the President a reason, or an excuse, for surrendering to the forces of inflation on any other front; and, rightly or wrongly, that is the essence of his veto ultimatum."

Vandenberg said he preferred to have the bill and veto go to committee "to await conclusive Presidential action in respect to his responsibilities regarding inflation on the labor front."

A Mordoff Divorce

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Ruth Middendorf Mordoff.

Judge Julius H. Miner of the Circuit court yesterday granted a divorce on grounds of cruelty to Mrs. Ruth Middendorf Mordoff, 25 years old, 1325 Early street, from Gordon E. Mordoff, 29, ending their stormy marriage which began in May, 1937, after they were arrested while living together.

On petition of Mrs. Mordoff's attorney, Joseph A. Heinzen, she was awarded custody of three children, Gordon Jr., 4; Ronald, 2, and Geraldine, 3 months; $21 weekly alimony and support, and certain household articles. The judge also issued an order, at the request of Mordoff's attorney, James J. Barbour, restraining Mrs. Mordoff from telephoning or interfering with her husband.

Mordoff's father, Dr. Gordon E. Mordoff, lost a sensational court fight in 1936 for custody of a 3 year old child whom he claimed as his son. Dr. Mordoff was slain in 1939 by his brother-in-law, John Quinn, who was sentenced to 14 years in prison for the crime.

TELLS FORMULA TO COPE WITH THE BUROCRATS

10 Easy Lessons in Way to Go Bankrupt.

M. C. Roberts of the Roberts Seed company, a wholesale firm of Farwell and near-by Texico, N. M., who describes himself as a "Texas born Democrat," has set up a formula for getting action from burocrats.

Recalling that Thomas Jefferson once said that "When Washington tells the people when to sow and when to reap, then our nation will want for food." Roberts in a letter to THE TRIBUNE declares "this is what you have to do to buy feed:"

1. File your order in January with the county office of the United States department of agriculture.

Just Try Your Luck.

2. After examining the papers, the county USDA war board sends them to the state USDA war board.

3. By March 4 [if you are lucky] the state USDA war board will send the papers to the national USDA war board in Washington, D. C.

4. Then all you have to do is phone, wire, and write all senators, congressmen, and secretaries of agriculture.

5. The national USDA war board will then transmit your order to the food production administration in Washington. Then wire 10 senators and congressmen.

6. The FPA will examine your order and finally pass it to the Commodity Credit corporation in Washington. Then wire Marvin Jones in the office of economic stabilization in care of the White House.

Send Some More Wires.

7. The CCC will transmit the papers to Bill Logan, who is soy bean meal coördinator for the CCC in Dallas. Then wire Grover Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture in Washington, and at least one senator.

8. Bill Logan will transmit your order to some oil mill that you have been buying from for years but which now tells you they are a month behind on account of the red tape they have in getting repairs, etc. They promise shipment by May 1, maybe. Wire Vice President Henry Wallace and 10 congressmen.

9. Then go home and skin your starved cattle; the hides will make shoes for our soldiers unless the burocrats' red tape keeps the shoe factories from getting the hides.

10. Then wire your banker that you are broke.

"This is a true story," Roberts said, "in which the Roberts Seed company ordered three cars from the Clovis [N. M.] USDA war board in January and up to April 1 had received nothing. The Amarillo Cotton Oil company has the three car order and promises shipment by May 1. Bill Logan says he has had plenty of feed in Dallas all the time.

"Is it possible that government meddling has brought on our shortages?"

Hold 'Inventor' Woman Accuses in $7,900 Fraud

Proctor McCormick, 41 years old, of 7716 Champlain avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Municipal Judge Frank E. Donoghue in Felony court on charges of operating a confidence game.. McCormick is accused of obtaining $7,900 from Mrs. Bertha Dinkle, 49, of 1615 East 83d place, to promote an invention. Restitution of $2,900 already has been made.

THE LESSON MUST NOT BE LOST.

The election Tuesday showed the New Deal on the toboggan coasting into well deserved oblivion. It was a Kelly victory but a New Deal defeat. Mayor Kelly won because he shrewdly gauged the resentment against the war bungling, which has been continuous and uninterrupted, and the people's determination that a republican form of government shall not be taken from us under the cloak of a war emergency.

No better indication of the political bankruptcy of the New Deal and of Mr. Roosevelt's forfeited popularity could be found than in the mayor's insistence that his backers religiously eschew any mention of the Democratic machine's connections with Washington. These tactics of evasion could not have been successful except that an ill-advised opposition cooperated in them. The Republican nominee was not permitted to run as a Republican.

Mr. McKibbin is an upright citizen whose political experience at the time of his nomination was limited to two years in a purely administrative state office, which he conducted ably. He failed to protect himself against bad advice. The public has no means of knowing what coercion was used, or what promises made, or what influence campaign contributions may have had, but the record is clear that some one was successful in censoring every attempt to present to the voters the greatest weakness of the mayor's machine—namely: its record of blind support of the New Deal.

Mr. McKibbin, perhaps, may be excused personally on the grounds of political inexperience for this failure to take up the Republican issues upon which Gov. Green and Sen. Brooks rode to victory in recent elections, but to that failure he must ascribe his defeat.

The election shows that Chicago will have nothing of Willkieism, nothing of Roosevelt Republicans, nothing of the policy to subordinate American interests to foreign ones upon every possible occasion. The Republican party is and must remain the American party. The Democratic party is the international party or, rather, the foreign party. Any efforts to subvert the Republican party must be overcome between now and the next Republican national convention. A failure to meet the issue squarely or an attempt to straddle it will have the same disastrous effect in the nation next year that the bad advice which Mr. McKibbin was unlucky to get and foolish to accept had upon his campaign.

Locally, of course, the lesson is clear. The Republican organization in Chicago must drive out the fifth columnists if it hopes to escape from another betrayal such as it has just suffered. Republican voters must be given a chance to vote for Republican principles or they will refuse to go to the polls, as so many thousands of them refused on Tuesday.

TIME SAVERS.

Some weeks ago the office of defense transportation requested local governments to adjust traffic lights to accord with the reduced flow and speed of automobiles. Perhaps the suggestion was followed by the authorities in Chicago, but if anything was done it was not enough. For example, the amount of time alloted to east-west traffic along the Lake Shore drive and Sheridan road is much greater than is needed. The consequence is that rubber, gasoline, and the time of bus riders and motorists are being wasted.

While we're on the subject, we might add that, in our judgment, the bus company hasn't yet eliminated enough street corner stops. Our guess is that a good deal of time could be saved at small inconvenience if about a third or a fourth of the stops now scheduled were passed up. We can think of two objections: the inconvenience to the feeble and the crippled, who would have to walk farther to get the bus; and the inconvenience to everybody in bad weather. Neither of these objections is insuperable. In bad weather the rule might be to stop on signal at any corner; and for the service of the physically handicapped in fair weather a bus might be run every half hour to make all the stops. Once the schedule were known, those who wished to take advantage of this service could do so.

THE AMATEUR COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Frazier Hunt in a recent broadcast reported an interview he had with Adm. Ernest King, the chief of the American navy. The commentator said that the admiral had been very frank in his comments, of which probably the most interesting was the statement that the time had come for the amateur strategists to retire from the scene and give over the conduct of the war to the professionally trained men in the various services who knew their business and alone were competent to conduct it.

There are only three amateur strategists to whom this remark could apply in this country. In Great Britain Mr. Churchill would qualify for the term. The three here could be none other than Mr. Roosevelt, the commander in chief, and under him Mr. Knox of the navy and Mr. Stimson of the war department. The two secretaries probably are allowed only a few suggestions.

Mr. Roosevelt is the chief pin sticking strategist and the admiral of the ship model fleet. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have assumed to map the grand strategy of the war in their private meetings. Mr. Churchill at the beginning of the African campaign went out of his way, with more prudence than modesty, to say that the opening of this front was a master stroke of Mr. Roosevelt alone, indorsed but not planned by the British prime minister. Mr. Churchill retired to a subordinate position just as the first extragavant hopes bogged down in the mud which the landing had been precisely timed to encounter. There have been many evidences that the American forces in the far east do not regard the decisions of the White House as militarily sound, altho the objections are recorded merely in requests for a greater diversion of strength to that area.

Adm. King has been the first one to intimate that if the army and navy were allowed to operate according to the judgment of their professional men the road to victory would be easier and shorter. If that was the idea Adm. King wanted to convey to the commander in chief, it was a courageous thing to do. Possibly it will appear, if any notice is taken of it, as having been too audacious, and it may be followed by retractions and explanations. However, no other inference could be drawn from what Mr. Hunt reported of the admiral's conversation. Many people have had a doubt that Mr. Roosevelt was equipped by nature or experience to conduct a world war on his intuitions and a study of maps.

WHAT THEY FIGHT FOR.

John Hersey, who saw some of the fighting on Bataan and Guadalcanal, has written a book called "Into the Valley" about a skirmish of the marines on Guadalcanal. Going into combat down a jungle trail, the column came to a halt while forward elements searched for lurking Japs. Like fighting men everywhere, the men began to grouse.

One asked why MacArthur hadn't been sent anything. "Where's all that power, anyhow?" demanded a second. "Where's that world beating P-47 we've heard so much about? Where's that famous new navy fighter, what is it, the F4U? Where's all that great production?" Still a third asked, "Can't they do something about the divided command out here? You'd think we were two allies, instead of the most powerful single nation on earth."

Hersey seized his chance. In this moment before they went into the fire of the snipers and the Jap mortar crews, he asked these men what they were fighting for.

He never got a direct answer. "They looked," he said, "like men bothered by a memory." When one spoke it was to say, "What I'd give for a piece of blueberry pie." Another said he'd take mince. A third said make his apple.

They weren't fighting for pie, and Hersey knew it. For weeks they'd been living on captured Japanese rice, canned corn beef, navy beans. Pie was a symbol of home. Pie was home—the mother at the kitchen stove, the familiar bed with the coverlet turned down, the girl in the swing on the shaded porch. What these men meant, Hersey saw, was that they were fighting to get the business over with and to return to these things that were old and known and dear—to get home as quickly as they could.

"Perhaps this sounds selfish," says the man who heard this vague belief stated on a jungle trail half across the world. "It certainly sounds less dynamic than the axis slogans. But home seems to most marines a pretty good thing to be fighting for. Home is where the good things are—the generosity, the good pay, the comforts, the democracy, the pie."

There are plenty of men in the great stone edifices of Washington who never will see a jungle trail and feel the hidden death about them. These men think they alone know why American boys are fighting this war. They do not trust the boys to know. They think that they had better define the reasons for the boys. They are prolific with their statements about what the war is going to settle. They never miss an opportunity to tell what the world after the war will be like—what, indeed, it must be like.

Some of them speak of using the boys who are really fighting the war to police the world. Others speak of releasing the boys slowly, by "a draft in reverse." None of them thinks of consulting the boys themselves. None of them can see that the boys have gone far away to fight only in order to get this war over and to get back home. None of them has ever longed for pie.

THE COURTS IN WAR.

The refusal of the federal District court for New Jersey to compel the Paterson Evening News to open its records to the federal wage and hour bureau is encouraging evidence that the courts of this country are not taking the view that war is sufficient excuse for the indulgence of burocratic license. The wage and hour administrator had subpenaed the newspaper's records, but the process was resisted.

In his decision, Judge Thomas F. Meaney said that there was no justification for the government to embark on fishing expeditions "without complaint and simply in quest of information upon which to base proceedings, should they be justified." He added that congress as yet has not determined "to substitute a government of expert opinion for a government of law" and that the functions of the courts still govern when administrative bodies seek to assert that they and not the courts are to administer the laws under general powers received from congress.

This decision, considered in relation to others recently handed down by the courts, will do a great deal to correct the mistaken impression of federal agencies that they are a law unto themselves and bear a solemn obligation to crack down on everybody and anybody. The OPA attempted to take punitive action against business men for violations which, under confused if not impossible rules, the defendants did not know they had committed, and was sharply called to task recently for its zealotry by Judges Igoe and Holly in Chicago federal court. Judge Igoe saw fit to remind the burocrats that they "must realize they haven't exclusive rights on all the patriotism in America."

The position taken by Judge Meaney further fortifies the rights of the public against administrative encroachments. His opinion, tho coming from a judge whose appointment was widely opposed because of his Hague machine antecedents, is calculated to inspire confidence that war has not confused the bench as to its responsibilities. The courts are still the check upon the legislative and executive departments and the protector of the people against usurpations by either.

GOOD START.

[Portland, Me., Evening Express.]

The office of war information is proud that 42,317,000 copies of informational publications and press releases have been eliminated to save man power, paper, printing, and mailing facilities. The reduction is about 20 per cent under 1940, the OWI reports.

This is good. Having done so well, perhaps the OWI should not be chided for falling 50 or 60 per cent short of perfection. So we merely point out that another 50 million copies—or its equivalent including reduction in size—could easily and profitably be eliminated. The mails still are swamped with claptrap which the recipients must pay porters to carry away unopened and unread.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

OF SHIPS, DOGS, AND BIRDS.

The editor of "Jane's Fighting Ships," next edition, must be having more trouble than the staff of a mail order house catalog. In the first place, the names of the numerous Japanese warships now in Davy Jones' locker are shrouded in silence and eternal night. In the second place, the United States navy has apparently changed without notice its system of naming aircraft carriers.

* * *

Jane's large and expensive album says that the United States navy names its carriers after famous victories or historic ships. But at the latest launchings the official bottle-smasher said, "I name thee Cabot, Breton, Alazon Bay." One might surmise that the genius who has been naming Pullman cars all these years has been called to the baptismal bureau as a dollar-a-year man.

* * *

Dogs who desert their posts as military mascots and return to their home towns should not be accused of lack of patriotism without careful consideration of their psychology. The chances are that such dogs have been reared and trained as one-family or one-man companions. When suddenly transformed into the pet of a large number of soldiers or sailors, the animal may become bewildered and light out for places where he can lead his own life. A one-man dog probably has no ambition to be a daughter of the regiment.

* * *

The disbanding of college fraternities should release large numbers of canine mascots perfectly conditioned for military service. Before the war ends there may be enough Greek letter dogs "at liberty" to fill any demand for their decentralized affections, no matter how global.

* * *

Dispatches from Tunisia report that the air is full of storks, returning to their spring and summer duties on German housetops. They will return to Africa in the fall, to report a severe shortage of roofs.

ORGAN GRINDER IN SPRING.

Pietro plays his organ,
And it has a lilting ring
Of beauty in his childhood land—
Fair Italy in spring.

His eyes smile at street children,
But he plays "Miserere,"
A dirge for Italy that was
A flowering land and free.

But then a quickened tempo
Stimulates remembering
Of place—"America" resounds
And with it, freedom, spring!

Tha uther day I happens ta see where she's got a X marked on a April date on our calendar and I starts to wonder whether its an anniversary of her Uncle Bilge's funeral. Later on it dawns on me that it's her birthday, so I decides that when tha day comes I will instead of buyin' her a present take her out to supper at my expense, incidentally getting me a square meal at her expense.

Yesterday was tha day. I was in favor of a chop suey spread on a/c we shood help China win tha war, but she insists on a Eyetallian supper. The 1st corse, said soup A'la Reine, tha walter corrected me by saying it's pronounced r-a-i-n; after a spoonful I agreed with him. Next came what they called antipasti; its a hunk of celery leaf, a olive, and a hunk of garlic salami cut so thin that I cut my finger heisting it. Anti is a good name fer it cause I think if you're against somethin, your anti.

Then comes raviola; this is hunks of dough in a pocket, indeed a rare treat cause my pockets aint seen any since March 15. [Why do they call tha darn thing income tax; seems to me they shood change tha name to out-go tax.] Now we get tha main act, spagetty with meat balls; I got troubles trying to find tha balls an tha walter asks me if I looked in tha southeast corner of the plate. I tole him I did an also under my chair.

Coffee was brung in demi-tasse ⅝s full. It wood'n surprise me if pretty soon there gonna serve it in butter chips or mebbe mustard spoons. I asks if I coodn' get a regular big cup an tha walter gives me a dirty look like as if he was gonna phone tha F. B. I.

I didn' leave a dime tip, an tha dirty so and so walter has got tha guts to ask me if I didn' ferget somethin', an I tole him that I'm considered a high class A No. 1 gentleman and that all thru life I've followed a certain mottoe.

HEAD BLOWS AND THE LOSS OF SMELL.

THE questions asked concerning interference with smell and taste number legion. As we know, disease within the nasal passages can destroy the tiny nerve endings which lie so close to the surface and which inform us when an odor is pleasant or the reverse.

But head injuries may be followed by inability to detect scents of any sort. Many observations of this character are found in the writings of our older physicians.

In fact, the notes of Napoleon's surgeon tell of a soldier who sustained a skull fracture. For some time thereafter he was unable to differentiate between garlic and sweet peas. Most of the blows described were experienced on the back of the head and it was thought that the olfactory nerve had been damaged.

Occasionally failure of taste is an accompanying symptom. In such a situation onions, turnips, and potatoes may have the same flavor—or lack of it. Just what happens is not clear. We assume that certain filaments conveying these sensations to the brain have been weakened, in which event convalescence may require a considerable period.

In a recent study of this condition, A. D. Leigh records 1,000 consecutive skull accidents, in which smell was impaired in 72. Test substances, such as coffee, camphor, peppermint, and cloves were employed subsequent to a thoro clearing out of the airways. In about half the subjects the function was present only in part. For example, cloves might be recognized whereas camphor would not.

Five recovered promptly—one in 20 days and the others in from one to three months. As we would expect, the right olfactory apparatus may be involved whereas the left may be intact. An airplane pilot sustained a fall of about 30 feet. Irregular cracks of the cranium ensued, with a tear in the envelope covering the brain. Two months after he returned to duty he could detect typical odors with the left nostril and only partially with the right.

In one stage, stenches seemed to the victim to permeate the air. He stated that everything, including rosewater, had the aroma of bad fish or moldy hay. It has been suggested that the impression of putrid material is probably a phase of healing. The onset of this manifestation may be regarded as a hopeful sign that the sense will reappear.

In addition, taste may be disturbed. In fact, we have long known the close association between the two. One patient stated that for 13 days after his mishap every article of food seemed flat. He could not distinguish between salt and sugar. Quinine was somewhat bitter but not at all unpalatable.

But the loss of this power is unusual. In only 14 of the 72 patients cited was there the slightest disturbance of the ability to draw the line between one edible and another.

Of course, hallucinations should be considered and bizarre notions concerning sight and hearing likewise may be complained of. Here the cause is quite different and psychotherapy points the way to relief.

BALD WOMEN.

I. E. writes: I am a hairdresser and we are getting a few cases of baldness among women. What causes this?

REPLY.

Some impairment of circulation, or a scalp disease such as seborrheic dermatitis. Dandruff is an early sign of trouble.

COLOR OF EYES.

R. C. writes: Recently I read that blue eyed parents can have only blue eyed children but that those with brown eyes can have offspring of either color.

REPLY.

Either can have either, if the respective strains have entered the family thru some ancestor.

VOTING BY PROXY.

Chicago, April 5.—Present voting methods for men in the service entail vast handling of bulk mail [requests for ballots], mailing of the ballots to the military personnel, and return of the marked ballots to the various election boards. Considerable valuable railroad and ship space is devoted to moving these ballots, and hundreds of thousands of hours of postal clerk time is spent in handling this tremendous tonnage, and even then the ballots may reach the election boards too late to be included in the official count.

To insure every man and woman in the military service of the United States [no matter where stationed] the opportunity to cast his vote at the next national election, I propose that just as voting by proxy on corporation matters is legally recognized, the right to vote by proxy for national elective offices be similarly recognized.

By assigning power of attorney to some one whom he trusts, a person now in military service exercises complete control over fiduciary matters and real and personal property. Section 4 of Article I of the Constitution provides congress with the necessary authority to prescribe the manner in which votes are to be cast. Enabling legislation permitting proxy voting for national elective offices could be formulated by congress. Power of attorney for proxy voting would be limited to one member of the soldier's immediate family; and any one person would not be permitted to cast more than one proxy vote, except where there were more than one member of the family in service. If so desired, proxy voting would be limited to those in overseas service only.

The absentee voter may express his political [or personal] choice in his affidavit if he so desires, and the person casting the proxy vote would be legally obligated to vote accordingly; or the absentee voter may leave this choice to his proxy. Voting power of attorney would automatically cease at the death of the person executing the affidavit. Fraudulent voting would be curtailed by imposing severe penalties for misuse of the proxy. Authenticity and validity of the proxy vote could be checked by the election clerk in charge at the polling place, certain standard forms being recognized as legal.

GAS RATION FOR MOTOR BOATS.

Chicago, March 31.—The boating season here is limited to about six months. For that period outboard motors are to be allowed 5 gallons of gasoline per horsepower, with a maximum of 40 gallons for the season; inboard motors are allowed 4 gallons per horsepower, with a maximum of 250 gallons for the entire six month period. Many boats will consume this much gas in a single week-end cruise; restrictions for all sizes of boat are relatively much more severe than for automobiles.

We were told that the only reason for gasoline rationing here in the midwest was to save rubber. It was freely acknowledged that we had plenty of gas. Then why should boating be restricted? Obviously not to save rubber; if anything, it will work the other way, because when people are boating they are not using their cars for pleasure driving.

NO BOAT OWNER.

STUPID INDUCTION PROCEDURE.

Bangor, Mich., March 27.—Our grandson received a letter from the local draft board at Paw Paw, Mich., stating, "You will report at 6 a. m. at Paw Paw. From there you will be sent to Kalamazoo for examination and induction into the service of the United States. You will be returned to Paw Paw at 5 p. m. Plan to have some one meet you there to take you to your home."

Our boy used our car to go to Paw Paw. At 5 p. m. he phoned from Kalamazoo [reversed charges] that he was being sent to Detroit for examination and induction into the marines. When asked if he had any money, he said he had only 25 cents, as he had not anticipated that he would not be home for the supper hour. He asked for some one to call and get the car left at Paw Paw. This was done as requested.

After a tedious all day session at Detroit, without a noonday lunch, the Detroit office stated that they would send him home by bus to Kalamazoo, and from there to Paw Paw, where he arrived about 3 a. m., not having had either lunch or supper. From Paw Paw he had to walk 18 miles to Bangor. It was a long, cold walk at 4 a. m. They sent him by train to Detroit, but refused to send him back by train so that he could walk home in a few minutes.

Our boy had never been away to large cities alone and was not prepared to deal with the situation like a seasoned trooper. When he returned to Paw Paw and wanted to phone us, reversing the charge, the Paw Paw phone office refused to do so, demanding that he pay the charges in advance, after which they would be returned to him if reverse charges were accepted at Bangor. As he had no money, he could not pay in advance.

We believe that more consideration should be shown in returning these youths to their homes. The parents share in all these trials their boys endure.

J. I. BURKE.

PRICES 40 YEARS AGO.

Cave Junction, Ore., March 30.—Being gainfully employed in early youth, I began keeping an account of all receipts and expenditures. In rummaging around in my attic library the other day, I saw the 1901-'02 account book, with these entries: quart of milk, 5 cents; loaf of bread, 5 cents; dozen eggs, 10 cents; pound of steak, 10 cents; soup bones [all you could carry], 5 cents!

I compared the living costs in 1902 with 1942—and made a most amazing discovery. While milk has advanced 160 per cent, bread 180 per cent, eggs 250 per cent, meat 400 per cent—yet the actual living expenses for my wife and I have increased only 21 per cent!

WILLIAM A. BROWN.

THE HUNGRY FIREMAN.

Chicago, Apr. 2.—Regarding point rationing and how unfair it is, I am a locomotive fireman and really work hard. How am I [and I am speaking for thousands more who are in the same fix] going to hand fire a 100 car freight train over the road on the meat we are allowed? I would like to have one of these swivel chair experts who tell us how much we can eat take a ride and count the scoops full of coal a fireman must put into the firebox to get the train over the road.

When I get to the other end, a good square meal is really in order, and also another before I start back again. The meat we are now allowed should work well for the swivel chair experts, but not for a hard working man.

A. E. SPANIER.

ONE POST-WAR PLAN.

Gary, Ind., March 24.—While the immediate task before the people is the winning of the war, a great deal is being said on the subject of post-war planning, all for the noble purpose of avoiding the mistakes of the past. From a purely political standpoint such post-war plans might well include a determination never to elect a Democratic national administration. Why? A glance at American history reveals the fact that since the Civil war only three Democrats have been elected President. The record shows that the net result has been one great financial panic and two foreign wars.

PETER DE FOE.

THEY PAY THEIR WAY.

Columbus, Ohio, March 3.—The recent letter of F. E. Morris of Dallas, Tex., has good points, all but one. We can agree that the burocrats certainly are tough on the billfold. But all federal employés are not, and I specifically mention mail carriers and postoffice clerks as self-supporting from the little two and three cent stamps the public buys. Please don't confuse us with the pay-triotic leeches of Washington's alphabet soup.

SCHOOL TO TURN OUT FIRST NAVAL FLYING TUTORS

War Heroes Among the Grads in Lockport Class.

BY FRANK STURDY.

Flight tests for the first class of graduates of the navy's flight instructor school at Lockport were started yesterday under direction of Lt. Comm. Carl G. Olson.

The school has a complement of 210 student officers and is an important cog in the navy's expanding flight training program. Four similar instruction centers are located at Bloomsburg, Pa., Fort Worth, Tex., Athens, Ga., and West Lafayette, Ind. At these bases, the navy is training civilian pilots and navy officers who have flying experience, but not enough to qualify as instructors.

More Coaching Follows.

Upon being graduated from one of these schools, officers receive one month's additional coaching at the navy base at New Orleans. Then they receive their wings and are assigned as primary instructors to one of the cadet training centers of the type at Glenview and Peru, Ind.

Altho all the men in the Lockport school are known as student officers during their flight training, there are not a few who wear combat ribbons on their tunics.

Ensign Dean B. Tripp was commander of a group of landing barges at Casablanca, and was bombed and strafed by French and Germans in the American invasion Nov. 8. He wears the ribbons of the North Atlantic convoy and the Invasion of North Africa, with a star for the Casablanca battle, but dismisses his part in the invasion landing with a modest: "We had quite a bit of trouble there."

Milwaukean Sank a Sub.

Lt. Peter M. Wendt, whose father is city controler of Milwaukee, was commander of the gun crew on an unescorted merchant vessel credited by the navy with sinking a submarine in the Caribbean. Wendt is 25 years old. He said:

"The sub torpedoed us at night, then surfaced and began shelling. Our ship didn't founder, so we stuck to the gun and finally polished off the submarine. Next day our ship went down and we took to the boats, but were rescued in a few hours by a British tanker."

In the same company of battle experienced men are Lt. [j. g.] John R. Segesser, 28, who was on the aircraft carrier Yorktown when she was torpedoed, bombed, and lost in the battle of Midway; Ensign B. D. Finch, 25, of West Union, Ia., who served on a navy supply ship in the Caribbean and reported submarines "in amazing numbers"; Ensign Neal W. Kaye, 26, Atlanta, Ga., and Ensign James H. T. Murphy, 26, Oakland, Cal., who was second mate of a merchant ship supplying Port Moresby, New Guinea, from an Australian port during the early days of the war.

Tells Port Moresby Bombings.

"At first," Ensign Murphy said, "the Japs bombed us every day, and sometimes several times daily, at Port Moresby, but when our boys got going, they changed that. When I left, the Japs were only getting over about once every two weeks."

These and a number of other student flying instructors transferred from deck duty under a rule of the navy permitting officers with 50 hours of flying time or a private license to obtain this duty.

The remainder of the officers, about two-thirds, were civilians commissioned because of flying experience. They range in age to 40 years, and in flying time to 4,000 hours. The minimum requirement for a civilian to be commissioned in the program, designated AV-T, is a commercial pilot license or 300 hours in aircraft of 100 horsepower or more, in addition to meeting physical and academic standards.

Lewis School Is Base.

Lewis Aeronautical school on route 66 is the base for the navy program, managed under the CAA-WTS [Civil Aeronautics Administration-War Training Service]. The Lewis school faculty is in charge of all ground school instruction and management, and the flight training is directed by the Turgeon Flying Service. Coördinating the two for the navy and in direct charge is Lt. R. H. Lindner.

During their seven months in the course, the students are given a course of indoctrination and physical conditioning and are taught, by acting as drill officers, to drill men in numbers as large as a battalion. The entire program is conducted in shipboard terms as at any regular navy base. Flight instruction covers about 150 hours.

Chicago area members of the graduating class, numbering 29, for whom exercises will be held at the school next Sunday, are: Ensigns Ralph G. Brownell, 6759 South May street, Ralph Busch, 128 South Clay street, Hinsdale; James R. Conway, 733 Hinman avenue, Evanston; Tom Joyce, 5062 North Winchester avenue; Charles L. Karlove, 216 North Knight avenue, Park Ridge; William A. Lake, 7954 Ingleside avenue; W. W. Lehwalt, 425 Steele court, Waukegan; Edwin H. Staehling, 180th street and Governors road, Homewood.

WPB RELEASES MORE STEEL FOR CIVILIAN GOODS

Revises Listing of Banned Products.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The war production board today approved the release of 3,000 tons of steel for the manufacture of 18 civilian products ranging from shoe buckles to awning frames. At the same time WPB removed a few items from the list in which steel is prohibited and added several other products to the banned list.

The released steel already has been fabricated for consumer uses and has been held by manufacturers from three to eight months under WPB freeze orders. It is being released, WPB officials said, because it is not suitable for war production or for scrap purposes.

Many Products Affected.

Products in which steel may be used, provided it was already fabricated at the time of the freeze, are:

Luggage for sale at post exchanges and ship stores, millinery wire and gimps, beds except spring frames, cold and warm air registers, awning frames, hair clamps such as barrettes, clips and fasteners; frames for bags, purses and pocketbooks, linoleum binding, brushes and brush backs; buckles for shoes, clothing, and pocketbooks; buttons for clothing, clothing trim, and dress ornaments; culverts, non-electric hair curlers, floor and counter covering trim, hat frames, mechanical book binding, and screen frames.

The use of steel material in manufacturers' inventories as of Oct. 31, 1943, is also permitted for playground equipment to be used in public recreation and war housing areas. Gymnasium equipment for programs approved by the United States office of education also may be produced.

Some Held Essential.

Products for which the use of steel was lifted altogether, either because they are considered essential or require insignificant amounts of steel, include cleats and spikes for athletic shoes, adhesive spools and sleeves, wheel type stretchers, hospital examining tables, cement making and fertilizing machinery, inked ribbon spools, concrete and cement hardeners, keys for opening cans, commercial lobster forks and tongs, inking and stamping pads, street and highway reflectors, household water softeners, closers for paper or cellophane bags of 25 pound capacity or less, wheelbarrows for dairies, and stainless steel for ammunition and powder boxes.

Added to the list for which steel is prohibited are linen hampers, except frames, shelves for refrigerators, and food carts except for hospital use.

AUTO LICENSE SALES 270,543 JAN. 1-MARCH 31

City Collector Louis Rixmann said yesterday that his office had issued 270,543 passenger car licenses from Jan. 1 to March 31 this year. The total sold in all of 1942 was 547,777.

During the first quarter of the year licenses were issued for 681 one horse vehicles and for 16 two horse vehicles. The combined total last year was 1,210.

The lag in all departments of vehicle sales is shown in comparative cash receipts. For the first three months of 1943, $3,037,523 was taken over the counters as against $5,171,592 for the first three months of 1942.

BAN TEXTBOOKS BY PROF. RUGG IN SAN FRANCISCO

Critics Say He Pushes a 'New Social Order.'

San Francisco, Cal., April 7 [Special].—The San Francisco board of education voted unanimously today to ban from city schools the Rugg social science textbooks which critics charged were designed to advance "a new social order to do away with democracy."

The books were authored by Prof. Harold Rugg of Columbia university, radical and prolific writer of school texts, who previously has been accused of painting a utopian picture of the Russian soviet state.

Criticized in Chicago.

Rugg textbooks have been burned publicly by several school boards and have been criticized in numerous cities where they are used, including Chicago and suburbs. The American Legion's national executive committee two years ago termed his textbooks "not suitable for use in our schools since they oppose the American tradition."

A controversy over whether the Rugg books are subversive or merely "enlightened," had been waged here for a year. They have been used in San Francisco junior high schools since 1932.

The board of education's decision to discontinue their use at the end of the present school term was based on the unanimous report of a committee of six university educators, headed by Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, vice president of the University of California, to whom the school board referred the matter.

Instruction Based on Hopes.

"The unsound basis in teaching," the report said, "is revealed in the overemphasis upon the future and change rather than in the fact of growth and development as a continuous process in all time. The weight of instructions is placed not upon achievements and accomplishments, but upon aspirations and hopes. This conception of teaching is revealed in the repeated assertions of the need of rebuilding and recreating.

"These books are built upon the assumption that it is one of the functions of the school [indeed, it appears at times the chief function] to plan in the classroom [yes, even in the junior high school] the future of society. From this view, we emphatically dissent."

GINSBURG GETS 400 WORD PEAN; 5 HEROES GET 81

F.D.R. Rebuked in House for Citation Letter.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—President Roosevelt was criticized in the house today for his letter defending David Ginsburg, former general counsel for the office of price administration, who recently was the center of a storm in congress over suspected draft dodgers.

Rep. J. P. Thomas.

The young Harvard law school graduate obtained a deferment from military service on the contention that he was an irreplaceable official, then resigned his $8,200 a year job and was reported angling and being considered for an army commission, allegedly that of a colonel. But after the furor in the house, the war department refused him a commission.

Writes to Brown.

A week ago the President wrote Prentiss M. Brown, OPA director, deploring what he termed "unfair attacks" on the hard working young man. Today Rep. J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.] noted that Mr. Roosevelt, in his "citation" of Ginsburg, used five times the number of words he wrote to the parents of five America heroes killed in the war.

"In time of war," Rep Thomas said, "high civilian morale, like high soldier morale, is all important. Yet hardly a day goes by that some government official does not 'kick over the bucket' by a stupid act. The present crop of New Dealers is the greatest aggregation of morale busters the world has even known.

"The 400 word citation of David Ginsburg, the 31 year old paragon of wisdom, is typical of what I mean. The President felt that he was called upon to use 400 words in the citation of little David; yet in his letter to the parents of the five Sullivan boys who gave their lives for their country, the President used 81 words.

93 Words for MacArthur.

"In the award of a congressional medal to Gen. [Douglas] MacArthur, 93 words were used. In the award of a medal to Gen. [James H.] Doolittle, the President used 66 words, and for the valor of one of America's bravest heroes, Colin Kelly, the President used only 109 words.

"It would appear that in the eyes of the President, the services rendered by Ginsburg have been relatively more important to the United States than the lives of the heroes who have sacrificed their all for their country."

The New Jersey congressman said the records introduced in the house indicated that Ginsburg had tried to avoid military service by claiming dependency and that Leon Henderson, former OPA czar, had sought the youthful lawyer's deferment as an irreplaceable man.

SUICIDE LEAVES CHARITY, CIVIC GROUPS $300,000

A will disposing of the estate of Joseph Adams, leaving bequests of stock shares to 19 charitable and civic organizations, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of Probate court. Officials of the First National Bank of Chicago, executor of the estate, estimated its aggregate value at $300,000.

Adams, a retired live stock man, lumber dealer, and clubman, shot himself to death March 30 at the age of 91 years in his suite in the Belden-Stratford hotel, 2300 Lincoln Park West.

The only individual bequest is to a nephew, Cuthbert C. Adams, 199 Linden avenue, Winnetka, who receives several blocks of stock and other property. Large stockholdings were bequeathed to the Orchestral association, the Field museum, the Chicago Historical society, the Illinois Humane society, the Art institute, the Citizens' Association of Chicago, the Chicago Crime commission, the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency and the Legislative Voters' league.

2 Gunmen Hijack Liquor Truck and Bind Driver

Two gunmen climbed into a truck driven by Louis Brenner, 5741 Waveland avenue, yesterday when he stopped for a traffic light at Desplaines street and Roosevelt road. They forced him to drive to a garage near 23d street and Wentworth avenue, where they bound him and removed 100 cases of brandy and 45 cartons of paint valued at $5,000. Putting Brenner in the rear of the truck, the gunmen drove to 21st and Dearborn street, where they stopped and fled afoot. Passersby released Brenner two hours later.

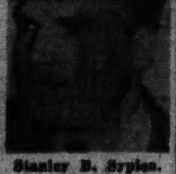
PREACHER FREED OF DRAFT DODGE; BOARD ON GRILL

Kane County Inquiry Ordered by Court.

A federal grand jury investigation of Kane county draft board No. 2 at St. Charles was ordered yesterday by District Judge John P. Barnes, who expressed himself as discontented with the method of classification followed by the board in the case of Stanley B. Sypien, 23 years old, a minister of Jehovah's Witnesses.



Stanley B. Sypien.

The grand jury inquiry was ordered after Judge Barnes dismissed draft evasion charges against Sypien, who lives at 6930 Windsor avenue, Berwyn, and whose draft status repeatedly had been changed by the board.

First Classified 1-A.

Sypien had registered with the Kane county board when he was a resident of Columbia Heights, a suburb of St. Charles, where he was a minister for the sect. At that time the board had classified him in 1-A.

Sypien had been called up for induction and ordered to report last Sept. 16. His failure to report on that date led to his indictment last November. While this case was pending he was re-classified 4-D, his attorney, Victor F. Schmidt, told the court.

He was returned to 1-A classification, however, when the board was informed by Assistant United States Atty. John D. Owen that regulations prohibited it from taking any action after a registrant had been declared delinquent until the district attorney had disposed of the charges.

Shifted into Class 4-D.

Carl J. Markel, chairman of the Kane county board, called as a witness by Schmidt, testified that the 4-D classification originally had been denied Sypien because his name did not appear on a certified list of ministers sent to Washington. It did appear, however, on an amended list after the indictment had been returned, and the board was informed, Markel said, that it had the sole power to dispose of the case. Classification into 4-D followed, he said.

After listening to the evidence, Judge Barnes commented: "I can't sentence a man on a record like that. I want the grand jury to investigate the board and take whatever action is warranted."

Judge Barnes called the grand jury into the courtroom, explained the case, and instructed it to investigate.

POSTMAN SAVES HUSBAND FACING COURT'S WRATH

A postman with a special delivery letter stepped in just in time yesterday to save Samuel Kary, 2720 15th place, a war worker, from the wrath of Judge Oscar F. Nelson in Superior court. Kary, $64 in arrears for support of two children, was to appear to show why he shouldn't be sent to jail. Just as Atty. William L. Kelly, representing Mrs. Edith Wandas, 1335 Elmdale avenue, Kary's former wife, was stating the case, a special delivery postman strode into the courtroom. He had a letter with a $64 check from Kary. The payment was accepted and the attachment petition against Kary was withdrawn.

BOGUS PRINCE ARRESTED FOR FRAUD ON HOTEL

Booked as "Prince Alexis Alexandrovitch Orloff," a curly haired 31 year old man who claimed an hereditary Russian title, was held at central police headquarters last night for defrauding the Drake hotel of a $38.80 bill for lodging. Held with him for disorderly conduct was Paul Butler, 39 years old, who said he was an orderly in a New York hospital.

The two told Detectives Edward Egan and John Payton that they flew to Chicago from New York Tuesday and stayed in the Drake Tuesday night. The "prince" was arrested in the Blackstone hotel yesterday when he attempted to get a room. Butler was held when he called at police headquarters looking for the "prince."

No stranger to New York courts, the "prince" was forced to admit during a trial there in 1941 that his real name was Walter Austin Braun and that he had no legal claim to a title. He carried an alien registration card and a draft registration card bearing his assumed Russian title. The "prince" said he worked in New York as a dietitian for a Y. M. C. A. restaurant.

MAX CALDWELL GOES ON TRIAL IN MIAMI TODAY

Miami, Fla., April 7 [Special].—Max Caldwell, former head of the Chicago Retail Clerks Protective union, comes to trial in federal District court here tomorrow on a charge of conspiracy to violate the selective service act by harboring and concealing Mike Savachka, former treasurer of the union, from a Chicago draft board.

Caldwell's trial was set for Jan. 27 but was postponed when Judge John W. Holland ruled that a confession Savachka gave the federal bureau of investigation could not be submitted as evidence. Savachka could not appear then as a witness, having been taken to Chicago where he was permitted by authorities to enter the army.

Army authorities in Texas report that Savachka has been granted a furlough to appear at the trial and promise he will be here tomorrow.

BILL APPROVED TO CURB PROFIT OF WAR BROKERS

Legislation Puts Fees Under U. S. Scrutiny.

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Legislation to curb "excessive" profits realized by commission sales agents for procuring government war contracts was approved by the house naval committee today by a 16 to 0 roll call vote.

Rear Adm. Moreel.

The action came after a series of public hearings during which several of the agents acknowledged profits running up to millions of dollars on fees ranging in some cases as high as 10 to 20 per cent.

The measure would define sales agents handling war contracts in excess of $25,000 as subcontractors and, as such, subject them and their earnings to government scrutiny and renegotiation thru an existing statute.

"Aimed at 5 Per Cent Boys."

Altho he voted for the measure, Rep. Lynden Johnson [D., Tex.], expressed belief it did not go far enough and that the committee should take some action to curb the salaries of manufacturers as well as cracking down on "the little fellows."

Chairman Beverly M. Vincent [D., Ga.] said, however, this measure in particular is aimed at the "5 per cent boys," who have been obtaining "unconscionable" profits.

Second Move of Kind.

The action represented the naval committee's second attempt to restrict the profits of what the navy department has termed "war brokers." The committee last year recommended and the house passed a bill which would outlaw all commission or contingent fees on all government contracts. That measure, however, was pigeonholed by the senate naval committee on the grounds that it was too broad.

Meanwhile, Rear Adm. Dan Moreel, chief of the navy's bureau of yards and docks, told the committee that "it has been and will continue to be our desire to spread business among the small manufacturers and small contractors."

He was called to explain the bureau's action in designating large contractors as special navy procurement agents to obtain supplies for bases outside the United States.

He said that system had been employed for reasons of expediency and economy.

COUNTY RECORDS OPENED TO PRESS BY INJUNCTION

Rockford, Ill., April 7 [Special].—County Clerk James R. Cannell was under a court injunction today restraining him from denying newspaper reporters free access to the public records of his office.

The injunction, a temporary one, was granted Rockford Consolidated Newspapers, Inc., late yesterday by Circuit Judge Wm. R. Dusher. It had been sought after Cannell had barred Herman G. Nelson, a Rockford Morning Star reporter, from his office because of a story Nelson had written.

HOW would you like to write a few words for $50.00? That's what the Tribune offers you for completing the unfinished "Beat-the-Axis" slogans appearing every day in the Tribune.

A slogan, according to Webster, is a "war cry" or "battle cry". Note the one published above. Can you complete it? Your completed slogan must not exceed ten words. Each word must start with the same letter. The Tribune will give ten $50 bills each weekday excepting Saturdays when it will give twenty $50 bills. The total is $3,500.00 a week.

Try your skill! Finish the Slogan above and mail it at once.

GET THE NEXT UNFINISHED SLOGAN IN TOMORROW'S

DAILY TRIBUNE

NOTE: If you wish to have the Daily Tribune delivered to your home during this series, notify your Carrier or the Tribune.

JUST FOLLOW THESE RULES:

1. Each weekday until further notice, the Chicago Tribune will publish an unfinished "Beat-the-Axis" slogan. You are invited to complete it in your own words. Total must be ten words or less, including printed word or words if given. All words must start with the same letter. Hyphenated words will be counted as one word.

2. The Tribune will pay ten cash awards of $50.00 each weekday, excepting Saturdays when twenty cash awards of $50.00 each will be paid. Awards will be paid to the persons whose entries are published in the Tribune. Such selected entries will be published exactly one week following the publication of the unfinshed slogan and the prizes will be paid at once.

3. This offer is open free to every man, woman, boy and girl, regardless of residence, excepting employees of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families. No subscriptions to solicit—nothing else to do but to complete the slogan. Entries should be addressed, "Slogans", Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. All become the property of the Tribune and none will be returned. Entries must be in by noon the third day after publication of the unfinished slogan.

4. You may submit your entry on the coupon published in the Tribune, or a facsimile.

Judging will be by a Committee appointed by the Tribune. Awards will be paid to the persons who submit the most interesting slogans in the opinion of the judges. Aptness of thought, wit and cleverness will be the determining factors. Neither spelling nor neatness will count. Entries must be the original creation of the sender. If two or more identical entries are received, the prize will be awarded to the one first received. In submitting any entry the entrant must agree to accept the judges' decision as final. In fairness to all, the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence.

FRANK J. LOESCH, AT 91, BRISTLES AT SOCIAL PLANS

Capone Scourge Scorns New Deal Setup.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Frank J. Loesch, the man who gained the title of "Spirit of '76" when at that age, 15 years ago, he brought Chicago out of its worst crime wave, will celebrate his 91st birthday tomorrow. Homage was paid to the veteran crime fighter last year by hundreds of the city's leading officials, bankers, and business men, but this year he will spend the day quietly in his Drake hotel apartment with Mrs. Loesch. This is not the time for parties, he said yesterday.

Despite the fact that his health has not been of the best in the last few months—he suffers from heart fatigue—Mr. Loesch is as mentally alert as ever and follows national affairs and war news closely.

Would Oust New Deal.

"There is only one issue before the country after the war is won and that is to oust the so-called New Deal," said Mr. Loesch, with all his old time snap and vigor with which he almost singlehandedly started the breakup of the Capone gang while president of the Chicago Crime commission.

"I am opposed to the New Deal first, last, and all the time," he continued. "It is contrary to the fundamental principles of freedom on which this country is founded. The New Deal is for a planned society. Everything is planned for the citizen from birth to death. That is against the spirit of fredom which has been the life blood of this country from colonial days to the present time.

"The spirit of liberty upon which the declaration of independence rests gives each man the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The New Deal takes that away from him and plans his life for him from the time of his birth to his burial at death."

Has Faith in People.

The veteran lawyer said he has faith that the people soon will right themselves from the hysteria brought on by the depression and war conditions and insists on a government under the constitutional limitations.

Crime, he said, is slowly but surely being suppressed except for sporadic juvenile crime springing from war time laxities. He praised the indictments in New York of the remaining members of the Capone gangsters and exhorted the authorities to "whack them down" every time they show their heads.

CASUALTY LIST ON HOME FRONT: 101,500 KILLED

Safety training of the nation's 12,500,000 war workers to halt the rising tide of accidents—estimated to have cost the nation 3 billion, 750 million dollars in 1942—is the goal sought by the national committee for conservation of man power in war industries.

There is little likelihood of reducing the casualty list of 101,500 dead, 350,000 permanently disabled and 9,000,000 others injured last year, members of the four state committee of the sixth regional area were told yesterday in the Palmer House.

Maj. Laurence B. Tipton, United States army war safety training supervisor, told the regional representatives that 2 billion man hours were lost thru accidents annually for the last two years, enough to build 66 battleships, or more than twice the number possessed by the combined British and American navies.

Maj. Tipton outlined the national training program, which calls for the training of 55,000 key supervisors from industry in colleges where they will take a 96 hour course over a period of 16 weeks. These key men will go back to industry and train 625,000 foremen, assistant foremen, and leaders who in turn will carry the training program to the 12,500,000 war workers of the nation.

THE QUESTION.

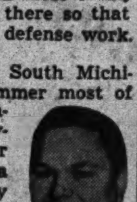
How do you intend to spend your school vacation this summer?

WHERE ASKED.

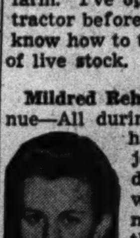
Jones Commercial High school, 607 Plymouth court.

THE ANSWERS.

Bernice Johnston, 1823 North Kedvale avenue—I have offered to help my mother, who is a busy social worker. She and her associates are thinking of organizing a nursery for babies whose mothers are working. I'll spend most of my vacation there so that more mothers can do defense work.



Herbert Bova, 8733 South Michigan avenue—Last summer most of my three months' vacation was spent playing ball. This year I'm going to make a little better use of my time on a relative's farm. I've operated a tractor before and also know how to take care of live stock.



Mildred Rehling, 8844 Parnell avenue—All during this school year I have held a part time job in a firm that is doing essential war work. I intend to make it a full time three months job this summer, so I won't even be able to visit my brother at camp like I did last year.

Marion La Badie, 328 South Oakley avenue—In my spare time I have sung at service men's organizations on special occasions, but this summer I would like to make it a full time job. I'm hoping to be accepted at the U. S. O. and various service men's clubs as an entertainer during my vacation.

Donald J. Schaeffer, 3726 North Claremont avenue—In June I'll be 18 years old, so I'm not making any vacation plans. I have taken some examinations for officer's training already and hope to be accepted. I'm sure that my last summer's vacation at Wisconsin resorts will be my last leisurely one for a while.

Wilma Marshalla, 3257 Potomac avenue—My brother is working in a defense plant and I hope to spend my summer in the same place. I have already made an application for office work there. I prefer to spend the three months that way so that when I graduate I will be an experienced worker.

LABOR TURNOVER CALLED PERIL TO SHIP PROGRAM

Maritime Board Warns of Critical Trend.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The maritime commission reported today that a high rate of labor turnover in the shipbuilding industry is "seriously affecting" the output of merchant ships, aircraft carriers, troop transports, and escort vessels.

The current "deficit" of more than 71,000 shipbuilding workers, resulting from workers leaving their jobs, threatens to reduce the 1943 merchant ship output below the goal of 18 million tons, the commission said.

The turnover of ship workers thruout the country was 11.2 per cent a month in the first quarter of this year, equal to a complete turnover of workers every nine months, the report showed. Only 2 per cent was accounted for by men quitting to join the army and navy, according to the survey.

Lowest near Great Lakes.

The Great Lakes area had the lowest turnover, 6.2 per cent, compared with 7.1 per cent on the Atlantic coast, 10.3 per cent on the gulf coast, and 14.8 per cent on the Pacific coast.

A total of 200,896 workers left their jobs in the first three months of this year in shipbuilding yards employing 2,500 or more workers, the commission found. To meet shipping production goals, the commission said, 333,695 workers should have been added to the rolls in the period, 200,826 for replacements and 132,799 additional workers, whereas new hirings actually totaled only 262,617.

This left a deficit as of March 31 of 71,078 workers, 60,854 on the Pacific coast, 5,196 in the gulf states, 2,666 on the Atlantic seaboard, and 2,362 on the Great Lakes.

Housing Partly to Blame.

The commission said that a contributing factor to the high turnover was a serious housing shortage in many shipbuilding communities.

Rear Adm. Howard L. Vickery, commission vice chairman, said that "the situation is so critical as to indicate that it is imperative to reverse the current man power trend if we are to insure the completion of the scheduled program on time."

Commission officials said the labor shortage will not be immediately reflected in sharp reductions in deliveries of vessels, because much of the work on vessels currently being delivered was completed early this year.

Tippy Barks and the Berg Family Escapes from Fire

TRANSPORTATION OFFICERS.

The navy announces the opening of a number of billets for men from 30 to 50 years of age who are qualified to be commissioned as transportation officers for assignment to duty in the port directors offices. Besides having to pass the regular naval reserve officers' physical examination, candidates must be able to present a record of at least five years' experience in the shipping field in a position of one of the following types: Marine superintendent, port terminal superintendent, pier superintendent, stevedore, port captain, export manager, marine engineer [maintenance], traffic manager, or shipping agent. A college education is desirable, but extensive experience will be accepted in place of a formal education.

Assignment after commissioning will carry responsibility for one or more of the following: Planning and coördinating the movement of ships and freight; arranging for berthing, fueling, and provisioning of ships; supervision of loading and unloading of cargoes; passing upon necessary maintenance and repair of ships, and handling personnel. Apply: Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Board of Trade, Chicago.

NOTE: In the navy announcement in Monday's column about billets for publications officers, we apparently put too much stress on printing experience and the navy wanted to consider any candidate who was qualified by experience to "assist in a program of form designing, standardization, and simplification thru analyzation, redesigning existing forms, and reviewing new ones."

W. G. S. writes: "I am confused about my present draft dependents. I have been married seven years and have one son born Jan. 12, 1942. I would like to know if my son is considered a dependent under the selective service law?"

ANSWER. Children who were conceived before Dec. 8, 1941, and at a time when the registrant's selection was not imminent, are dependents within the meaning of the regulations and would entitle the registrant to deferment until his draft board finds it necessary to call men with a similar degree of dependency.

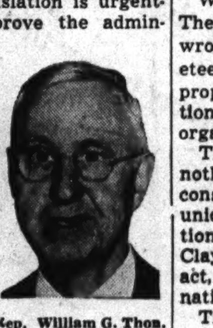
M. E. T. writes: "I have been married since 1934 and have two small children born prior to the draft act. I have been employed in a highly skilled job by a firm who converted its facilities to making tanks. Two weeks ago they laid off about 300 employés. Four days later I received notice from my draft board to appear for a preliminary physical. I called my board to ask why and they told me the company had called them and told them to take me in the draft. What can I do about it?"

ANSWER: If you are classified 1-A you should appeal your classification at once. In the meantime, seek other war work and have your new employer file for your deferment.

NOTE: We will be glad to send any one a copy of the navy folder describing some 35 civilian jobs and experience which may qualify for a commission in the navy. Send us a large, self-addressed stamped envelope.

ANTI-PERJURY BILL IS INDORSED BY CRIME BODY

Anti-perjury legislation is urgently needed to improve the administration of criminal justice, the Chicago Crime commission stated yesterday in a bulletin favoring passage of the bill introduced by Rep. William G. Thon [R., Oak Park].



Rep. William G. Thon.

Time after time successful prosecution for perjury has been impossible even tho it has been proven that a witness testified under oath to one set of facts before the grand jury and thereafter testified to a diametrically opposite set of facts at the trial, the commission said.

This occurs because the Illinois Supreme court has held that to justify a verdict of guilty the state must prove that the grand jury testimony was true in order to convict on the basis of subsequent false testimony.

"The proper administration of criminal justice depends upon truthful testimony," the crime commission said. "The acquittal of the innocent, as well as the conviction and punishment of the guilty, depends upon truthful testimony. In the past, perjured testimony frequently has defeated criminal justice."

ANTI-RACKETEER BILL SOFTENED ON LABOR PLEA

Washington, D C., April 7 (AP).—The house judiciary committee wrote into the Hobbs anti-racketeering bill today an amendment proposed by the American Federation of Labor to meet objctions of organized labor to the legislation.

The amendment specifies that nothing in the measure shall be construed to prohibit activities of union members and labor organizations recognized as legal under the Clayton act, the Norris-La Guardia act, the railway labor act and the national labor regulations act.

The Clayton act contains a provision exempting activities of labor unions from the anti-trust laws; the Norris-La Guardia act prohibits issuance of injunctions in labor disputes, and the other two laws deal primarily with collective bargaining rights.

House Passes Bill After Twice Cutting It.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The house voted the state department 6 million dollars to spend for coöperation with South and Central American nations today after the members twice had tentatively cut the appropriation to $4,500,000.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins.

The money is to be spent on cultural relations by the office of the coördinator of inter-American affairs, headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller. It is a part of the $33,358,100 asked by the state department for the fiscal year of 1944.

The state department funds were authorized by the house when it passed a $189,629,400 appropriation bill for the state, justice, and commerce departments. The department of justice was voted $102,657,300 and the department of commerce $53,614,000.

Warns of Bankruptcy.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.] urged that the cut be made in the appropriation for coöperation with the South and Central American countries, telling the members:

"Let's stop short of absolute bankruptcy."

Rep. George H. Bender [R., O.] also argued for the cut and criticized the state department for permitting American exports to Japan and Germany in the years preceding America's entrance into the war when it was apparent that both countries might be hostile.

But. Rep. Louis C. Rabaut [D., Mich.], chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which studied the bill, warned that reduction of the appropriation would endanger American relations with the South and Central American countries.

Vote 118 to 36 for Cut.

Sitting as a committee of the whole, the house voted 118 to 36 to make the cut and later sustained the cut 120 to 110 on a roll call.

But sitting as the house, the members voted 169 to 163 on a roll call against the cut. And the bill, with the funds for the good will program intact, passed on a voice vote.

One hundred thousand dollars was lopped from the department of commerce's bureau of foreign and domestic commerce's $1,409,000 appropriation request, and the house specified that none of the money voted should be spent for investigations of the dairy industry.

The ban against spending money for investigating the dairy industry was ordered after Rep. August H. Andresen [R., Minn.] had accused the administration of conspiring to discredit dairy products and to increase the sale of such substitutes as oleomargarine.

You May Never Have To Take Another Laxative

Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work—if they would only quit worrying—stop being nervous—take more exercise—watch their diet—and get up mornings an hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all this?

So—the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can—and that's where good old Espotabs come in. Why?

Because you may take Espotabs at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around—because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and washed-out . . .

AND because they help give the grand, comfortable, satisfying type of movement that makes the spirits soar—and what sour, constipated person could ask for more? Get Espotabs at your druggist today and take as directed. 25¢.

Banishes The Guesswork And High Cost For The Average Person

NOW at last! One of the world's largest producers does for vitamins and minerals what Henry Ford did for the automobile: banishes the guesswork; banishes the high cost.

An amazing new vitamin-tablet invention containing 8 vitamins and 9 minerals—for the 3 out of 4 who fail to eat a good diet—as U. S. Department of Agriculture figures show.

This new development takes the place of less potent vitamin preparations for the average person.

1. It meets all adult minimum U. S. Govt. requirements for Vitamins A, B_1, B_2 (G), C and D.

2. It also gives you 3 additional vitamins of the B Complex, plus 9 minerals.

3. It meets multi-vitamin principle officially approved by a committee of eminent doctors.

And—it is made to sell at a price millions of people can now afford.

A New Invention

The name of this remarkable new vitamin-mineral tablet is Stams. Full potency is guaranteed as stated on the package. Or your money back.

If you are one of the millions not up to par because your diet lacks vitamins and minerals, Nature can give you more vitality and pep with Stams.

Stams cost you only about 5¢ a day to take—less than ½ the price of a package of cigarettes.

100 YEAR LIFE OF BARRINGTON PATRIARCH ENDS

Jackson Farm Abounds in Relics of Decades.

George M. Jackson, patriarch of Barrington township, who resided on the same farm near Spring Lake for 100 years, died yesterday on his way to the Elgin hospital. He would have been 101 years old June 1.

Known as an eccentric who never threw any of his material possessions away, Jackson made the headlines at the age of 92 when he routed five bandits with an old-fashioned weapon which he had kept under his pillow from 1869. In good health until several weeks ago, he had been active thruout the latter years of his life and kept a weather eye on the farm to which he had been brought in a covered wagon from New York state as an infant in 1842.

Surrounded by wealthy estates and a modern country club, the farm has been a center of interest because of the relics which accumulated around the place and in the farmhouse during the last 100 years.

Some of the Relics Listed.

There was the cowbell brought by his father from New York, his mother's first kerosene lamp, a 54 year old binder, a big wooden vise used in building the house 76 years ago, a threshing machine "at least 50 years old," and the broken down steam engine which used to provide its power.

In the barn was the ancient buggy in which Jackson had done his "courtin'" and an automobile of 1910 vintage. In the house, which provided little walking space, was the minutiæ of years—bottles, cardboard boxes, magazines, newspapers, cleaned tin cans, and hundreds of other trivia.

"Those things might come in handy some day," the centenarian used to shout thru his long, white beard at curiosity seekers.

23 Years Older Than Village.

The last pioneer of the district, Jackson was seven years older than the township of Barrington and 23 years older than the village. During the Civil war he had been known as "Stonewall" Jackson when he was the head and only member of the Barrington police force. The ancient firearms with which he protected his farm were those he had used as marshal.

Surviving are his son, Harvey, 69 years old, and daughter, Grace, with whom he resided, and two other daughters, Mrs. John Battin of Elgin, and Mrs. Robert Brandt of Barrington. There are four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from Peter's funeral chapel in Algonquin. Burial will be in Smith cemetery in Barrington township.

BOY, 17, ADMITS RAPING GIRL, 4, AND KILLING HER

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 7 (AP).—Police Lt. Michael Daugherty quoted a 17 year old boy as saying today he choked, raped, and buried in the cellar of his home a 4 year old neighbor girl whom he had coddled as a baby.

The body was dug up by the fathers of Earl Perry, the boy, and the missing Theresa Williams early today when a sister of the youth told them she had seen him digging in the cellar, Daugherty added. Williams, a mail truck driver, collapsed at the sight of the child, scratched, nude from the waist down, and her clothing torn.

Daugherty quoted Mrs. Adolph Williams, the mother, as saying between sobs:

"I can't understand it. When she was a baby, he [Earl] pushed her baby carriage and carried her in his arms. He even put her to sleep for me many times. I was good to him. I allowed him to walk in and out of my house like a son."

WPA Built Dubuque Airport 'Washed Out'

Dubuque, Ia., April 7 [Special].—Dubuque's municipal airport, constructed several years ago with WPA funds on an island in the Mississippi river, was abandoned today because of the annual spring rise of the river. Airplanes were moved to temporary quarters.

Attempts Suicide Over Fears for Soldier Mate

Worry over the possibility that her husband, a sergeant in the army, might be sent overseas caused Mrs. Madge Michelsen, 40 years old, of 3461 Madison street, to attempt to commit suicide, she said yesterday. Mrs. Michelsen was revived by a fire department inhalator squad after she had turned on the gas at her home. Her husband, Sergt. H. S. Michelsen, is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

TRAINING PLANE CRACKUPS TAKE 9 LIVES IN TEXAS

6 More Killed in Florida in 2 Mishaps.

San Antonio, Tex., April 7 (AP).—Two army officers and three cadets from the Hondo Navigation school were killed today in the second of two training plane crashes within a few hours in Texas when their twin engined ship crashed 12 miles north of Leakey, Tex.

The victims of this crash were: 2d Lt. Robert Lee McReynolds, 24 years old, Mangum, Okla., the pilot; 2d Lt. John H. Edgvean, 23, Baltimore, O., navigator; Cadet Don E. Lantz, 21, Bradner, O.; Cadet Rollie H. Lesher, 24, Borger, Tex., and Cadet Daniel E. McGurren, 24, Sedalia, Mo.

Four army flyers from the central instructors' school at Randolph field were killed in a midair collision of two twin-motored training planes last night.

Four More Die in Midair Crash.

Fort Myers, Fla., April 7 (AP).—Collision of two advanced training planes at Buckingham field yesterday brought death to four army airmen, public relations officers announced today.

The dead: 2d Lt. James Wilbert Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.; Flight Officer Ivan G. Fulwider, 313 East Bowman street, South Bend, Ind.; Corp. Gluster G. Gillespie, Ivydale, W. Va.; Pvt. Robert D. Heggem, Denver, Colo.

Two Officers Killed.

Kissimmee, Fla., April 7 (AP).—Two flying officers were killed yesterday when their pursuit plane crashed west of Haines City, the public relations office at the army air base here said today. They were: 1st Lt. Benjamin M. Morehouse of Oakland, Cal., and 2d Lt. James H. G. Jellum of Del Norte, Colo.

Find Clew to Four Flyers.

Walla Walla, Wash., April 7 (AP).—Ground crews were dispatched today to investigate a crudely fashioned sign of three branches in central Idaho in the hope of finding at least one of four members of a Walla Walla bomber crew missing since they parachuted from their plane near Challis, Idaho, a week ago.

JURORS CHOSEN FOR 'LOWER 13' SLAYING TRIAL

Albany, Ore., April 7 (AP).—Thirteen jurors, eight women and five men, were tentatively accepted today in the murder trial of Robert E. Lee Folkes, 20 year old Negro dining car cook, for the Pullman car slaying of a navy officer's bride.

Testimony is expected to begin tomorrow.

The jurors, including an alternate, were questioned closely as to their racial feelings, and accepted by the defense as court adjourned for the day.

The jury panel of 40 was exhausted and 15 additional members were ordered added to the venire before court reconvenes tomorrow.

Quizzed on Racial Feelings.

Defense Atty. Leroy Lomax of Portland questioned almost every Juryman on his racial feelings. He rejected several.

Folkes was indicted on a charge of slashing the throat of Mrs. Martha Virginia Brinson James, 21, Virginia-born bride of a navy ensign as she lay in her berth—lower 13—on a train speeding toward California last January 23.

All witnesses were excluded from the courtroom at the request of Lomax, who gave no reason for the action.

No Defense Witnesses.

District Atty. Harlow Weinrich wanted to know if Lomax meant to exclude "defense witnesses, too?"

"The defense will have no witnesses," Lomax answered. But later he arranged for another attorney to take his place if he should decide to take the witness stand himself.

Wilbur G. Brinson of Norfolk, father of the slain girl, arrived in Albany but was not present for the opening session.

Also in town but absent from the courtroom was Ensign Richard F. James who was in another section of the train when his bride of four months was killed.

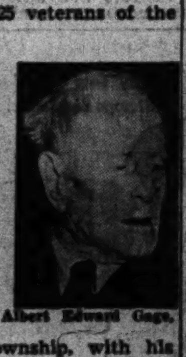
A. E. GAGE DIES, LOYAL MARCHER IN CITY PARADES

Faithful G.A.R. Veteran Is 97; 24 Left in State.

Albert Edward Gage, one of Illinois' remaining 25 veterans of the Civil war who for years had been a colorful fixture of every Chicagoland patriotic parade and observance, died yesterday in his home at the age of 97.



Albert Edward Gage.

He lived in a little house in the solitude of the Che-Che-Pin-qua forest preserve, Leyden township, with his wife, Mary, 60, who was his third mate. His last illness began shortly after he made a perennial appearance on Feb. 12 to pay homage again to his commander in chief, Abraham Lincoln.

Maj. Gage, as his friends called him, was born in Chicago Aug. 19, 1845. At 16 he joined company F of the 37th Illinois infantry and subsequently saw action in many battles, particularly at Pea Ridge and Sugar Creek, Ark.

Joined Ozarks Guerrillas.

He served as a private until Feb. 6, 1864, when he joined government guerrilla bands and for two years ranged the Missouri Ozarks.

Clara F. Hoover, secretary of the Illinois Grand Army of the Republic, who said his death reduced the number of Illinois Civil war veterans to 24, disclosed he had been wounded in action, tho he had not mentioned it publicly, and had been awarded the Order of the Purple Heart.

He had claimed he was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and the World war, too. Gage organized the Blue and Gray Legion during the war with Spain and was a guard in Chicago in 1917.

Fought Without Enmity.

Philosophically, when he had a chance to reminisce with comrades at their reunions, Gage said there was a vast difference in wars.

"We never bore any personal enmity against the people we fought," he said. "Nowadays they just hate and hate."

Maj. Gage was reputed to be the last member of the Old Glory post of the G. A. R. In addition to his widow, he is said to have two sons by his first marriage living in California.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 1253 North Clark street. Burial will be in the Old Glory post lot in Arlington cemetery, Lake street and York road.

OBITUARIES

Y. Ovan Duchich.

Y. Ovan Duchich, who was Jugoslav minister to Spain until 18 months ago when he took a leave because of ill health, died yesterday in the home of his cousin, M. M. Duchich in Gary. He was 73 years old. Since living with his cousin, Mr. Duchich had devoted his time to writing. He was the author of a number of poems and of a history of Serbia, recently published. He was unmarried, and had spent his adult life in the diplomatic service, serving in Turkey and Rumania as well as in Spain.

DeWitt G. Fenstermaker.

Funeral services for DeWitt G. Fenstermaker, a retired district civil engineer of the Milwaukee road, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 192 South York street, Bensenville. Mr. Fenstermaker, who worked for the railroad 26 years, died Tuesday in his home at 334 South Maple avenue, Itasca, Ill. He was 69 years old and a member of theh American Society of Civil Engineers and of McKinley camp, Spanish War Veterans. His widow, Elsie, a brother and four sisters survive.

Mrs. Eber F. Ballard.

Funeral services for Mrs. Eber F. Ballard, Rogers Park clubwoman, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at her home, 1719 Chase avenue. Mrs. Ballard, who was 65 years old, died Monday in Ravenswood hospital. She was a member of Lake View Women's club, the Rogers Park Women's club, and the board of the women's auxiliary of Ravenswood hospital. She is survived by her husband, an employe in the claim and insurance department of the Pennsylvania railroad, a son and a daughter.

Arthur R. Joyce.

Arthur R. Joyce, of Wayne, long known as an authority in the railway tie and timber business, died suddenly yesterday in Marietta, O., where he was an official of the Koppers company. He was 59 years old, and a former vice president of the Joyce Watkins company. He was a past president of the American Wood Preservers' association. His widow, Armine; a son, William, and a daughter, Jessie, survive. Funeral services will be held in Marietta at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

John W. Tuohy.

John W. Tuohy, retired lieutenant of the fire prevention bureau of the Chicago fire department, died at the age of 33 yesterday in Woodlawn hospital. A member of the department since 1929, Lt. Tuohy was retired from active service in 1938. Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday from St. Columbanus church, 71st street and Calumet avenue. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Berry Tuohy, 5745 South Peoria street; his parents, two sisters, and a brother.

Dr. John Benjamin Magee.

Mount Vernon, Ia., April 7 (AP).—Dr. John Benjamin Magee, 55 years old, president of Cornell college, died at Excelsior Springs, Mo., yesterday following a heart attack. A native of Albion, Ia., Dr. Magee was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1908. Prior to becoming head of Cornell college in 1939, he held pastorates in Saint Albans, Vt.; El Reno, Okla.; Wichita, Kas.; Kansas City, Mo.; Pittsburgh, Penn., and Seattle, Wash. His widow and four children survive.

Simon Stachnik.

Funeral services for Simon Stachnik, father of Assistant State's Atty. Roman R. Stachnik and 10 other children, will be held at 9:30 a. m. today from the chapel at 2046 West 23d street to St. Ann's church. Mr. Stachnik, who was 63 years old, died Sunday in St. Anthony's hospital. He was a woodworker and came here from Poland 40 years ago with his wife, Victoria, who survives. Mr. Stachnik formerly was president of two locals of the Polish Roman Catholic union.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ameter Trotter.

Services for Mrs. Elizabeth Ameter Trotter, 40 years old, who died yesterday in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, will be held at 4 p. m. today in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Lake street and Chicago avenue, Evanston. Mrs. Trotter, who was the wife of Hugh Berry Trotter, lived at 1100 South boulevard, Evanston. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Hugh Jr., and Robert Charles.

Joseph S. Matura Sr.

Services for Joseph S. Matura Sr., veteran postoffice employé, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow in the chapel at 6227 Cermak road, Berwyn. Mr. Matura, who died Monday in his home at 2425 South Highland avenue, Berwyn, was 63 years old. He retired three years ago as a supervisor at the main postoffice, after 34 years in the postal service. He is survived by his widow, Anna, and four sons.

Maj. Maurice Schmalhausen.

Maj. Maurice Schmalhausen, 33 years old, son of Mrs. Rose Schmalhausen, 1724 East 56th street, died suddenly Tuesday at Laredo, Tex., according to word received by his mother yesterday. He leaves his widow and a small daughter, who lived with him in Laredo. Maj. Schmalhausen was a brother-in-law of Assistant State's Atty. Maurice Mettel.

Mrs. Gertrude Bradley Seeberger.

Mrs. Gertrude Bradley Seeberger, wife of Louis A. Seeberger, retired real estate man, died yesterday while visiting in Princeton, N. J. In Chicago, she made her home in the Pearson hotel, 190 East Pearson street. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Frank Cist of Del Ray Beach, Fla. Private funeral services will be held in Chicago.

Mrs. Hazel James Neal.

The funeral of Mrs. Hazel James Neal, wife of Reginald J. Neal, president of the Drexel National bank, will be held at 3 p. m. today in St. James Methodist Episcopal church, 46th street and Ellis avenue. Mrs. Neal died yesterday in her home at 1201 Madison Park. She was 53 years old. Burial will be in Good Hope, Ill., her birthplace.

Adolph M. Rosenthal.

Adolph M. Rosenthal, president of the Moses R. Rosenthal company, manufacturers of men's underwear at 234 South Franklin street, died last night in the Passavant hospital. He was 61 years old. His home was at 210 Belle avenue, Highland Park. Surviving are his widow, Frances, and two daughters, Jean and Kate.

John H. Corby.

John H. Corby, a retired manufacturer's agent, died yesterday in his home in the Clayton hotel, 2026 North Clark street. He was 66 years old. When young he was active in north side Democratic politics. His brother, Francis, and a sister, Mrs. Cathryn Ridgeway, survive. The funeral will be at 9 a. m., tomorrow, in St. Ignatius church.

C. T. ROTHERMEL, EX-BANKER AND BROKER, 52, DIES

Charles T. Rothermel, real estate broker and former banker, died suddenly of a heart attack yesterday in his home at 540 Lincoln avenue, Glencoe. He was 52 years old. Mr. Rothermel, member of an early Chicago family, was born at Jackson and Oakley boulevards, and educated in Chicago public schools and the University of Chicago.

He entered the real estate business for himself, and later became vice president of the State Bank of Chicago. When that bank was merged with the Foreman State bank, he was elevated to executive vice president of the latter bank in charge of real estate. He remained until its close, then joined the Chicago Title and Trust company. There Mr. Rothermel specialized in liquidation work during the depression years, eventually opening his own business.

Mr. Rothermel leaves his widow, Louise, and two sons, Ensign William H. III. of Washington, D. C., and Lt. Charles T. Jr. of Bowman field, Ky. Funeral services will be held at the Glencoe Union church at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Bob Becker

April 7, 1943.

THE first purple martin scout to drop in at the farm this season was observed Monday morning. This bird probably looked over the possibilities of parking its squad in one of the nesting boxes always available to the martins. Altho this first bird to visit the farm this season was late as compared with the March 27 arrival of the first martin scouts last year, he was none the less welcome, because martins are useful guests and the farm is glad to provide accommodations for several colonies.

How stormy or balmy the weather is in March or early April controls the martin migration into Chicagoland. Last year March brought mild weather that encouraged the martins to hurry into the midwest. In some years the birds have been known to appear as early as March 23. But April 1 is considered early for the martins to come into Chicagoland.

April 15 Average.

Records kept for many years on the appearance of these beneficial birds show their average arrival date is about April 15. The martin that one of the men observed Monday therefore was ahead of the average.

It must be quite a change to these insectivorous birds to come north from the hot Amazon valley in Brazil, where insect life is abundant, pass thru the southern states, where the sun is warmer and food more abundant for the birds than it is here in early April, and then come into Chicagoland, where on cold days it must be rather difficult for them to find many insects. When the sun shines and south winds bring rises in temperatures, insect life hatches out in April which means adequate meals for the martins. [During the recent warm spell we even saw the first butterflies of the season.]

Touch of Rationing.

But fickle spring [in this latitude] mixes up warm days with very chilly weather, and on days when we have a touch of winter in the air the martins must learn all about rationing when it comes time for them to eat, because insect meals are necessarily small in quantity in cold weather.

The martins, however, have more trouble with sparrows and starlings than any other factor involving their settling down in Chicagoland. Bird fans provide plenty of well made nesting boxes for them in the suburbs and the country, but if these apartments are put up too early and left open, the sparrows and starlings will move in. Both of these species nest much earlier than martins. Once they have taken over a nesting box it's not too easy for the martins to oust them.

All of the peas to be grown in the two vegetable gardens on the Wheaton farm have been seeded. The gardener is planting three varieties this season—Little Marvel, Dwarf Defiance, and Giant Stride.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

THE gardener on the Wheaton farm now is working in two plots. One is the small sample garden, 25x30 feet, and the other is the large farm garden, which is 510 feet long and 60 feet wide.

Eight rows of the small garden were planted on April 1, and yesterday the gardener planted Bibb variety head lettuce in the ninth row.

The large garden is completely plowed and the north half of the plot has been prepared for seeding. The large plot is a long rectangle running east and west. Consequently the rows will run east and west for easy cultivation with power machinery.

The row on the extreme north is being saved for tomato plants and yesterday the gardener seeded rows 2, 3, 4, and 5 with three varieties of peas. Little Marvel peas will grow in row 2, Dwarf Defiance in row 3, and Giant Stride in rows 4 and 5.

No additional planting of peas will be made on the farm this year. This vegetable demands an early start for a successful crop and the gardener believes that April 15 is the deadline for planting this vegetable in northern Illinois.

FARM LANDS

Florida.

FLORIDA TUNG OIL AND CITRUS GROVE, LOCATED ON PAVED ROAD FOUR MILES FROM THRIVING TOWN. If you are financially situated to invest $7,500.00 in a young Tung Oil and Citrus grove now, with the expectation of having a Florida home with income, within the next few years, this offers you that opportunity.

Farm constitutes 150 acres. Eighty acres are planted in Tung Oil trees (72 trees to the acre). In addition, a grove of 40 orange and grapefruit trees, and 40 Pecan trees are now growing. Also a nursery is planted with 8,000 Tung Oil seedlings that can be either sold or replanted next year.

Other plantings include 20 acres of peanuts and sweet potatoes which can be harvested in 90 days, or will fatten 40 hogs. Hogs fattened on land are bringing profits today of from $25.00 to $30.00 per head. There are 15 acres of cleared land remaining unplanted and 30 acres of heavily wooded hammock land.

Buyer can take over immediately or arrangements can be made for a competent caretaker until new owner can take charge. The hammock land is an ideal location for a homesite.

If you can make this investment now, and have a desire to live in Florida sunshine now or later, arrangements will be made immediately to take you to Florida and show you this 150 acre farm. This farm must be sold at once, and is priced at one-half its value. Terms cash. For particulars Address K X 16, Tribune.

In Memoriam.

BURNS—Frank Burns. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away one year ago today.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
"Gone but not forgotten."
LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

FRANKS—Agnes R. Franks. In fond memory of our dear mother, who passed away two years ago.
HER LOVING CHILDREN

FRANKS—Agnes R. Franks. A loving tribute to the memory of my beloved mother, who passed away two years ago today. DAUGHTER DORA.

LUNDEN—Augusta S. Lunden. In loving memory of my grandmother, who passed away three years ago today.
"Friends may think I have forgotten
When at times they see me smile;
Little do they know the heartaches
That my smile hides all the while.
How often do I tread the path
That leads me to the grave
Where rests the one I loved so well,
But whom I could not save.
Long days, long nights, you bore your pain
Waiting for a cure, but all in vain.
God saw that you were suffering
And that the hills were hard to climb,
So He closed your weary eyes
And whispered, Peace be thine."
LOVING GRANDSON CARL.

MENDELSOHN—Jacob L. and Louis Mendelsohn. In cherished memory of my beloved brother and father. EDITH M. MAYER.

MESCHER—Gussie Mescher, 1941. In loving memory of my dear mother. LUCILLE.

Janet Brown to Become Bride of Lt. Ralph C. Hamill May 22

BY JUDITH CASS.

MISS JANET BROWN'S two-day visit to Chicago last week was devoted to trousseau shopping, for she and Lt. Ralph C. Hamill Jr. have decided to be married on May 22. Miss Brown made the quick trip out from Smith college, where she is a senior, and her mother, Mrs. William Bruce Brown of Wheaton, came north from the family's winter home in Ocean Springs, Miss., to join her. At present Mrs. Brown is staying with another daughter, Mrs. Dudley F. Jessop, in whose Winnetka home the small afternoon ceremony will take place on the 22d.

Mr. Brown and the third daughter of the family, Miss Ruth Brown, still are in Mississippi, where the latter is working for the army air forces at Kessler field, but both will come north for the wedding. Ruth will be her sister's only attendant.

The bride-to-be expects to arrive in Chicago about a week before the ceremony, as she is not remaining at Smith for the graduation exercises. Her fiancé, however, will receive only a brief leave from his post at Camp Hale, Colo., so there probably will not be time for a round of parties before the wedding. Lt. Hamill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Hamill of Winnetka, is in the army ski troops.

Josephine Wallace Picks May 15 as Wedding Date.

Another wedding even more uncertain as to detail is that of Miss Josephine Wallace and Richard Wood KixMiller. They have set May 15 as the date of their marriage, but they still don't know whether the ceremony will take place in New York or Washington, D. C., or in the Winnetka residence of the bride's father, Walter Franklin Wallace.

Miss Wallace's mother, Mrs. Harry E. Miller, will be coming next week from her home in Madison, N. J., to help complete the wedding plans. Mr. KixMiller, son of the William KixMillers of Wilmette, is in the office of the rubber director in Washington.

Jean Granstrand's Troth to Anson Cameron Told.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Granstrand of Evanston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Anson Wheaton Cameron, son of Mrs. Anson Cameron of East Division street and Delavan, Wis. Miss Granstrand is a junior in the college of liberal arts at Northwestern university. Her fiancé, a graduate of the Boys' Latin school, is a junior in Northwestern's technological institute and is enrolled in the naval reserve officers' training corps.

The Homer W. Dixons soon may feel as if they have dropped back a generation, for, having reared seven children, they shortly will find their apartment overrun again with babies. Mrs. Wallace Wakem [Lucia Dixon] is there with her baby for the duration, as Capt. Wakem has left for service overseas with the army, and now that Alexander C. Fletcher has gone into the navy his wife, the former Ethel Dixon, and her two youngsters may join the family group at home. Mrs. Fletcher and the children are arriving from Minneapolis next week. Mrs. Fletcher probably will leave them with her parents while she goes to Quonset, R. I., for Mr. Fletcher's graduation from his indoctrination course.

Mrs. George W. Merck Jr. Back Home from Florida.

Mrs. George W. Merck Jr. returned yesterday from the Jupiter Island club in Hobe Sound, Fla. Her mother, Mrs. Edward H. Bennett, and Mr. Bennett were with her earlier in the season, but returned to Lake Forest two weeks ago. On the first of May Mrs. Merck and Mrs. Joseph W. Sampsell and the latter's infant daughter, Anne, will move into the late Charles T. Atkinson's Lake Forest house, which the two young women will share while their husbands, Ensign Merck and Lt. Sampsell, are away.

At its 3 o'clock meeting today the Alliance Française will hear a causerie on "Pearls of the Orient" by Mm. Odette Feinstein. Mrs. Grover Winston will be hostess at tea, assister by her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Kerner, and Mrs. Ralph Winston. While Lt. Kerner is serving overseas with the army air forces, his wife has returned to Chicago and taken an apartment in Lake Shore drive.

Altho the alliance's regular Saturday morning meetings have been discontinued for the season, there will be a special gathering on Saturday, at which members of the Evanston French club will present two short plays.

Designers Drop War Gardens on Top of New Easter Bonnets

Designers have dumped their war gardens onto Easter hats. A seed catalog now serves as a guidebook to good grooming. The bits of froth which women will pin to their heads on April 25 bob with bees and butterflies, fruits, and vegetables.

A preview in exclusive salons where paces for parades are set, resembles a girl's game of fruit basket upset. There's a shallow citron straw strung with bananas and known to the salesgirls as "Yes, We Have No Bananas." There's a scarlet scoop heaped with strawberries, some still not quite ripe, for they're a yellow green. With another, loaded with radishes, these hats are called the "War Garden Specials."

A boy's bicycle clip strung with roses, hyacinths, and valley lilies is a head clinger to sit behind ladies' pompadours. A triangle of pink straw that might have been sliced from a watermelon is abloom with burgundy flowers even a Girl Scout couldn't identify.

There's a secret behind this floral fantasy. The designers believe men are bored with military modes and are aching for the feminine flutters of pre-war Easters. They're saving materials by making most chapeaux so small they're just a handful of blooms and veiling.

One thing is sure. There'll be no hat chases down Michigan avenue Easter Sunday. The bonnets come equipped with pins, combs, clips, chin ribbons, and veiling sashes to hold them secure. Should there be need of further anchorage, one store features a series of "Them Gremlin" hat pins.

A coronet of lilies decked with green satin bows has two side combs to slip into the hair. A paunchy pancake of black straw faced with pink ties under the chin. "Tintype," a navy blue felt sailor with a band of red and white pique flowers, is tied at the back of the head with felt bands.

Baby bonnets have set a whole new trend. One, of black lattice work net, swoops low over the ears and dangles white crocuses down each side. Water lilies perch on both sides of another to give the wearer a Chinese look.

"Hearts and Flowers," a collection of every fruit and flower known to man, sprinkled on pale blue straw, boasts a bluebird in its garden and another clinging to the yards of veiling which will swathe a woman's shoulder. A feather butterfly holds two green and white chrysanthemums to a white straw tricorne.

There are a few "Greta Garbo" hats for ladies who want to be alone. One, of red straw, swoops down over the face like a mushroom and any sentry would have to challenge the wearer.

Thru the Looking Glass

That breath of spring note is what we're looking for in bath glorifiers these days. It's been a long, dreary winter, and just about now we find a springlike cologne or soap or dusting powder as much of a tonic as a shoulder bouquet of freesia.

And such things can be found, at little price, to lift us out of the doldrums. We opened a bottle, the other day, of an old favorite of ours, a cologne in one of the brightest, cleanest, and dancingest scents we know. It's heather, and in character it is just what it ought to be with a name like that. Makes you think of sunswept, fragrant fields. It's not so sweet that it makes you nod; tho it has a certain sweetness it's the peppy, uplifting variety, which seems to us just what we need to ward off spring fever and boredoom with the in-between weather and clothes.

This is distinctly inexpensive, altho it's daintily packaged and absolutely tops in quality. There is delightful pink soap to match, and we suggest that you treat yourself to it. It lathers lusciously, scents the skin and the bath water a little and all in all makes you feel pretty, much like a fastidious lady. It's pretty to look at, too.

Or, if you want to splurge a little bit—not so much with money as with the sensation of wallowing in dainty luxury, try an ensemble of three bath trimmings in this—the cologne, the chubby pink cake or cakes of soap, and a tall shaker of talc. This will take you thru a beauty bath and a spirit lifting one from start to finish. You'll feel wonderfully fresh and somehow luxurious. And if you're a hard worker, this alone is a tonic.

Southern Woman's Club to Elect Officers Today

The Southern Woman's club of Chicago will elect officers for the coming year at an 11 o'clock meeting today in the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. George Hanley Nippert, president, said the new officers will be installed at the club's spring luncheon on Thursday, April 22. Cards in the afternoon will follow the morning business session.

Fabrics Dotted in White Are Sign of Spring

BY REA SEEGER.

The first spring time rash breaking out around the town is white dotted clothing and the first showings of white dotted materials. These dotted fabrics are perennial arrivals, looking as fresh, crisp, and new as the first crocus or daffodil. even tho they are perennials, they never fail to click. Many shoppers prefer this dotted stuff to any printed design. Cool, precise, dotted prints come in every possible size from pin points to the eye-catching big discs the size of a half dollar.

Background contrasts provide the important color schemes. Navy, black, brown, copper, green, beige, white, French pink, sapphire blue, and other shades are available. Fabrics also feature dotted qipué to be used for play and garden frocks because it tubs week after week with the smooth performance only cotton can achieve. Airy, dotted Swisses are favored for aprons, blouses, or summer daytime suits and dresses, as are the spun rayons, together with smooth cottons like broadcloth, and even seersucker.

Many of the smartest blouses designed for suit contrast are made of dotted materials, usually the soft, smooth surah silks, or effective shantungs, and crepes. Thin cottons also boast the contrast of dots and make ideal blouses or gilets, hats, and bags.

Dramatically dotted one piece dresses are the smartest models in the current showings of spring clothes, especially when the dots are of the huge variety. Such a dress is simply cut, with enough flatly pressed pleats in the skirt to allow for a graceful silhouette. Bodices also are simple in outline, usually with turnover collar line.

The most fragrant fashion note of the week is the beautiful rose show now in progress; dozens of your favorite blooms ranging from hauntingly fragrant white roses, and spicy red and pink, to the butter yellows are arranged in all manner of effective combinations. Three pinned to your bag, a coronet for the hair, bracelets, and massed chest pin effects to wear high on the shoulder, are some of the flattering new ideas of what you can enjoy with real roses—the most romantic of all flowers.

Gay Mexican Motifs

BY NANCY CABOT.

If your Mexican travel is limited, these "south of the border" hot iron transfer motifs will assuage any grief. They are ideal for luncheon cloths, towels, potholders, curtains, or clothing decorations. Thirty-five motifs allow a wide choice for any purpose. The designs measure approximately 2 by 2 inches.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the 35th south of the border motif, No. 575, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Negro Scouts in South Plead for Equipment

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

The following appeal comes from a clergyman in a small town in Mississippi. We feel sure that discarded equipment of the sort he requests is lying idle in many homes, and hope that our readers will pass it on to aid this good work among underprivileged children.

"We have organized a Negro Boy Scout troop here in our school hoping thereby to foster an active sense of patriotism and at the same time help these poor boys enjoy the character and health-building scout program. The majority of the lads come from very needy families, living in cabins in the country. They cannot afford any scouting or camping equipment. For that reason, I appeal to all who may have scout uniforms, messkits, tents, or similar items in their homes. If you no longer need them, will you please donate them to our troop?"

The troop number and address will be provided to any interested reader.

New England Group.

The Chicago Colony of New England today will welcome a number of army air force men as special guests at luncheon in the Blackstone hotel.

Classic Dress Designs

These two classic models are the kind you "live in" spring and summer. One is a back-buttoned pinafore-jumper; the other is a coat frock which buttons down the front. Many types of fabrics are suitable for these frocks.

Style No. 2902 is designed for sizes 11 to 19. Size 15 requires 2¾ yards of 35 inch fabric for jumper; for blouse, 1⅝ yards.

Style No. 2564 is designed for sizes 16 to 20 and 36 to 50. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard contrasting.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The spring pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Very often, slam bidding is a hit or miss affair with the result in the laps of the gods. As practiced by expert partnerships, however, a slam contract may represent a series of bids, every one of which is a gem of logic.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 diamond	Double	1 heart
2 spades	3 diamonds	3 spades	Pass
4 diamonds	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

There was nothing to the play: Twelve tricks were safe for the declarer against any defense. It is to be feared, however, that not many pairs would arrive at this excellent contract with the same assurance of success. Let us analyze each bid.

South's original pass needs no comment. He had a good hand but not the two plus honor tricks required even with a six card major suit. West's diamond bid speaks for itself. North's double was sound, altho he had nothing to spare.

East's heart bid directly over this double was not entirely logical, despite the fact that such a call can be based on comparative weakness, rather than strength. If East wanted to take any action, he might have chosen two diamonds.

South's two spade bid over one heart is worth mentioning. This was the correct call. South had passed originally altho holding a hand within a plus value of an opening bid, and with excellent distribution he naturally wanted to encourage his partner toward game and possibly toward a slam. West's diamond rebid was normal and so was North's spade raise. The fact that South had bid two spades over one heart made North's Q-9-3 good support.

The first constructive step toward the slam was taken by South when he cue bid the opponents' diamond suit. This cue bid was of enormous value to North. The latter could now completely discount his own weakness in diamonds, and not having to watch out for "duplication of values" [which would have been the case if North had held a high honor in diamonds] was now justified in making a cue bid on his own account. His four heart call resolved South's doubts about his low doubleton in that suit, and South now tested out the club situation. The five club bid was the final link in the chain of information required by North. His own club support was such that he could count on filling South's suit and now that such an excellent all-around fit had been discovered, a slam became an overwhelming probability. Acting on that judgment, North properly jumped from five clubs to six spades.

Little Pianist Is Big Success with Symphony

Ten year old June Kovach, a pretty, little girl in daffodil yellow, with daisies in her hair, was soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon, playing the second and third movements of Mendelssohn's Piano Concerto in G minor under the direction of Hans Lange. The occasion was a "Young People's" concert which had children sprouting even from the sides of the stage itself.

The little pianist's success was direct, unmistakable, and deserved. It was not so much that she played the presto with momentum, fluency, and a nice sense of timing, but that she had for the slow movement an instinctive warmth of phrasing that caught the fragrance of the music. Mr. Lange sustained and displayed the small soloist with an expert accompaniment in miniature.

The concert opened with a demonstration of percussion instruments that would interest any adult audience, particularly now that so many South American instruments have invaded the repertory. Each instrument, from celesta to schellenbaum and marimba to glockenspiel, was duly put on display, then all were played together in a nimble skirmish composed by David Van Vactor of the flute section. He calls it "Hey Betty Martin." C. C.

BY RUTH MACKAY

If You Think You're Busy.

If you think you're busy, stop at the OPA central rationing office and look at 98 pounds of efficiency sitting at a desk, competently untangling the food problems of distraught housewives, not to mention confused wholesalers, distributors, retailers, and institutions such as hospitals, hotels, convents, and restaurants.

She is Helene Sheridan, secretary to F. J. Sloup, state food rationing representative. Her four phones ring all the time and never one at a time! She answers each question with the same interest and pleasantness as tho she had just heard it for the first time and not the 999th time. A modern marvel of poise, diplomacy, and insight!

People are surprisingly flexible, she finds. "They just want to know what is expected of them and what they can expect," she concludes, which possibly accounts for her reasonableness and consideration. She always gives her name and tries to get each person's name, for she is eager for the public to feel there is individual thought given to each problem.

"How long are my meat stamps good?" . . . "My 13 year old boy wants his coffee." . . . "What do I do about my special diet?" . . . "If I raise rabbits and sell them do I need a license?" . . . "My son is home on furlough. How can I get a thick steak for him?" . . . "O, dear, I've lost my ration book." . . . "My wife runs my grocery, but she can't keep the ration points straight." . . . These are a sample of the woes that came to her desk during my short visit.

Two problems are the most common: Homemakers do not understand that once meat stamps become valid they are good until the end of the period [April 30]. And retailers do not understand that for commodities that deteriorate, application can be made to the local boards to reduce the number of ration points required for their purchase.

"It's the haves and the have nots," Mrs. Sheridan said, smiling. "Some stores have meat and no customers. . . . Some have customers and no meat."

For Your War Service.

The National Security Woman's corps, a volunteer organization composed at present of 38,000 women, the majority in business, is organizing a Chicago chapter under the direction of Lt. Betty Krohn, 154 East Superior street. The national head of recruiting is flying to Chicago today to help in the organization. New York has 11 units of 180 members each. Washington also has an active chapter. The membership is without fee [except the cost of uniform] and is open to women from 16 to 60 who are American citizens. Meetings will be held in the evening. The standard first aid course and regulation military drill under army or navy supervision are compulsory. Special units can be set up for business firms, and all units work with vital accredited agencies, such as the Red Cross and the OCD.

Among those assisting her are Miss Grace Bull, Mrs. John Ruttinger, Mrs. Oscar G. Mayer Jr., and Mrs. L. Gifford Gardner. During the afternoon a speaker will tell of the work of nurses' aids. Miss Evelyn Gardner, Miss Priscilla Burr, and Miss Bull are among the Connecticut alumnae doing nurses' aid work.

President and Mrs. Franklyn B. Snyder of Northwestern university will give a dinner party tonight in their home for Dr. William Allan Neilson, who served as president of Smith college from 1917 to 1939. At 8:15 o'clock Dr. Neilson will deliver the Norman Wait Harris Foundation lecture in Lutkin hall at the university. His talk will be open to the public without charge and will be entitled "The Function of a University."

Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams III., Mrs. Allan M. Clement, Miss Emily Goehst, Mrs. Arthur Cutten, and Mrs. Henry Pope are some of those who will be having luncheon with the Easter seal committee of the Illinois Association for the Crippled on Saturday at the University club. The special luncheon guest will be Roddy McDowell, young English star of the movie, "How Green Was My Valley," who is arriving in Chicago that day to help the public school children with their sale of Easter seals for the benefit of crippled children.

Lt. Gardner's Sister Working at Shipyard.

John B. Gardner, now a lieutenant [j. g.] in the navy, is stationed in Marmon, Okla., the only place in the world, he says, where one can stand knee deep in mud and have dust blow in his eyes. Lt. Gardner's mother, Mrs. Frank Gardner, has returned to Highland Park from California, where she lived temporarily, but her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Gardner, remained in the west and is pursuing a career at the Kaiser shipyards.

Lt. [j. g.] Ralph Rockwood, son of the Ralph K. Rockwoods of Winnetka, passed thru town a few days ago on his way to attend a gunnery school in Washington, D. C., from Alaska.

If Ralph A. Bard, assistant secretary of the navy, returns to Washington from Pearl Harbor by way of Chicago later this week he will be able to see his son, Ralph Jr., and his wife and their two children, who moved to Highland Park just as most of the other members of the family moved away. The former Janet Bard and her husband, Thomas J. Johnson Jr., who now is a captain in the ferry command, are living in Cincinnati, O. The former Kathryn Bard and her husband, Martin Elyot Manulis, who now is a lieutenant in the navy, recently became the parents of a daughter, Laurie Bard, in New York. Mrs. Manulis is doing radio work.

Plans Are Completed for WAACs' Parade and Review Saturday

Plans have been completed for a parade and battalion review of 500 WAACs to be held Saturday, starting at 12:30 o'clock. Three WAAC companies of 150 each, ordered to Chicago from Fort Des Moines, Ia., Fort Custer, Mich., and Camp Grant, will march from the Civic opera building to the large Grant park playground east of the Art institute, where the review will take place under the direction of Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand.

Features of the battalion review, the first ever seen anywhere outside the WAAC training centers, will include a WAAC band under the direction of Auxiliary Celia Merrill of Detroit, a composer who has had one opera produced and another under consideration. Military matters of the band are supervised by 2d Officer Harriette Gould, herself a musician and composer.

At the conclusion of the review 3d Officer Cornelia Groenveld will conduct a mass induction of a new group of enrollees and Corp. Verna Nelson, a former member of the St. Paul Opera company, and now stationed at Fort Sheridan, will sing the national anthem.

Presbyterian Hospital Gives These Three to Nursing

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Scrubbed and fresh looking as the shining nurses one dreams of are Miss Wynne King, Miss Marjorie Hyde, and Miss Marguerite Knox (left to right). Miss Knox was graduated last year from the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, and the other two will finish their three years' course in September. The last nursing class, which opened on March 22, was a capacity one, for nurses are needed desperately in war time.

THE STAGE . . . . By Cecil Smith

Two impresarios of popular priced theater who found Detroit a gold mine last year have now rather abruptly discovered the untapped potentialities of Chicago. Yesterday I presented a report on Frank McCoy, whose production of "Stage Door" has initiated a series of revivals at the Studebaker theater.

No less successful in Detroit, and no less eager to make an impression upon Chicago, is Henry Duffy, who for 17 years did more than any other single man to keep flesh and blood theater alive on the Pacific coast, where the hot breath of the movies tends to wither the legitimate stage. Mr. Duffy has now taken over the handsome and superbly equipped Wilson theater in Detroit. The house, a white elephant during most of its 12 years of existence, has suddenly begun to pay handsome returns to its present manager.

Having astutely decided that Detroit needed a variety show, he put one together, after the formula of "Priorities of 1942." He sells a good deal of talent and a generous ration of laughs for the moderate price of $1.65 top, and Detroit is flocking to the Wilson, giving Mr. Duffy's "Merry-Go-Rounders" a run that may amount to 12 weeks, which is a long time in Detroit. Among the performers are Dorothy Stone and Charles Collins, the wonderful Salici puppets, Sid Marion and Cliff Hall, "Think-a-Drink" Hoffman, the slick knockabout team of the Three Sailors, and Jay C. Flippen, formerly one of the comedians of "Hellzapoppin."

Come early summer, Mr. Duffy expects to transplant his show to Chicago, with changes and the addition of some bigger names. He thinks of the Erlanger as a good theater, and of June 20 as a likely date.

Other irons in the Duffy fire also have bearing upon the future of the Chicago stage, whose desertion by New York leaves it open to successful exploitation from other quarters. Billie Burke, who recently terminated a sad experience in New York in a stupid war time comedy called "This Rock," has promised to appear in Noel Coward's "The Marquise." This play has not been given professionally in Chicago—and perhaps not even by amateurs.

One of Mr. Duffy's most dependable standbys is that one-play actor, Edward Everett Horton. "Springtime for Henry" has been repeating its earlier success in Detroit and the east this year. Some time after mid-summer, perhaps in early August, it would not be surprising to see Mr. Horton in Chicago again in his sure-fire double-take comedy.

Sheil School Will Present Dr. Francis Gerty in Talk

Dr. Francis J. Gerty will speak on "Alcoholism, Drug Addiction, and Suicide" at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street. This continues a series of lectures on social pathology directed at "women in war time," presented by the Sheil School of Social Studies. Dr. Gerty is director of the division of psychiatry of the Illinois Neuropsychiatric institute, University of Illinois medical school, and former superintendent of the Cook County Psychopathic hospital.

Officers of Altrusa to Hold Conference Here This Week-End

Officers of Altrusa International are gathering with consultants for a working conference on the war and post-war adjustment Saturday and Sunday in the Allerton hotel. The organization of executive and professional women, with headquarters in Chicago, is observing its 26th anniversary.

Nina Fay Calhoun, M. D., of Dallas, Tex., international president for the past biennium, will open the conference at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Committee chairmen attending include Mrs. Edith Jarvis Alden of Chicago; Miss Hester M. Hood, Washington, D. C.; Miss Elizabeth L. Fackt, Denver; Miss Clara M. Hilmes, Omaha, and Miss Florence Nichols, Peoria.

Consultants on vocational information for girls and women include Lester O. Schloerb, director of occupational research of the Chicago board of education; Sidney Tarbox of the United States recruiting service, United States civil service, and Miss Kathryn Judkins, coördinator of Illinois Institute of Technology. Other consultants will be Ralph Budd, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway, and Mrs. Bernice Van Der Vries of Winnetka, state representative. Mrs. Dessalee Ryan Dudley of Battle Creek, Mich., will have charge of a section on "Developing Leadership."

Birth Rate Rise in City Keeps Hospitals Busy

Maternity sections in Chicago hospitals are increasingly busy as the city's birthrate continues to rise, it was revealed yesterday. The city's health department reported a rise of 2,820 births during 1942 over the 1941 birth total of 10,992, and more recent statistics from hospitals indicate an even greater rise during 1943.

At Chicago Lying-In hospital, 998 babies were born during the first three months this year as compared with 718 births during 1941 and 837 births in 1942. Births at Lewis Memorial hospital during the early months of this year are 82 ahead of those during the same period last year.

Wesley Memorial hospital, which was moved in December, 1941, to its new building at 250 East Superior street, reported for the first three months of 1943 a rise of 155 births above the same period in 1942. Sixty-nine babies were born in the hospital in January, 1942, as compared with 124 in the same month this year. In February, 1942, 64 births were reported. There were 106 births in February, 1943. Fifty-five births were recorded in March last year against 113 births in March, 1943.

Spring is the most popular season for births at Passavant Memorial hospital, where it was reported that the early months of the year bring about a rush business in babies, tho December of 1942 was the record month of that year. For January, 1943, five births above the February, 1942, figure of 56 were reported. Sixty-one babies were born in February, 1942, as compared with 61 for that month this year. Sixty-five babies were born at the hospital last month, as compared with 60 for March, 1942.

St. Luke's hospital reported the birth of 322 babies during the first three months of this year as compared with 249 born during the same period in 1942.

Rosary College Auxiliary Will Hold Meeting Today

Miss Alicia Grant of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois will be guest speaker this afternoon at the quarterly meeting of the Rosary College auxiliary in the Social hall of the college in River Forest. Miss Cleo Giannopoulos, pianist, will play Granados' "The Maiden and the Nightingale." Mrs. Montague C. Wright of Oak Park will preside.

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee

Mrs. Charles E. Peace, chairman of bond instruction for the women's division, Chicago and Cook county war savings staff, has arranged two classes for instruction in a new bond issue to be brought out for the treasury's second war loan drive.

Mrs. Charles Peace.

The first class will be held at 2:30 o'clock today in the assembly hall of the Commonwealth Edison company, when Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the women's committee for the drive, will introduce Jay N. Whipple, speaker of the day. The second class, for business women, will be held at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the same place. More than 5,000 letters have been sent to women who have had instruction in previous bond issues.

An orientation course for volunteers who can devote six hours weekly at the Cook county hospital will be held from 9:30 until 4 o'clock next Tuesday in room 222 at the hospital. The course is being sponsored by the Cook County hospital school of nursing. Mrs. Bruce MacLeish is chairman of the volunteer recruitment committee, and Mrs. Hirst Morehead is director of volunteer service. Reservations for attendance at the class should be made with Mrs. Morehead at Seeley 8903. Volunteers, who are asked to spend one six-hour day or two three-hour days weekly at the hospital, will assist doctors in clinics, accompany ambulatory patients to various departments, prepare charity clothing, help locate doctors, compile charts and reports, and do general clerical work.

Members of the Cordon club are enlarging their hospitality program of offering the use of the clubrooms to officers of the WAVES by making the club available also to enlisted women in the women's naval reserve. Beginning Saturday, April 17, the rooms will be open on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings to all enlisted WAVES. There will be hostesses in charge and visitors will be welcome to use all the club's facilities. Mrs. Roy Dickey, president of the Cordon, says it is hoped the clubrooms may be especially useful to WAVES passing thru Chicago.

To offset the budget problem of a paid attendant and incidental expenses of this new hospitality service, the club will give a musical and tea at 3:30 o'clock Sunday, the proceeds to go into a maintenance fund. Mildred Waldman, pianist, will give the program, and Miss Ardel Janson will be official hostess for the afternoon.

To retain Chicago's number one place in the salvaging of tin cans, huge red, white, and blue posters, declaring that the saving of tin cans is "A War Job for Women," will be placed on every refuse and scavenger truck in the city.

William L. McFetridge, metropolitan area salvage director, said the poster is addressed to the 20 per cent of the housewives who have not enlisted as yet in the tin salvage program. The other 80 per cent, he said, do not have to be recruited in this drive for ammunition, as thru their efforts Chicago leads the nation. The poster shows a picture of a woman preparing to process a can by washing it, cutting both ends open, and flattening it.

Salvage officials ask housewives to place their prepared cans in a basket, carton, or paper bag beside the garbage can in the alley. They said that if a housewife sees a city or private truck dumping cans in with refuse she will be doing her country a great service if she reports this act.

Tin cans are carried on the same truck as garbage, but it is required by law—and there's possibility of a fine or jail sentence if the law is violated—that the cans be placed in a 30 gallon oil drum distinctly separated from the refuse. Any violation of the law should be reported to the salvage division of the metropolitan area, Central 9545, together with the time of day it occurred and the license number of the truck or the firm name on the side.

Gardens and Travel Are Topics at Session of Club Aids Today

A "Garden and Travel Day" program will be presented today for the Conference of Club Presidents and Program Chairmen in Fullerton hall. Mr. Charles R. Walgreen and Mrs. Harvey A. Bush, garden enthusiasts, are program chairmen. Talks will include "Planning the Home Garden" by Mrs. Albert D. Farwell; "Iris and Its Culture," David F. Hall; "The Art of Flower Arrangement," Mrs. J. Wilson McAlister, and "Adventures on the Ocean Floor" by Max Gene Nohl. Two illustrated lectures, "Journey Thru Latin America," by Mrs. Harold B. Richie and "India in the Spotlight," by Donald F. Ebright, will be given.

Harmon Bro, lecturer, and Miss June Larson, pianist, will present "What We Miss in Music."

INSTALMENT XXXIV.

WAR TALK.

Outside at the car, Mary Jo read the thought behind the long, narrow face which was so like her own. Pete was thinking that being in the army might change matters where Laura Wills was concerned. He did not have to say so.

"I'll bet my spurs you wouldn't care to take the car and go on out to the Casa Marina. Would you?" she asked. The back of his eyes gleamed.

"Thanks, horse face!"

"Go to it, Pete. I'll walk home. It'll do me good. I need to work off some steam!"

He didn't wait to be urged, and in another minute he was roaring away down the street, and Mary Jo set off with a brisker step than she had used in months.

A curious change had come over the atmosphere of the town. It was as tho the news which had exploded, like the bombshell that heralded it, had electrified Key West. Mary Jo was not the only one who seemed to walk faster. Almost everybody she met appeared to be hurrying on important business, or were chatting excitedly in little groups. Everywhere she caught the same phrases. "Those dirty Japs!" ". . . if he declares it, I'll go tomorrow." "I knew we couldn't keep out. . . ." "I was all for staying out, but, if we really get in, that's another matter. . . ." "That Hitler put them Japs up to hit, you betchu! . . ." "We'll kick their teeth in!"

The sleepy little city, which had drowsed so long under the hot tropic sun, had forgotten the languor which was its habit and had come awake with a sudden start. At the corner of Fleming and Duval streets a small Conch boy was yelling an extra.

"'Ere yer hare! Poiper! Get yer poiper! Read hall habat the 'orrible bombink!"

Mary Jo bought a paper and stood for a moment on the busy corner, scanning it. The details which followed the headlines were meager, as she had expected, but buried on the second page was the item she was looking for. "Two Local Men Killed in Crash." She read it carefully, but it told her nothing that she did not already know. She folded the paper carefully and tucked it under her arm, knowing that Maisie would want to see it. Then she saw Chan motioning to her from the doorway of his store across the street. She picked her way over to him thru the crowd of pedestrians, the mêlee of rusty old cars, and smart little Navy scooters, and Chan ushered her in ceremoniously."

"It is a day of majestic good news, is it not?" he said, beaming.

"I wouldn't call it quite that. It isn't exactly good to step on a rattlesnake in the dark, Chan!"

"Exactly!" he beamed. "But now undoubtedly the United States of America will be on same side as China. Now we will get guns and planes instead of selling pies! Not but that pies have been excellent, however!"

"What do you mean, have been? Chan, you're up to something."

"As the proverb says, 'If it be good, what is consumed is forgotten.' Your pies will still perhaps go to their happy oblivion after my departure." This sounded really bad.

"What are you shootin' at, Chan? Are you figuring on going some place?"

"I am returning home," he said. "I have sold this poor shop to distinguished chain store, and the money and my humble services I shall take to Chungking and our generalissimo. All this in about two weeks. By tomorrow the President will speak and soon after China will have a new ally. You shall see. After which, the China pies will cease from this place!"

"Well, I'm a wall-eyed kangaroo rat if I ever expected anything like that!" She kept her voice steady, but Mary Jo was thinking fast. Without her established outlet and the credit Chan extended, it was going to be tough to carry on. She hadn't the faintest idea of where she could make another similar connection. Well, at any rate she had two weeks' notice. It began to look as if the war was wiping out just about everything for the Laurences.

"I guess you're doing just right, Chan," she said. "The best thing any of us can do is help our country. You're a lucky son of a gun to be able to do this for yours. But I'll miss you, you old image!"

"Esteem is mutual!" said Chan, bowing gravely.

She left him and went out into the busy street once more. At the open walled drug store on the next corner Sibyl Cartwright was seated at one of the little tables, drinking a coke. Immaculate in mauve linen and white gloves, she waved her glass at Mary Jo and called out excitedly.

"Terrific, isn't it?" Mary Jo stopped beside her.

"What's terrific—the coke?" she asked good naturedly.

"I'm trying to get used to the stuff," said Sibyl. "I expect to be a very busy woman soon and I don't want to forget my lines ever again!"

"What's going to busy you up so?"

"Well, my dear," Sibyl said earnestly, "I think I'd make an excellent canteen hostess. I thought that you and I might get up something of the sort—featuring the China pies, you know, instead of doughnuts! When we get into this war there will be so many strange soldiers and sailors pouring into town that I'll never be able to entertain them all, not single handed!"

"Pie canteen!" said Mary Jo. "Hum! That's a thought—if a person had the money!"

"I can give some if I stick to coke," said Sibyl. "And, if the President speaks the way he's sure to, I'll start collecting funds tomorrow and have no trouble getting them."

As she left the old actress, Mary Jo turned the suggestion over in her mind. A good canteen would be needed, and the boys liked her pies. That had been well proved. Alice Smithers could help too; Alice had a good hand at pastry. There were plenty of rich people in Key West who could finance a thing like that if they wanted to, and they might even pay a small salary to the one who ran it, if it was necessary—enough so a person could eat. It would be wonderful to run a canteen! Who would ever figure on Sibyl Cartwright's being the one to think that up? It just went to show, you shouldn't ever judge a hoss till you had a bridle on him!

In front of the lumber company, Waterman was standing in anxious consultation with the owner, and she guessed that they were discussing the acute question of what was to become of their interests. A little farther along a noisy group was gathered around the counter of the Cuban sandwich shop. A Cuban spiced ham hung from the ceiling by a rope and Juan, the counter boy, was spinning it and cutting thin slices from it with extraordinary skill, his flashing knife catching the pieces in midair and flipping them between long sections of crisp bread without for an instant interrupting the flow of his conversation with his clients. Cinqua was one of the crowd of customers, his pudgy body filling two stools.

"My boy, she go een army right away, queek!" he was shouting as she passed. "He'sa 'fraid of nothin'. samea as hees poppa!"

With a violent gesture he jammed the object in his hand upon his bald head. It was a gold laced cocked hat, as big as a 10 gallon model, and Mary Jo remembered that Cinqua had once been a policeman in Havana. The occasion seemed to warrant his getting out his old headpiece as a sort of military gesture.

"This town all acts like it's been eatin' loco weed," she thought, "but it's a whole lot better than being half in a siesta all the time!"

Pop Tutwiller saw her first and stood in her path on the quiet block beyond the business district. The moment she looked into his far seeing eyes, she knew that the trouble had gone out of his soul. The deep lines in his face were relaxed, and this time the carefully casual manner was a mere matter of habit, instead of the armor of a desperate man. He was carrying a large black bag and looked unusually clean and neat.

"Hello there, Mary Jo," he greeted her. "What do you know?"

"Nothing much. What do you know, Pop?"

"Everythin'!" he said, completing the formula.

"What do you think of the news?"

"Which news?" He glanced at the paper under her arm, and she understood what he meant.

"You saw it—about Bergen?" He nodded.

"Seems like you had it right about the Lord," he said. "He done took a heap of bother offen my hands, the Lord did. But I'm still mighty obliged to you for findin' that check. It cleared Ed with his partners some. That's what I was after principally."

"I'm glad of that, Pop. Well, it looks like we're in the war."

"Looks like. What's Tony figgerin' on doin'?"

"He doesn't know yet. What's in that bag, Pop?"

"That?" said Pop with a sly grin. "O, that used to could be my trombone. Could still be. Well, reckon I better be gettin' along."

DARE DEVIL PILOT Brant Regan had a new secret airplane wing formula. Why did his boss shy away from the idea? Sabotage and treachery will keep you guessing until the final chapter of "GROUNDED"—exciting new story by H. Vernor Dixon, starting Monday in The Chicago Tribune.

Your Stars Today

—By WYNN—

Thursday, April 8.

Yesterday's new ideas and plans come under tests of analysis today; hidden weaknesses are shown up; their utility is challenged. Deal with elders, seek best advice; study lessons of experience—but don't yield to pessimistic views.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from celebration today brings necessity for new ways of thinking—adapt, learn, grow, shed past, reform ambitions. More harmony, opportunity, from Aug. 21 on. Danger: June 8-20; April 21-May 1, 1944.

Tomorrow.

A keen day; get around; make adjustments; improve skill, earning power.

For individual interpretation of your own personal date, send 10c for 1943 horoscope to Wynn, Tribune Astrologer, P. O. Box 9758, Los Feliz station, Los Angeles, Cal.

[ADVERTISMENT]

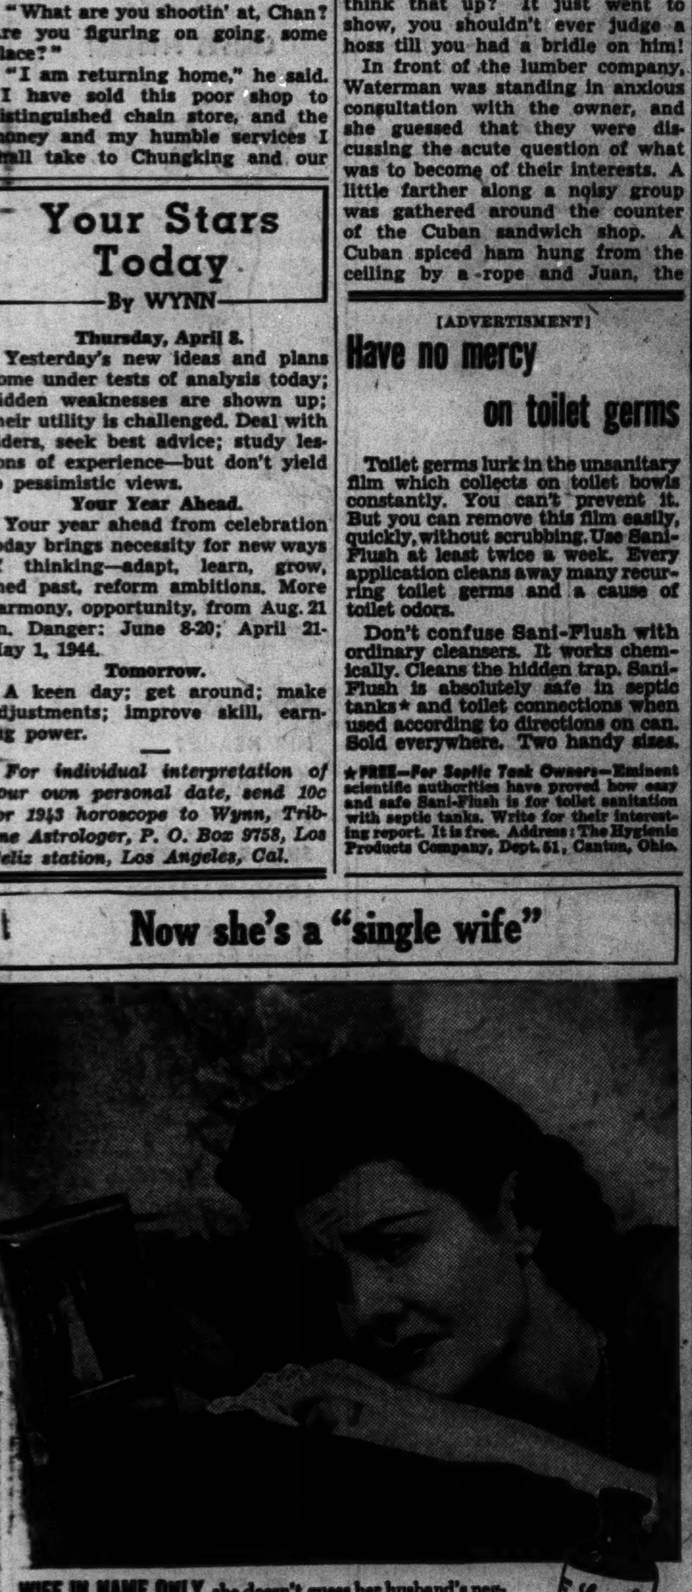
Have no mercy on toilet germs

Toilet germs lurk in the unsanitary film which collects on toilet bowls constantly. You can't prevent it. But you can remove this film easily, quickly, without scrubbing. Use Sani-Flush at least twice a week. Every application cleans away many recurring toilet germs and a cause of toilet odors.

Don't confuse Sani-Flush with ordinary cleansers. It works chemically. Cleans the hidden trap. Sani-Flush is absolutely safe in septic tanks* and toilet connections when used according to directions on can. Sold everywhere. Two handy sizes.

*FREE—For Septic Tank Owners—Eminent scientific authorities have proved how easy and safe Sani-Flush is for toilet sanitation with septic tanks. Write for their interesting report. It is free. Address: The Hygienic Products Company, Dept. 51, Canton, Ohio.

Now she's a "single wife"



WIFE IN NAME ONLY, she doesn't guess her husband's neglect is due to her "one neglect"—carelessness about feminine hygiene (intimate personal cleanliness). Today, so many modern wives use Lysol disinfectant for this purpose. It cleanses fast, thoroughly, and deodorizes, too. Yet it's so gentle it won't harm sensitive vaginal tissues—just follow easy directions. Costs so little. Write Lehn & Fink, Bloomfield, N. J., for FREE Feminine Hygiene Booklet CH-19 (in plain wrapper).

Entertaining under rationing taxes the ingenuity of any hostess. But rationing is a blanket that covers all of us, and guests these days do not expect extravagant food.

Parties have grown much simpler. There is more entertaining at affairs which require only a beverage and cookies or little sandwiches as refreshment, and less entertaining at dinner parties. Dinner parties seem to have given way to informal supper parties for small groups of friends.

Some families are willing to pool their red coupons to provide a roast and plenty of butter for an occasional company meal. But guests do not expect meat and usually are amazed [but delighted] when they get it. Some hostesses are finding themselves experts at stretching a little meat in company dishes. Others forget meat and serve fish or chicken, or go vegetarian.

Nobody is critical of simple supper menus. There is much greater likelihood that meals which seem too abundant or elaborate for the times will be criticized.

The menus below are keyed to present food conditions, I believe. With a prettily set table and an atmosphere of informal hospitality, any of these suppers can be highly successful.

Menus for Wartime Entertaining.

I.

Vegetarian plate [individual servings of wel. seasoned, cooked whole carrots, cooked broccoli with hot lemon mayonnaise, broiled whole tomato with mushroom cap and crumb topping], corn sticks or cornbread, sliced fresh pineapple with toasted crackers and Brie or Camembert [unrationed cheeses], beverage.

II.

Fish fillets poached in white wine, garnish of sautéed green pepper rings, baked stuffed potatoes with paprika, watercress and tomato salad, homemade yeast rolls, deep dish fruit pie, beverage.

III.

Chicken giblets and gravy on fluffy rice, tossed salad of chicory, radishes, green pepper and cucumber, tarragon dressing, bread sticks or melba toast [require no butter], fresh strawberries on sponge cake or one-egg cake, beverage.

IV.

Individual casseroles of scalloped vegetables with cheese topping [turnips, green beans, carrots, and onions], raisin muffins or scones, spinach salad with hot bacon dressing, fresh fruit cup with cookies, beverage.

V.

Rice and peanut loaf with mushroom sauce, parsley garnish, sliced fresh tomatoes, avocado half on leaf lettuce, thousand island dressing, baking powder biscuits, fruit sherbet, coffee.

VI.

Creamed chicken or chicken à la king on thin, crisp cornbread, carrot sticks, celery, and olives, orange and grapefruit cup with strawberry garnish, beverage.

Friday's Menu

Au Gratin Potatoes: Arrange in layers, 4 cups cooked cubed potatoes, 1 small onion, chopped and lightly browned in fat, 1½ cups medium white sauce in which has been melted ¼ lb. cheese, grated. Top with crumbs, and bake 15 to 20 minutes.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Stuffed Artichokes Omar.

[A meat stretcher; serves six.]

- 6 large artichokes
- ½ pound ground lamb [other ground meat may be substituted]
- 2 medium onions, finely chopped
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon chopped pine nuts or walnuts
- ¼ teaspoon allspice
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 egg
- 6 slices tomato
- Juice of 1 lemon
- ⅛ teaspoon salt

Wash artichokes cut off stems and remove any discolored outer leaves, and the top third of each artichoke. Parboil for 15 minutes. Carefully push back leaves, using a teaspoon and remove the hairy choke from each. Meanwhile, brown meat and onion lightly in fat and mix with parsley, nuts, seasonings and slightly beaten egg. Shape into 6 balls and place one in center of each artichoke. Put artichokes in deep baking dish. Top each with slice of tomato and add water to a depth of about 1 inch. Sprinkle with lemon juice and ⅛ teaspoon salt and cover dish. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven for 1 hour. If desired, the cooking may be finished at simmering temperature in a covered saucepan on top of the stove.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., April 7.—One of Buddy De Sylva's new pictures will be "The Hitler Gang," which will include six of Hitler's closest henchmen—Goebbels, Goering, Hess, Himmler, Streicher, and Roehm. The state department has opened its files on these men, and Joe Sistrom and John Farrow are on their way to Washington to do research, while Albert and Frances Hackett will write the story. . . . Bill Marshall, who's tried for so long to get a screen deal, was finally signed to a contract at Twentieth Century. But I doubt if he'll make one picture. He enlisted in the air corps four months ago, and is likely to be called any minute. . . . Look for a parting of the ways between Pierre Aumont and Maria Montez. I never thought their romance would reach the altar. . . . Van Johnson is in the low salary bracket, and Lucille Ball knew he'd worry about expenses, so phoned his doctor to say she'd take care of all the hospital and doctor's expenses.

Fun for His Pals.

Preston Foster's face is crimson. When he took the part of Touhy, he didn't know he'd have to bleach his hair. Gosh! They've had hard luck signing an actor for that part. So now Preston's stuck with a bleach job. . . . R. K. O. doesn't know it, but Budd Schulberg, who just finished writing "Government Girl," will soon be off to join the navy in Comm. John Ford's unit. . . . Ann Rutherford's marriage to Tom May is happy, but she just couldn't wait to get back into "I Escaped from Hongkong." . . . Renee De Marco's going to have to be twins. If she has a baby in July, how can she open that new Broadway show same month? . . . Craig Woods, Columbia's new find in "Destroyer," is being divorced by Trudy Marson, Swiss actress.

He'll Do It, Too.

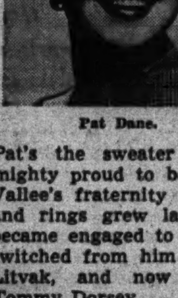
Bob Hope is working nights so he can begin his camp tour April 10. He'll head for New Orleans, and has engaged a suite of rooms at the St. Charles hotel. Recalls that 10 years ago he was stranded and slept on a chair in the lobby there. At that time, he predicted he'd come back and take over the joint. Bob will do a follow up on his book "They Got Me Covered"—this one filled with his and Bing Crosby's gags. . . . Guy Kibbe nicknamed "Proxy Pop" by our men in camps. How he loves it! . . . Kay Proctor is New York bound for a six weeks look-see. . . . Mrs. Freddie March had a near tragedy when a lighted match was dropped into one of her Easter hats. . . . Gloria Bristol's salon in Paris is now the Gestapo headquarters. Can't you see those jug heads sending out their death sentences from tufted padded cells of baby blue satin?

This Time Succeeded.

David McDonald, who directed "Desert Victory," which is getting such raves, is well known here. Ten years ago he worked as technical man for De Mille, but he was the quiet, nonaggressive English type who made little headway. Returned to England in 1937, made a picture. When war broke out, joined the colors. He's now a lieutenant colonel, and "Desert Victory" stands out as one of the great pictures of the war. . . . Studio scouts should take a gander at Lloyd Brooks in "A Riddle for Mr. Twiddle" at the Callboard theater. He's good. . . . Jimmy Hackett, Joe Ruttenberg's assistant camera man on "Madame Curie," is the first member of our industry to return to it after being wounded and honorably discharged. Jimmy enlisted two days after Pearl Harbor, was wounded at Guadalcanal, and just released from the hospital.

Lived Happily Ever.

Pat Dane and Tommy Dorsey fly to Las Vegas tomorrow to have that knot tied. Love is in bloom for the Dorsey family. He married off his 18 year old daughter, Pat, two months ago. This is Tommy's second attempt, also Pat Dane's. She married at 17—had it annulled.



Pat Dane.

Pat's the sweater girl who was mighty proud to be wearing Rudy Vallee's fraternity pin. Then pins and rings grew larger, when she became engaged to Cedric Gibbons, switched from him to Maj. Antole Litvak, and now becomes Mrs. Tommy Dorsey. . . . A Kaiser Liberty ship will be named for George Gershwin, another for Flo Ziegfeld, which of course, Billie Burke will christen. . . . Pola Negri's test for "Claudia" got her a contract for "High Diddle Diddle."

A Pal.

When John Payhe went to war, he asked if he could hang his clothes in Anne Gabor's closet. She lives next door. He had so many she gave up a guest room to them. Now she's having some of his sports coats cut down to her size! . . . Arthur Murray saves his drippings as he murmurs, "May the enemy die off the fat of our land!"

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

[Have you some favorite household help that lightens labor or conserves materials? Is there some convenience you would like? We'll pass on your ideas to our readers.]

Mrs. Frank Rezabek, Brookfield, Ill.: My daughter's slips are made out of my used slips. I use the bottom of the slips, cut armholes and neck and finish edges. I have a slip as good as new that can be worn many times.

Lillie H., Chicago: I keep a small coffee pot and use it for the paraffin with which I seal my preserves. I pour it easily, without spilling, from the pot, and paraffin that is left is protected by the lid.

Mrs. Clyde B., Oak Park: I've been hoping to see on the market fever thermometers of some unbreakable, transparent plastic. Around our house, at least, these glass ones always are being broken.

Mrs. T. G., St. Louis, Mo.: When grass fires break out around our house, my husband uses an old auto skid chain, entangled in the teeth of a rake, to put them out. He thinks this is better to fight flames than wet sacks or blankets, as the weight of chains quenches the blaze.

Mrs. Ella Smith, Chicago: When dough sticks to my rolling pin in hot weather I fill a large bottle with cracked ice and water. This not only cools dough a little and improves the pastry, but it is a rolling pin that dough doesn't cling to.

Accept Ways of In-Between Age Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you can only realize, as we've been suggesting recently, that what's so important to adults often is not so to children, it will help you to see this: That a dozen ways your "inbetweens" have of acting are reasonable from their point of view. It is natural or instinctive for them to act in many of the ways that they do which bother us; it is to be expected of them because of the stage of physical growth they are going thru, and of the mental growth, as well as social growth.

Here are some of the dozen ways which show how different from ours are their interests, and behavior, and pursuits and pleasures:

Many "inbetweens," boys and girls between early childhood and adolescence, are heedless, forgetful, and happy-go-lucky.

Many have no interest in school and sidestep their homework; many of them have an aversion to doing any regular household or outside chores. They also have an aversion to personal cleanliness and grooming. O, they may not mind being clean and well put together, but they abhor the process of becoming so.

They are usually slow, or, to put it differently, they are terrific dawdlers. They love, almost all of them, noise, rough-and-tumble, clowning and laughter. Most of them yearn to be with others their age all the time. They often develop a passion for some hobby, frequently a short lived one.

They adore the outdoors, company their own age, and adventure in person, or vicariously. They often are disobedient but chiefly thru heedlessness.

And they frequently become undemonstrative of their affection toward their parents, because of shyness, or because they think such outward evidences may be ridiculed by their pals.

If you will accept these ways as logical signs of a stage they must go thru. If, when each kind of behavior worries or irritates you, you will understand how utterly different your purposes in life are from theirs, it will help you to keep close to them and keep them close to you, to manage them, and partly to convince them of the validity of some of the demands you must make upon them.

Dorothy Lamour Is Bride of Capt. William Howard

Beverly Hills, Cal., April 7 (AP).—Dorothy Lamour, who often portrays a sarong clad outdoor girl on the screen, was married today—indoors. The actress had planned that her marriage to Capt. William Ross Howard III. of Baltimore be performed in the garden of her parents' home, but the weather wasn't of the garden variety. Only a few close friends were present. Actress Laura Lamarr was maid of honor and best man was Navy Lt. John Bogan Jr. of Philadelphia, Capt. Howard's brother-in-law. The couple left tonight for San Bernardino, where Capt. Howard reports for duty tomorrow.

Mule's Ears.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Little Rock, Ark., April 7.—The unregenerate rebel, who on the side is an historian of note, was in a bleak mood. He has been ever since the third term began. "And that which he had feared," he said, quoting the Bible, "had come to pass." This time his bleakness was aroused by a discussion of the HCV [high cost of vegetables] under rationing.

"I bought four little rutabagas," his wife had said, getting the conversation on food, the 1943 common denominator of the home front, "and the man weighed them and said, 'thirty-nine cents, please,' and I said, 'you put them right back. When I pay 39 cents, it's going to be for something I like, not a root.'"

The unregenerate rebel then spoke his mind on the OPA. "I don't have anything left now but common sense," he drawled, "but my common sense tells me there's no sense at all to the old pest association [OPA]. Do you know what we're headin' for? Inflation. Sure as you're alive. Did you ever see an ol' mule twitch its ears? Well, he twitches one this way," with a diagonal gesture to the right, "and one this way," with a diagonal gesture to the left. "Know a man who does his eyes the same way. Face like a punkin', too. Well, that ol' mule twitches his ears like that and never does get rid of the fly that's a-botherin' him. And that's just what they're doing down in Washington. Just twitchin' at cross purposes, twitchin' us into inflation. No," to a grandchild worrying about a multiplication table, "you don't need to know that for what you're comin' into. You don't need to add or multiply. Just divide and subtract, just divide and subtract."

We Love 'Em Now.

High spring has come here. The pine needle carpets of the hills are studded with the blue of violets, and dogwood fans its white lace branches in the hollows. Red bud blossoms in a shower of rose above the greening waters of the bayous, and the tiny new leaves of trees are like delicate blossoms against the sky. Down in the bottoms the cotton fields are plowed and seeded and lying in the sun, and up in the hills, a brief 10 miles away, the lean hound dog sleeps as lazily on the porch of the shotgun lean-to as tho summer were already here instead of a brief two weeks away.

The war has done many things to the quietude and somnolence of the south. It has taken the great pines out of the forests and brought the busy hum of a makeshift lumber mill to every crossroads. It has emptied the streets of young men, of all young men. It has wrenched from the perennial political candidate his most beloved phrase, "The fragile flower of southern womanhood," for the fragile flower now is in a war plant, driving a bus, or operating the Hush Honey cafe. It has brought ugly, raw strips of defense housing to the outskirts of every community. [Ask about any new structure, and the answer will be, "O, that? That's guv'ment."]

Even more important, from the standpoint of a pilgrim returned from afar, is the tolerance the south now manifests toward the north. Only occasionally does one hear a remark [even from one who speaks of the war and means the Civil war] such as that of the lady who today said, "O, he was a New Englander, and so, of course, was not irreproachable." No, that has been dropped, a war time sacrifice and even a pleasant necessity after the discovery that, with an army camp around every corner, those boys from the north are all right, too, and many a daughter hitherto thought unmarriageable now can have a wedding ring. ["I missed on the last war," one newlywed of uncertain age said. "I was plain stupid. So this time when I met a sergeant, we got married five days later."]

Now, these are all changes that might have been predicted, but even here in Little Rock, with Camp Robinson just across the river and a small WAAC camp around a few curves, no one expected the war—any war—could do to Main street what it has done here on Saturday night. For marching up and down Main street now, badges on their arms and 30 inches to their strides, are WAAC M.P.'s—and it is the most amazing news of the war.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

By George Rector

Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

WATCH NUTRITION AS GUARD TO HEALTH

Spending the red stamps wisely is a real challenge to you homemakers who are truly serious in doing the patriotic job of feeding your families adequately. You have a three-fold responsibility: (1) to plan your meat selection so that you will satisfy, to as great a degree as possible, your family's preferences; (2) to keep an eye on the nutritive value of the meat you serve; and (3) to stretch your red stamps over as many low-point meats as possible rather than spending too many of your family's points on meat of high point value.

Did your husband expect steak for dinner every night back in the good old days? I don't blame him, I like steak, too. Its delicious flavor and juicy content make most everybody want it. But it's your problem to convince him that, at the present point value, a steak a day is an impossibility.

So, I thought you might be interested in seeing a comparison between a steak and three other meat dishes (pork chop suey, beef porcupines and breaded pork liver) which total the same number of red stamp points for a family of four.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

After selecting these three meat dishes I calculated the nutritive value of each. You can see by a glance at the chart below that these three dishes provide even more food value than the steak.

Perhaps this fact will help appease friend husband until he can again have his steaks as often as he desires. But my advice to you is to keep this information to yourself and concentrate on making these low-point dishes so delicious and attractive he will be content with fewer of his beloved steaks.

VITAL TO HEALTH

With the amount of meat limited, there is a real health danger unless we choose wisely. Thiamin, or Vitamin B_1, which is so important to the normal functioning of nerves and digestion, has been low in the average American diet, even in peacetime.

Pork is one of the richest sources of thiamin, so care should be taken to serve pork frequently. It is due to the pork in the chop suey that the thiamin line on the chart below is so long.

Iron is another nutrient which is low in many diets. Liver, especially pork liver, is an excellent source of iron and is responsible for about ¾ of the iron line below.

An equal amount of liver sausage is almost as high in iron, and you will find it extra delicious if you buy Wilson's Certified Braunschweiger.

VITAMINS—"Glamor Girls" of Nutrition

But one of the greatest deficiencies with a low meat diet is likely to be protein. Although vitamins have been the "glamor girls" of nutrition in the past few years, protein deserves equal attention. Besides its function in maintaining and repairing cells of soft tissue, protein is also essential to formation of red blood cells and has been recommended to hasten healing of wounds and fractures.

Because of the superiority in quality of protein from animal sources (meat, milk, fish, poultry, and eggs) over protein from vegetable sources, at least one-third of your day's protein should be of animal origin.

MORAL

The moral of today's lesson is this: Select extra nutritious meats and spread your red stamps over as much meat as possible rather than spending too many points on meats of high point value. In this way you can be sure of having at least one nutritious "stick-to-the-ribs" meat dish every day.

Next week, I shall give you recipes and suggestions for a variety of delicious low-point meat dishes including those illustrated today.

Nutritionally yours, George Rector

COMPARISON OF NUTRITIVE VALUES OF COOKED MEATS, ILLUSTRATED, REQUIRING AN EQUAL NUMBER OF POINTS

White bars represent the nutritive value of steak (16 points). Black bars represent the combined nutritive value of the three other meat dishes (total, 16 points).

WHITE SOX' 16-HIT ATTACK ROUTS CUBS, 13-2

LT. TED LYONS ASSIGNED TO DUTY AT NAVY PIER

EX-SOX HURLER GIVEN MARINE AVIATION POST

May Reach Chicago on Monday.

Lt. Ted Lyons, a mainstay of the White Sox pitching staff for 20 seasons, will return to Chicago, probably Monday, but he will not hold forth at the old stand in Comiskey park. Instead he'll be at Navy pier, where he has been assigned to duty by the marine corps.

Ted Lyons.

Word of Lyons' assignment to the marine aviation detachment at Navy pier was received from Washington, D. C., yesterday by Lt. Col. Carlton Hill, commanding officer of marines at the pier. Lyons was graduated from the reserve officers class at Quantico, Va., yesterday. The exact nature of his duties at Navy pier has not yet been defined.

Lyons Expected on Monday.

"All that I know as yet is that Lt. Lyons is coming, probably Monday," Col. Hill said, "but I feel safe in saying that his job will not differ from those of our other officers. We all are here to get men ready for active participation in the war."

Lt. Lyons, 42 years old, enlisted in the marine corps after the 1942 season. He had been with the White Sox thruout his major league career, joining the team in 1923, fresh from Baylor university. The records show that he pitched in 589 American league games, winning 259 and losing 226. He won more than 20 games in three campaigns, 21 in 1925, 22 in 1927 and 22 in 1930. His record last year was 14 won and 6 lost for a percentage of .700, his highest average and duplicating his mark in 1939. His earned run average of 2.10 per game last year was the best in the American league.

Was Sox's "Sunday Pitcher."

In recent years Lyons had been the Sox's "Sunday pitcher," resting his arm during the week and putting forth masterful exhibitions on the Sabbath. He appeared in 20 games last year, compared with 43 in 1925.

Harris Quits Iowa Job to Enter Army

Iowa City, Ia., April 7 [Special].—Jim Harris who is to be inducted into the army, has resigned as acting head football coach at the University of Iowa and Frank Carideo, back field coach, will take over direction of the Hawkeyes' spring drills, it was disclosed tonight.

Harris will go to Des Moines tomorrow for his final army physical examination, and it is understood that he will be given a commission in the army's physical training department if he passes his examination.

Altho Carideo is to be sworn into the navy Monday, E. G. Schroeder, director of athletics, said that he probably will not be called for his indoctrination training until April 21. Schroeder believes that Carideo will be here long enough to take care of spring practice which will end April 17.

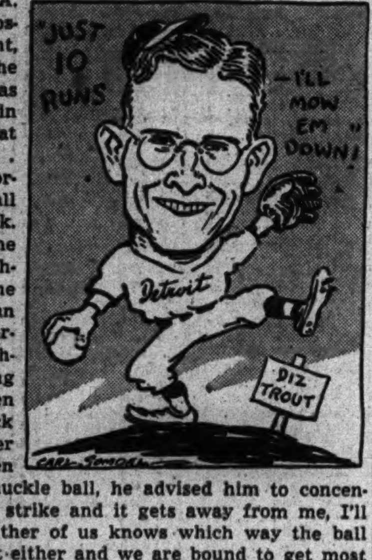
The departure of Harris and Carideo will mark the complete breakup of Iowa's coaching staff. Dr. Eddie Anderson, former head coach, is a major in the army medical corps, and Bill Hofer, former freshman coach is in the marines.

Altho the situation is unsettled now, Schroeder said "We'll have a definite coach for next fall. I don't know who it will be, but we will have one."

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

TOMMY BRIDGES, the Tigers' eminent curve ball specialist, has a .580 percentage to show for his 13 years in the American league, and if it hadn't been for the Yankees it would be even more imposing. . . . His showing against each of the seven rival clubs is as follows: Boston [25 won, 21 lost]; Chicago [30-21], Cleveland [27-20], New York [14-23], Philadelphia [27-15], St. Louis [32-10], and Washington [25-20]. . . . Aside to Pvt. A. Leonard Fieldman of Station hospital, Camp Grant: You are right, Joe Louis had not yet won the world championship when he was knocked out by Max Schmeling in the 12th round. . . . The champ at the time was Jimmy Braddock. . . . The question seems to be the favorite of the hundreds of fans who call the sports department each week. . . . When Dutch Leonard of the Senators faces Catcher Paul Richards of the Tigers this season, he will be trying to strike out the man who did most to prepare him for stardom in the major leagues. . . . Richards was catching for and managing the Atlanta club when Leonard, then strictly a curve baller was sent back to the minors by the Dodgers after a losing season in 1935. . . . When Richards learned Dutch had a knuckle ball, he advised him to concentrate on it. . . . "If you pitch a strike and it gets away from me, I'll take the rap," said Paul. "If neither of us knows which way the ball is going to break, the batter won't either and we are bound to get most of them." . . . Thus encouraged, Dutch returned to the majors with the Senators and became a consistent winner with a losing club. . . . Among officials of the clubs in the National Football league who have donned their country's uniform are Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, marine corps; George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, navy; Danny Reeves and Fred Levy, co-owners of the Cleveland Rams, army, and Alexis Thompson, owner of the Philadelphia Eagles, army. . . .



Paul [Dizzy] Trout of the Tigers is just like Dizzy Dean, in reverse. . . . Trout is winning fame as a radio comedian with such remarks as this: "If them Tigers get me 10 runs a game and do some airtight fielding, I'm liable to go pretty good. Ten runs a game is just about what I'll be needing." . . . Mike Kelley of the Minneapolis club, who is being called the bravest man in the American association since he assumed responsibility for Vallie Eaves, explains, "One of the best clubs I ever managed had the two top two fisted drinkers in baseball. They won two pennants for me."

PRO FOOTBALL 1943 SCHEDULE STRIKES A SNAG

Owners Will Seek to Unravel It Today.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The National Football league worked overtime yesterday trying to adjust its 1943 activities to changing conditions resulting from the war. From 10 a. m. in the morning until close to midnight, league and club officials wrestled with various operating problems which resulted in important changes.

Last night's adjournment in the Palmer House meant only the beginning for President Elmer Layden. The nine teams, unable to come to an agreement on the new schedule, voted to reconvene at 9:30 o'clock this morning, at which time Layden promised to have suggestions which might break the impasse.

Schedule Snags Encountered.

It was understood that two eastern teams insisted on the home-and-home system as employed last year, in which the teams in each division play each other twice. With only nine teams in the league, four in the west and five in the east, this plan no longer is practicable if the teams are to play the same number of games.

Another schedule snag reported was Washington's insistence that its game with the Bears be played in Washington. The Bears had conceded to play in Philadelphia, but held out for Wrigley field as scene of their game with the champion Redskins.

The 9:30 meeting will give the owners half an hour to settle their problem before the draft. After the draft is conducted, the schedule problem may be attacked again. It was reported that if the schedule was not completed the league may meet again in mid-June.

Allow Free Substitutions.

These were the major developments at the second day's session:

1. The player limit for each club was reduced from 33 to 25.

2. The free substitution rule, allowing any number of substitutions, during a game was adopted.

3. The league decided to hold supplementary player draft meetings, subject to the call of Layden to give teams an opportunity to draft players being graduated at uneven periods of the school year because of the stepped-up scholastic programs.

4. The league voted to curtail transportation during the fall training season, with five of the nine teams definitely committed to exercise at home bases.

Building for Future.

Today representatives of the ten clubs including Cleveland, which has been granted a one year suspension, will each select 20 players from a pool of 1,000 graduating college players. The big question is just how many of the 200 selected actually will show up in the various training camps next fall. The guess is that very few will be available, so today's drafting in the main will be just to negotiate rights for outstanding collegians of the 1942 season after the war is over.

For hours last night the club owners and coaches, along with Layden, tried to work out a schedule agreeable to all. Layden had prepared a schedule calling for 55 games on the basis of 10 teams operating, but this became useless when the Rams withdrew.

Each to Play 10 Games.

Basis for the new playing chart was 10 games for each team. This would include a round robin schedule with every club meeting the others, plus two extra league attractions of traditional standing. These two extra games proved to be a stumbling block in completing the schedule, as some of the weaker teams held out for good attractions to bolster their gate receipts. Layden sought to arrange the schedule so that each team would have five games at home and five on the road. Five teams voted to do their exer-

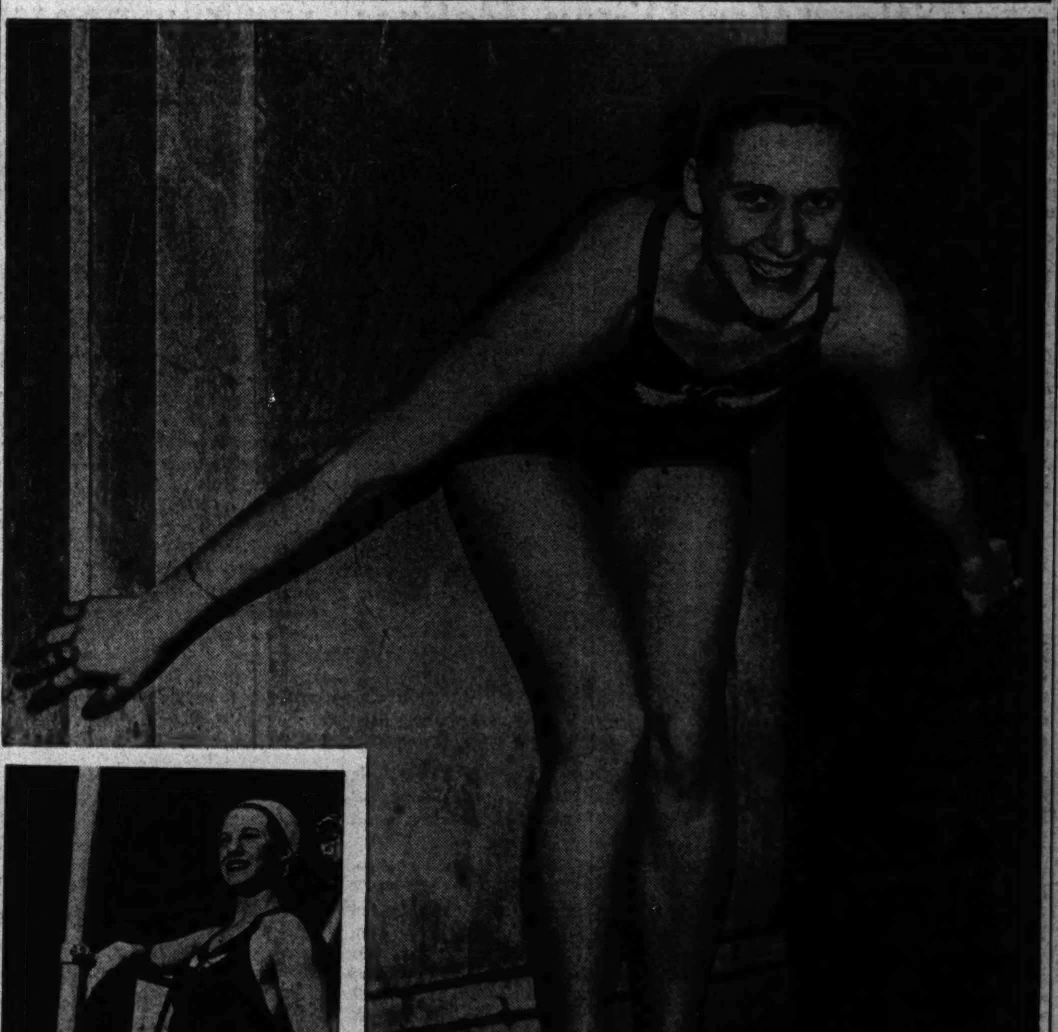
CHAMPIONS FROM FAR WEST



Nancy Merki of the Multnomah club of Portland, Ore., will defend her women's national senior A. A. U. 440 yard free style championship when the three day meet opens tomorrow in the Medinah club of Chicago pool. Miss Merki also will compete in the 220 yard free style and in two relays. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Another Multnomah swimmer is Suzanne Zimmerman, national 100 meter outdoor free style champion and American record holder for the 110 yard back stroke.

CHICAGO NINE PLAYS MORTON COLLEGE TODAY

The University of Chicago baseball team will play its second practice game of the season at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon on Greenwood field with Morton Junior college furnishing the opposition. This will be the Maroons' final practice contest before opening their regular schedule against Notre Dame in South Bend Saturday.

Bill Corson, the freshman who hurled the first three innings and was the winning pitcher in the 6 to 2 triumph over the Midway Navy nine in the opener, will be the starting choice today. Opposing Corson for Morton will be Bob Soucek.

COWLEY VOTED HOCKEY'S MOST VALUABLE MAN

MONTREAL, Que., April 17 (AP).—Bill Cowley, center of the Boston Bruins, today was named as winner of the Dr. David A. Hart trophy as the most valuable player to his club in the National Hockey league in the 1942-'43 season. Cowley also won the trophy two years ago.

The award is based on selections of 12 hockey writers in National league cities who select 10 candidates each. Cowley received 94 points out of a possible 120.

Doug Bentley of the Chicago Blackhawks placed second with 67 points, followed by Syl Apps, Toronto, and Syd Howe, Detroit, with 46 each, and Frank Brimsek, Boston goalie, with 40.

INDIANAPOLIS PUTS 8 IN SWIM

National A.A.U. Meet to Open Tomorrow.

The Riviera club of Indianapolis, led by Betty Bemis, who has been training with the WAVES at Hunter college, New York, leads all team entries in the National A. A. U. Women's senior indoor swimming and diving meet, which will open tomorrow afternoon in the Medinah club pool, 505 North Michigan avenue, and continue thru Sunday afternoon.

Miss Bemis' entry raised the Riviera list to eight, one more than the squads of seven entered by the home club and the Women's Swimming Association of New York. The Multnomah club of Portland, Ore., has sent four entrants—16 year old Nancy Merki, Brenda Helser, Suzanne Zimmerman, and a newcomer, Mary Ann Hansen.

Bemis vs. Helser

Miss Bemis is the defending champion in the 220 yard free style swim, having won the title in New York last year. One of her chief rivals is Miss Helser of the Multnomah club, who holds the national record in the event, 2 minutes 30.3 seconds.

Another Riviera contender will be Patty Aspinall, who holds the national mark for the 220 yard breast stroke event with a time of 3 minutes 7.8 seconds. Patty didn't take part in the national indoor meet last year, but won the outdoor championship. Helene Rains of the Women's Swimming Association of New York, who won the title in the New York meet, will not compete here.

Lorraine Fischer Enters

Gloria Callen of New York, 100 yard backstroke champion, definitely will not swim here. Miss Callen recently suffered a burned hand. A last minute entry, however, is another New Yorker, Lorraine Fischer, who will swim unattached. She holds the national record for the 100 yard breast stroke, 1 minute 15.8 seconds.

Eulace Peacock Will Race in Penn Relays

Philadelphia, Pa., April 7 [Special].—Eulace Peacock, one of the greatest track athletes in the history of Temple university, now stationed at the Manhattan Coast Guard Training station, will compete in the 49th annual University of Pennsylvania relay carnival on April 23 and 24, on Franklin field. Peacock will compete in the invitational 100 yard special event.

Boston, Mass., April 7 (AP).—Don Grosso scored three goals tonight to lead the Detroit Red Wings to their third straight victory, 4 to 0, over the Boston Bruins in the Stanley cup hockey finals. A crowd of 14,880, which packed the Boston Garden, saw Detroit score its third straight victory. The Red Wings can clinch the cup in four games with a victory here tomorrow night.

Grosso lost no time getting his first tally, for, during the fourth minute of play he succeeded in planting himself firmly on the edge of the Boston crease before Eddie Wares rifled an angle shot at Frankie Brimsek. When the goalie kicked out that shot Grosso flipped it back into the net.

About six minutes later, while Jack Crawford, the Bruins' most dependable defense man, was in the penalty box, the Red Wings put on a terrific push against Brimsek The goalie kicked out three steaming closeups in rapid order before Grosso caught him out of position and fired into the opening.

The other two Detroit goals were scored in the last period. The third one was made by Les Douglas who broke up a Bruin rush on his own Blue line by poke-checking Flash Hollett. Douglas regained the loose puck and sped down to beat the defenseless Brimsek.

The Bruins were a hopelessly beaten outfit when Grosso scored for the third time with a bit more than a minute to go. He had little trouble filtering thru the Boston defense to the crease, and he launched his shot from close range after taking Wares' pass-out.

KALIN'S HOMER WITH 2 ON TOPS SEVEN RUN 5TH

9 Blows Made Off Ed Hanyzewski.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 7.—The White Sox were in no mood for frivolity this afternoon while engaged in the third of the so-called camp practice meetings with the Cubs. The American leaguers, who may have wished to prove that they do not subscribe to what Manager James Wilson thinks are his choicest pitchers, figuratively blasted Paul Derringer and Ed Hanyzewski, failing only before Hi Bithorn in a performance that terminated with the National leaguers on the profitless end of a 13 to 2 score.

The Sox, who usually are modest fellows while handling their bats, let go with 16 blows, a total so bulky that it even threw the Cub defense into confusion. On the other hand, the Cubs found the going so tough on attack that they quickly gave up thoughts of taking a 2 to 1 lead in the preliminary series. They concentrated on dodging a shutout and that relief didn't appear until the seventh, up to which point they owned only three safeties.

Only One Hit Off Grove.

The lean batting display was more than a little annoying for the Cubs because the treatment was directed by obscure artists of the Jim Dykes' staff. Pitching for the first time since last summer, Orval Grove didn't appear to be distressed by operations on his knees. In three innings he was delayed only by one single, and the Cubs didn't improve the pace to any extent during a similar stretch by Gordon Maltzberger from Shreveport. He was hit only twice. But Floyd Speer, the other Shreveport graduate, brought happiness. He let the Cubs shower him for their two runs.

With Julius Solters in left and Wally Moses in right for the first time, the Sox started off with what, pitchers excepted, might be the layout on opening day. Solters, who did all right, was excused after five innings, but Moses had to linger for the duration, there being no replacement. But Dykes made as many replacements as possible, and if he did it with the idea of easing the pressure on the Cubs he was disappointed.

Kalin Hits Home Run.

The choicest of the Sox hits came from Frank Kalin, the Hollywood purchase who filled in for Ralph Hodgin. The latter had been shifted from right to center for the occasion. Kalin took over for Hodgin in the fifth and gave 2,000 Red Cross fund contributors something to shout about by sailing one of Hanyzewski's pitches beyond the reach of Phil Cavarretta for a three run homer. He's the same gentleman whose ninth inning nonstop trip nosed out the Cubs in the first game. Hanyzewski gave up nine hits in the three innings he worked.

The one run scored by the Sox off Derringer in the first inning couldn't be considered excess production in view of the items involved. Altogether, there were three hits with two errors. Luke Appling singled with one out and went to second on Derringer's wild throw to Heinz Becker, going home from there on Joe Kuhel's single. Solters

ROLLER DERBY SKATERS PANIC ALL CONCERNED

Event Is Reminiscent of Keystone Comedies.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Roller Derby opened last night in the armory, but it was all so fast and loud and rough and terrifying that it's a cinch the more timid spectators won't be able to stand it for another 25 days.

With high speed skates roaring on the wooden track, the boys and girls were blocking, bumping, and catapulting each other clean over the rail into the aisles without slowing down. At some of the high spots of the pandemonium, the officials suddenly would act as tho they'd blown their tops. They'd jump up and down waving their arms and tooting their whistles like all get out. Thereupon a siren would begin to wail. That seemed to frighten even the skaters, because it always restored a measure of order if you could tell the difference.

What! No Pie Throwing?

The show takes you away back. When the siren begins to howl you think for sure that the Keystone cops are coming out now. And any minute you expect to see the skatres start throwing pies at the officials. Mack Sennett would have bought the whole show.

A young man by the name of Bob Satterfield, who is captain of the Chicago team, apparently is training to double for the Lone Ranger in his more dangerous stunts such as riding a horse off a railroad bridge or falling down a canyon. Satterfield last night made the spectators wonder just how much battering the human body can stand. Before the show was well under way young Satterfield

[a] Was flung over the rail at top speed, landing in the front row seats and proceeding thence to the concrete floor;

[b] Sailed several feet into the air after being thumped by a rival on a turn and came down with a solid whack on his spine;

[c] Fell flat on his face while leading the pack and barely escaped being ground to fragments under the roaring skates behind him.

Girls Are Even Rougher.

After witnessing all these nerve wracking sights while the boys were on the track, the spectators thought sure that they could sit back and relax while the girls were carrying on. But they were even rougher. They smacked each other down and they ground their teeth in rage when frustrated in their attempts to steal a lap. They sat and pounded their fists on the boards in towering frenzy. But just when the hair pulling seemed about to start, that siren would always start to howl. And that would scare them so much they'd go along quietly for a while.

Tommy Atkinson scored seven points as California defeated the Chicago entry, 14 to 13, to take a one point lead in the series last night.

cising right at home. These were Detroit, Green Bay, New York, Brooklyn, and the Chicago Cardinals. The Chicago Bears will return to their Delafield, Wis., quarters. Pittsburgh will train either at home or in nearby Hershey, Pa., Philadelphia will decide between a local base or a spot no farther removed than 100 miles. The champion Washington Redskins will drill at home, unless the navy requests that the team play a war charity game in California.

No Objection to 25 Player Limit.

George Marshall, owner of the Redskins, said that his team would not make the trip to California unless directed to do so in the interests of the charity game.

As expected, the dropping of the player limit to 25, carried thru without objection. This will result in a further saving of railroad travel. Layden estimated that a saving of 37 per cent will be effected over 1942 when the league schedule required 1,935,780 man miles. The 33 player limit became effective in 1940. Fifteen years ago the team maximum was 18. Coaches unanimously agreed that 25 players would be adequate.

Free Substitution War Measure.

The free substitution rule was invoked only for the war's duration, this being recognized as an asset in the face of smaller squads. Players, under this system, will be allowed to come and go from the field at will.

A report that the league would be narrowed to eight teams with Philadelphia and Pittsburgh fusing was emphatically denied by Harry Thayer, business manager of the Philadelphia club.

"At no time have officials of the Eagles and Steelers discussed this possibility," declared Thayer. "The Philadelphia club at present has six men on its roster.

"I'm not going to say that we will be successful in this. Times are too uncertain. If we do not have 25 men when the training season starts, then it will be time to ask the league to help us out if possible. We are anxious to operate and intend to do so."

However, Art Rooney, vice president and treasurer of the Pittsburgh club, admitted that such a deal might be a remote possibility in the event it became apparent later in the year that neither team could recruit a squad large enough to enter the race.

SMILIN' JACK—DEATH SENTENCE!

Barry Battles Way to Title After Dixon Retires

[This is the third of a series on Jimmy Barry, retired undefeated world bantamweight champion, who died recently.]

BY FRANK MASTRO.

When George [Little Chocolate] Dixon abdicated the world bantamweight championship in 1894, there were many claimants, including Caspar Leon of New York; Davey Ross, Boston; Jack Madden, also of New York, and Jimmy Gorman of New Orleans.

However, these pretenders reckoned without Jimmy Barry, product of McGurn's handball court, north side boxing center. At the time, Barry was 24 years old and had scored a string of victories, which caused even Parson Davies, the Mike Jacobs of that era, to take notice.

Hits Peak Against McGrath.

Barry, whose speed, cleverness, and punching already had made previous foes look like novices, reached his peak the night he knocked out Joe McGrath, bantam champion of Ireland. The finish came in the third round in a vaudeville theater at Madison street and Union avenue.

The feat caused Davies to sign Barry to a management contract. Parson issued a challenge for a bout with Gorman in New Orleans. Barry knocked Gorman out in the 11th round, thereby gaining his first piece of the vacated throne. Next was Leon, a match with the New Yorker being arranged for Lemont, Ill., for a $1,000 purse, $800 of which was to go to the winner. The fighting little Irishman knocked out the rugged Caspar in the 28th round. In 1895 Jimmy disposed of Ross in two rounds in Boston, and Madden in four in New York.

Teaches Anthony a Lesson.

Barry's next important test was against Jimmy Anthony, Australian title holder, who came to the United States purposely to meet the boxing master from Chicagoo. The dapper Jimmy made a monkey of Anthony, as the saying goes, and was awarded the decision in 20 rounds in San Francisco, April 27, 1897. By this time the modest, little fellow was acknowledged to be the world's greatest bantamweight and a fit successor to the matchless Dixon. However, there remained one disputant, Walter Croot, the English champion. The battle was held in the National Sporting club in London, ending in the 20th round with the death of Croot. Tommy White, leading featherweight of the period who seconded Barry accompanied him on the next boat home. Jimmy was depressed.

[The fourth and final article will appear tomorrow.]

Dorais Drops Plan to Visit Pro Meeting

Gus Dorais new coach of the Detroit Lions, will be unable to attend today's draft meeting of the National Football league, after all. His physician yesterday ordered the former University of Detroit coach to remain in Detroit. However, owner Fred Mandel, who will draw the Lions' 20 players, will contact Dorais by phone in the event he feels the need of advice.

The Lions will get first pick and Mandel is expected to take the name of Frankie Sinkwich off the board. Sinkwich, Georgia's great back from Youngstown, O., now is in the marine reserves, but might look good in the Lions' back field a few years hence.

The draw, in order after Detroit, will be Philadelphia, Cardinals, Brooklyn, Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh, Green Bay, Bears and Washington. On the first go around each team will select a player. On the next round, only the five lower teams will participate, then all 10 will grab the next time. The fourth round the five weaker teams will have it all to themselves. Thereafter, each will go thru with their choices until reaching the 20 mark.

OPEN JAMAICA MEETING TODAY

18 to Run in the $5,000 Handicap.

New York, April 7 (AP). — New York opens its 180 day racing season and introduces some of the fancier Kentucky Derby eligibles tomorrow at Jamaica.

The campaign starts with a card headed by the $5,000 six furlong Experimental handicap, which drew a field of 18 3 year olds today. Thirteen of these are Derby hopes and two of them — Blue Swords and Slide Rule—are regarded as more than just outsiders for the big pot at Churchill Downs on May 1.

Expect Big Season.

In spite of war, all signs point to another profitable campaign. State Racing Commissioner Herbert Bayard Swope says the state's revenue may be just as big as in 1942, when the treasury took $10,000,000 from total betting of some $175,000,000.

Naturally, the way the Derby eligibles go holds the spotlight tomorrow. Blue Swords, winner of $35,065 last year and pride of Allen T. Simmons of Akron, O., is second choice only to Count Fleet in the Derby books. Slide Rule, also a stake winner in '42, took on added prominence last week when his stablemate, Devil's Thumb, was dropped from the Derby by an injury, leaving him as the varsity from the barn of W. E. Boeing of Seattle.

Gets 126 Pound Impost.

Blue Swords is top weighted under 126 pounds, six more than Slide Rule. It will be the first outing of the year for each of the colts.

Of the Derby candidates which saw winter action best liked is Mrs. A. R. Smith's Through Bound, particularly since the six furlong sprint distance of the Experimental figures to fit him better than either Blue Swords or Slide Rule.

VOCATIONAL MAT TEAM WILL MEET MOUNT CARMEL

Chicago Vocational High school of the City league and Mount Carmel of the Catholic league will wind up their wrestling seasons tomorrow night at Mount Carmel in a post-season meet. Vocational defeated the Caravan in an earlier meeting and hopes to make it two straight to avenge last year's two defeats by the home team.

Each year Mount Carmel puts on at least one wrestling meet in the evening to enable parents and friends to see the team in action. The Catholic league does not sponsor wrestling and Mount Carmel is the only league school to have a wrestling team. It encountered six other City league teams besides meeting Vocational and in addition met Culver Military academy at Culver, Ind.

Five members of the Vocational team were runners-up in the City league finals, while Chuck Hinde, Mount Carmel 155 pounder, won the A. A. U. novice title this season. Two other Mount Carmel wrestlers, Art Leck, 105 pounds, and Marty O'Donnell, 125 pounds, won third place awards in the A. A. U. novice divisions.

Vocational is coached by Charles Chamberlain, Mount Carmel by Father Howard Rafferty and he is assisted by Brother Stanislaus Reybitz.

The Catholic High school league yesterday released its softball schedule. Seven members of the league will play 42 games, beginning April 16 and concluding May 22. Each team will meet the other six teams twice in a double round robin series.

CANNON, STENSON WIN IN LIONS A. C. HANDBALL MEET

Tonight's matches in the Central A. A. U. state doubles handball tournament at the Lions A. C. will send Ruppert Barnes and Starr Johnson of the Joliet Y. M. C. A. against Roy Laser and Marty Eritt of the Midwest A. C. at 7:30 o'clock and Paddy Cannon and John Stenson, also of Midwest, against Louis Englestein and Jim Tunney, unattached.

Cannon and Stenson advanced last night over July Borelle and Mike Gentile of the Lawson Y. M. C. A., 21-6, 21-6. Bob Kendler and Bill Bayer of the Division Street Y. M. C. A. eliminated George Robinson and Roy Thompson of the Lion club, 21-11, 21-13, in another match last night.

Trailing 21-15, 12-7, Harold Gradman and Ed Carrol of the Madison A. C. were forced to default in their second round match last night against Tom Kane and Larry Faul of the Irving Park Y. M. C. A. when Carrol suffered a dislocation of the right ankle.

Golf Balls, 123 Dozen, Are Off to War Today

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

One hundred twenty-three dozen golf balls will make their last appearance in Chicago today, prior to joining the war. These 1,476 pellets are the same which have been used in the official testing agency of the United States Golf association at the Armour Research foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology. They were submitted by American sports manufacturers for tests conducted by Dr. Carl Anderson of the foundation.

Now these golf balls are on a new mission, that of providing athletic ammunition for service men in such overseas posts where they can still play golf on leave, notably Australia and the British Isles. Today they'll be crated and turned over to local Red Cross officials, who will forward them overseas.

All in Good Condition.

All of these balls are in excellent condition, having been used only to the extent of determining whether they conformed with U. S. G. A. rules. The real, the unwitting donors, are golf ball manufacturers who during the last several years have sent the sample balls for periodic checkups in the U. S. G. A. laboratory at Illinois Tech.

The idea of donating them for the recreation of military men overseas sprang from a letter sent U. S. G. A. headquarters last November by Sergt. Frankie Strafaci, the handsome young Brooklyn Italian who formerly held the U. S. G. A. public links championship and twice won the Metropolitan amateur title.

Eight Rounds with One Ball.

Strafaci, writing from the southwest Pacific area, said:

"People here have been very kind to all of us. There is a golf course here and many of the boys can use it. They'd like to play, but golf balls are very scarce. I've played eight rounds with one ball. I still have it. Last week a friend sent me a dozen new ones and they were more than welcome. A few hundred balls would be priceless. It will be summer here shortly. How about lending us balls for the summer? We'll return them for your summer, sort of a merry-go-round."

By Chamberlain, professional at Glen Oak for the last six years, will leave tomorrow for his new post as pro at the Fort Wayne, Ind., Counround. Incidentally, I finally had a hot round [most of them have been terrible]. It was 66, eight under the course par of 74."

Fishermen's Lead Taken by Anderson

BY BEN MARKLAND.

Vince Anderson has been fishing the lakes and streams of the middle west for over 15 years, but until a year ago he never had bothered to compete in casting tournaments. When he did take up the platform game, in last year's Tribune casting competition, he was runner-up for the fishemen's championship. Last night he came back for his second trial and took over the lead of the fishermen's event by scoring 96 in the tournament being held at the Stadium in conjunction with the International Sportsmen's show.

Vince, who lives at 11316 Avenue L., had a 98 score in prospect until the ninth ring, but was two feet away from that target and then hit the final ring perfectly to finish with 96. This mark was three points better than that of his nearest competitor, George Huguelet, 17 year old member of the casting Huguelet clan of 3253 North Okley avenue.

Qualifies on Third Attempt.

George is the youngest of three brothers who have been competing in the Tribune tourney regularly for the last seven years. Milton, who won a number of titles in the junior and fishermen's competition, is in the army now, but brother Glenn joined George in last night's event and placed fourth with a score of 89.

Howard Kingsbury, 6810½ South Lowe avenue, placed third last night with a mark of 92. This was his third try. In the tournaments of the last two years he failed by narrow margins to reach the championship field, so Saturday's finals will provide him with the chance for which he has been working since 1941.

More Fishermen Tonight.

Other qualifiers from last night's event were James Hudecek, Roy Knackstedt, Eddie Marzek, and Ellsworth Listerman.

The final session of the fishermen's event will be held tonight starting at 6:45 with competition continuing until 8 o'clock.

JACK WILL FACE MONTGOMERY IN GARDEN MAY 21

New York, April 7 (AP).—Beau Jack will make the first defense of his half of the world lightweight championship against Philadelphia Bob Montgomery in a 15 round bout in Madison Square Garden May 21, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced today.

Agua Caliente Track Will Reopen on May 2

Los Angeles, Cal., April 7 (AP).—The Agua Caliente, Mexico, race-track will reopen Sunday, May 2, Edward Nealis, president of the Caliente Jockey club, reported today. The opening will come six days before the close of California's Bay Meadows season. The Agua Caliente track has been closed since Oct. 18.

Veterans Are Scarce as Leo Drills Begin

Leo High school, defending Catholic league and city-wide football champions, opened up its spring football session with a lengthy workout yesterday in Shewbridge field.

Coach A. L. [Whitey] Cronin, who guided Leo to the Catholic league championship for the last three years and to victories over Tilden Tech, the City league title holder in the annual charity games in Soldiers' field the last two years, is faced with the necessity of replacing 10 of his 11 starters lost thru graduation. Only Capt. Elect Bob Walsh, 6 foot regular end, will return.

Cronin Signs Collins.

Cronin also announced the signing of Corny Collins as assistant coach. Collins, a graduate of Loyola university, served in the same capacity at St. Rita under Dan Lamont but resigned when Lamont retired to his legal business. Collins replaces Johnny Johnson, Cronin's assistant for 12 years, who retired from coaching to tend to his legal business in Lemont, Ill.

Leo has two splendid back field prospects in Bob Barry and Neil Dauphinee. These boys probably were good enough to play on any other first team in the league. Last year Leo's first string back field consisted of Bob Kelly, Bob Hanlon, Bob Carr, and Don Murphy. San Claverilla is another letterman who showed promise last year, as did Bill Borelli, 175 pound full back.

Line Material Available.

Promising material for the line is expected to be developed from Jim Gannon and Pat Connolly, right and left tackle, respectively; Tommy McCarthy, center; Ray O'Donnell, end; and Frank Nessinger and John Kopeshever, guards. All in all, more than 80 candidates were in uniform for yesterday's drill.

DEALT 1,500 HAND.

Mrs. Harley Unger of Arlington Heights was dealt a 1,500 hand in a pinochle game yesterday. She held all the spades except the two nines.

POCIASK PITCHES TULEY TO NO HIT 10 TO 0 VICTORY

Evanston, Morgan Park Nines Win.

PRACTICE GAMES.
Tuley, 10; Von Steuben, 0.
Morgan Park, 8; Phillips, 3.
Evanston, 11; Sullivan, 2.
Harrison at Lane Tech, postponed.

Eugene Pociask pitched a no hit, no run game against Von Steuben High school yesterday in Humboldt park as Tuley scored a 10 to 0 triumph in a practice baseball game. Pociask, who is 18 years old and expects to be inducted into the army soon, struck out 11 and walked only 1. Von Steuben failed to get the ball out of the infield. Tuley scored in every inning but the second.

Evanston swamped Sullivan, 11 to 2, in Evanston for its fourth victory of the season over a City league team. Evanston made only six hits but used four errors by Sullivan and numerous bases on balls to a good advantage. Sullivan scored its two runs on five hits.

Morgan Park combined its eight hits with five errors by Phillips to defeat the latter, 8 to 3, in Buettner park in a five inning practice game. The contest scheduled between Harrison and Lane Tech at Lane was postponed, but the two rivals will meet this afternoon in Douglas park.

Scores by innings:

Von Steuben ....000 000 0— 0 0 8

EDWARDS HITS HOMER IN NINTH; INDIANS WIN, 4-3

Hallett Is Losing Pitcher for Pittsburgh.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7 (AP).—Henry Edwards' homer over the right field wall in the last half of the ninth gave the Cleveland Indians a 4 to 3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates here today. It was their first victory in three games with the Pirates.

Hank Gornicki blanked the Indians for five innings, but Harry Shuman lasted only one round when three American league blows tied the score. Jack Hallett finished and yielded two hits, including the home run which beat him.

Lou Boudreau, who hit two singles, was the only player to get more than one safety. Scores:

Pittsburgh	010 020 000—3	6	1
Cleveland	000 003 001—4	9	2

Batteries—Gornicki, Shannon, Hallett and Baker; Naymick, Salveson, Center and Desautels.

BOSTON BLANKS ORIOLES.

Baltimore, Md., April 7 (AP).—The Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles of the International league today, 11 to 0, behind the pitching of Tex Hughson and Oscar Judd.

Batteries—Hughson, Judd and Bremer; Waldt, G. Mueller and Pare, Becker.

YANKS WHIP NEWARK.

Asbury Park, N. J., April 7 (AP).—The New York Yankees, making their only exhibition appearance at their seaside training camp, walloped the Newark Bears of the International league, 14 to 0, today before 3,584.

Newark	000 000 000— 0	4	3

Batteries—Hausmann, Baker, Fallon and Cronin, Garbark; Donald, Byrne, Murphy and Robinson.

A'S, TORONTO PLAY TO TIE.

Lancaster, Pa., April 7 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics and the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International league held a scoreless duel called at the end of nine innings here today.

Three of Burleigh Grimes' pitchers held the A's to two hits—singles by Jojo White and Eddie Mayo. The Leafs collected six safeties, with First Baseman Schadler getting two and one-armed Pete Gray beating out a bunt and stealing second in addition to pegging out White at second when Jojo tried to stretch his single. Score:

Toronto	000 000 000—0	6	0

Batteries—Christopher, Lowry, Black and Swift, Wagner; Conger, Smola, Strincevich and Crompton, Williams.

DETROIT DIVIDES SQUAD.

Evansville, Ind., April 7 (AP).—Coach Steve O'Neill divided the Detroit Tigers into two squads of 12 players each today to meet the exigencies of an exhibition schedule that calls for the club to be in two places next Sunday.

Coach Al Vincent will direct a traveling squad that will meet the Pittsburgh Pirates in Muncie, Ind., Saturday and the Minneapolis Millers in Terre Haute Sunday. O'Neill will remain with a so-called home team that will play the Pirates here Sunday.

BROWNS' HITTERS POTENT

Cape Girardeau, Mo., April 7 (AP).—The hitters in the St. Louis Browns' lineup pounded their pitcher mates again today in a final 11th intrasquad game.

Catcher Frankie Hayes, who worked nine innings for the first time, contributed a triple and single to his team's 14 hit attack. There were home runs by Pitcher Rick Ferrell, Pinch Hitter Paul Dean and Mike Chartak. Infielder Floyd Baker, a graduate of the Texas league, again hit safely three times.

PHILLIES WIN, 5 TO 3.

Hershey, Pa., April 7 (AP).—The Philadelphia Phillies scored a 5 to 3 decision over the service unit nine of New Cumberland, Pa., with Tommy Hughes, former Philly hurler, charged with the soldiers' defeat.

Philadelphia	210 011—5	6	0
New Cumberland	300 000—3	4	4

Batteries—Kraus, Fuchs, and Livingston; Hughes, Tiske, and Peterman.

CARDINAL STAR READY

Cairo, Ill., April 7 (AP).—Pitcher Morton Cooper probably will be ready for the opening of the Cardinals' seven game series in St. Louis with the Browns Saturday.

Word from St. Louis caused Manager Billy Southworth to rejoice. Mort Cooper's back injury is not serious, the club surgeon disclosed, and he should not be out of any of the early games.

CHARITY RACING WEEK OFFICIALS ARE ANNOUNCED

The Illinois Racing board yesterday announced the official family which will serve during the charity week of racing at Sportsman's Park, which opens on Saturday, April 24.

William A. Hamilton again will represent the racing board in the stewards' stand. He will be assisted by J. J. Graddy and R. P. McAuliffe. The placing judges are W. R. Dahlstrom, W. J. Shelley, and W. A. Regan; the patrol judges will be A. Nun, G. Swain, and R. Stubbs. Roy [Boots] Dickerson will be the starter; J. P. Gruber, paddock judge; G. W. Morrow, clerk of the scales; C. L. Trimble, timer; L. A. Shumway, mutuel manager, and P. J. Galliger, racing secretary and track handicapper.

Approval of the stewards, placing and patrol judges was given subject to compliance with the racing board rule requiring an eye examination.

Outfielder Ernie Koy Is Sworn In by Navy

San Antonio, Tex., April 7 (AP).—Ernie Koy, former outfielder with the St. Louis Cards and Cincinnati Reds, today volunteered for service as an apprentice seaman in the United States navy. He was sworn in at Fort Sam Houston.

THE GUMPS—A LITTLE STRANGER

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—ARM OF COINCIDENCE IS SHORT

DODGERS BEAT YALE NINE, 2-1

Score Twice in Ninth on One Hit.

New Haven, Conn., April 7 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers encountered unexpected opposition from Red Rolfe's Yale baseball team today but won out in the ninth inning, 2 to 1. All the scoring came in the ninth when Bob Brutcher, who pitched the last four innings for Yale, weakened and yielded two runs on a single hit.

Brooklyn	000 000 002—2	6	2

Batteries: Higbe, Chipman, Sherer, and Bragan; Cahill, Brutcher, and Lockhart.

SENATORS BEAT NAVY.

Annapolis, Md., April 7 (AP).—The Washington Senators had their hands full today to defeat the Naval academy nine, 10 to 8.

Washington	800 010 01—10	8	6
Navy	001 003 31— 8	9	3

Batteries—Mertz, Carrasquel, Sheets and Early; Williams, Mueller and Snyder.

GIANTS, HUBBELL WIN.

Lakewood, N. J., April 7 (AP).—The New York Giants unveiled Carl Hubbell today as they whipped the Ellis Island Coast Guard nine, 11 to 2. Hubbell, making his first start of the exhibition season, delighted a crowd of 3,500 with one hit pitching during the three innings he was on the mound. He fanned six, retiring the Coast Guard boys on strikes in the second inning. Rookie Ken Trinkle, with Baltimore last year, finished the game and was touched for four safeties. Score:

Ellis Island	000 020 000— 2	5	4
New York	611 000 30*—11	14	1

Batteries—Kunts, Clayton, Lippold and Aragon, Farriolo, Majeski; Hubbell, Trinkle and Poland, Berres.

REDS TRIUMPH, 8-6.

Bloomington, Ind., April 7 [Special].—The Cincinnati Reds beat Indianapolis of the American Association, 8 to 6 today, in a game featured by nine triples and Max Marshall's home run. Johnny Vander Meer struck out eight in five innings.

Cincinnati	200 410 100—8	14	0
Indianapolis	130 001 010—6	9	2

Batteries—Vander Meer, Beggs and Mueller; Tauscher, Reid and Schluster.

MONARCHS LOSE TWO BUT KEEP CLASSIC LEAD

The Monarch Beers retained their lead of a single game in the Classic bowling league last night despite the loss of two out of three in their match with the Schlitz five.

The Thompson Restaurants rolled the high total of the night, 3,127, in taking two from the U. S. Beers, who had the second high series, 3,084. The victory moved the Thompsons into a tie for second with the Joseph L. Gills, who were dropping two to the Ambrosias.

In the other matches, Prima Pilsner and Budweiser won two each from Meister Brau and Washington Shirts. Johnny Small took individual honors with a 278 game and a 706 series. Scores:

The Logan Square Buicks won three from the Thompson Tennis Strings. The Goransons counted high series of 2,715 and Marigold Arcade had high individual game with 990.

Prof. Curtright Applies Higher Theory of Batting

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 7.—If any of the White Sox wish to brush up on their mathematics or even add a few two dollar words to their vocabularies, they'll not have any trouble finding a teacher. There's one available in Guy Curtright, the well muscled lad from the St. Paul club, who, however, is not in camp for the purpose of spreading education. He's here solely because he aims to do a little fly catching as well as hitting for the James Dykes' cause this season, but if any of the boys should want to straighten out a triangle without the use of hammer and nails, he'll gladly lend assistance.

Guy Curtright.

Curtright is one of those fellows who had to wait a long time before enjoying his first cup of big league coffee. Nine years to be exact and he might still be bouncing around the minors, notwithstanding one season after another of impressive batting marks, if war conditions hadn't forced the majors to be less choosey in their selections. The closest he ever came to major recognition was as a member of the Detroit club's extensive farm system which Commissioner Landis dynamited three years ago. Curtright was one of the many players declared a free agent.

Both Teacher and Player.

Curtright graduated from Kirksville, Mo., Teachers college in '34, fully intending to be a teacher and yet having a strong liking for baseball. He compromised with himself by doing both and he's still operating on that basis.

The athlete broke into pro ball at Sioux City after finishing his schooling in '34 and the same season was moved to Muskogee, Okla., which was where he fell in with the Detroit chain gang. In '35 he was moved to the Tigers' No. 1 farm at Beaumont, Tex., but finished the season with Henderson, Tex. When there was no baseball to be played during this stretch he taught math in Missouri high schools.

Jobs Were Numerous.

He was still with the Henderson club in '36, and in 1937 was transferred to Charleston, W. Va. His side job during this period was coaching basketball at Central Wesleyan, Warrentown, Mo. He also had been a physical education instructor as well as football and basketball coach at Henderson, Tex., to which he was returned for baseball in 1938.

The Detroit club which had owned him all this time, sold him to Shreveport for the 1939 season but the deal wasn't closed before Commissioner Landis began to look into complaints the parent club had been pushing the chain gang members around contrary to baseball etiquette. When the blowoff came, Curtright sold his free agency back to Shreveport which had lost the player thru no fault of its own. He stayed there thru '41, then being purchased by the Saints for '42.

In the fall of '41, Curtright enrolled at the University of Missouri for post-graduate work and while there was a member of the coaching staff. At present he's on leave from his job as physical education instructor and football, basketball, and track coach at Mexico, Mo.

Sox Hammer Hanyzewski; Defeat Cubs

singled and Cavarretta booted the hit, the flurry leaving runners on third and second, for both Don Kolloway and Moses popped out.

Appling also launched the two run assault on Derringer in the third, the contribution being a single with one out. Kuhel walked and moved ahead with Appling as Len Merullo tossed out Solters from deep short. A single by Kolloway sent Appling home and a single by Moses scored Kuhel to complete the damage against Derringer.

Cubs Escape Shutout.

Hanyzewski was perfect in the fourth and kept this pace until one was out in the fifth. The seven run deluge started gently with a pass to Kuhel, who didn't have an opportunity to move up until after Solters had popped out. Kolloway singled and Moses walked, loading the bags. Then Dick Culler, who supplanted Dick Grant, Mike Tresh and Maltzberger singled in succession for four runs. The three others appeared quickly, the motive power coming from Kalin's homer which hopped past Cavarretta with the speed of a jack rabbit headed for a lettuce patch.

Singles by Kuhel and Guy Curtright arranged the sixth inning setting that boosted the Sox's total to 13 runs. After Kolloway had been tossed out, Moses beat out a high bounder, loading the bases. Culler singled again, Kuhel and Curtright going home and Moses following on Tresh's fly ball. A moment later the Cubs dodged the whitewash menace on Bill Nicholson's double, a pass to Dom Dallessandro, and singles by Merullo and pinch man, Walter Ringhoefer.

RED CROSS GETS CUBS-SOX 'GATE'

Lotshaw Leads Pre-Game Ceremonies.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 7.—The Red Cross, for which today's Cubs-White Sox game was played, overcame the fact that the ladies of the admission committee had neither fences nor turnstiles to aid them in getting the dough in the till. They got the money by posting collectors on paths leading to the diamond and later asked for voluntary contributions. A Red Cross button was the token of the spectators in good standing. The attendance was estimated at 2,000.

Dr. Andy Lotshaw, Cub trainer, assistant White Sox trainer, National league umpire pro-tem, head groundskeeper for the Cubs and Sox, and ballroom dancer par excellence, was marshal of a patriotic demonstration preceding the game. He had the players of both teams form a victory V on the baselines as he led the snappy high school band in the playing of the national anthem. The doctor also made the announcement inviting the patrons to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

The White Sox will play a soldier team at George army field near Vincennes tomorrow. The Cubs will remain here for routine exercises. The Cubs will play the Cincinnati Reds Friday on Indiana's Jordan field in Bloomington.

Both Chicago teams will engage American association teams Saturday and Sunday. The Cubs will play the Louisville Colonels in Louisville and the White Sox have begun to plan for transportation which may take them to Lafayette to play the Indianapolis Indians.

Members of the Cubs and White Sox recalled today as they perspired in southern Indiana's joyous clime that one year ago they were caught in a blizzard in Tucumcari, N. M., a storm so severe that all sat in a hotel lobby all day as snow swirled past the windows without abatement.

John Miklos, lefty pitcher who has been here with the Cubs, will return to Chicago to ponder whether he should go back to the Chicago police department on the expiration of his furlough April 10, or accept an assignment to the Milwaukee Brewers.

Violin and guitar duets by Umpire Art Passarella of the American league and Third Baseman Jim Grant of the Sox, which guests of the French Lick Springs hotel have been enjoying every evening, must, perforce, be suspended over the week-end. Grant will play in Lafayette and Passarella will umpire.

KOSLOWSKI, N.U. FROSH, TO JOIN ARMY SATURDAY

Henry Koslowski, the Northwestern freshman who recently established a world record in winning the National Collegiate Athletic association 50 yard free style swimming title, has been called to active duty in the army enlisted reserve and will report at Fort Sheridan Saturday.

The Lane Tech graduate, who attended Ohio State and Illinois prior to enrolling at Northwestern, became the first Wildcat freshman to win a varsity letter since the lifting of the freshman rule when he was awarded an 'N' for his feats in the meet at Columbus, O.

WOODED TRAILS OF CHICAGOLAND BECKON HIKERS

They Don't Worry Over Gasoline Shortage.

BY BOB BECKER.

The family automobile may be shy of gas these days, but the hundreds of hiking enthusiasts in Chicagoland aren't worrying about that situation when it comes to getting outdoors, for they are using their shoe leather on country lanes, forest preserve trails and wooded paths while exploring the countryside near Chicago. The healthful and invigorating sport of walking has been growing in popularity recently, say leaders of hiking clubs, and there now are more clubs interested in cross country walks than at any time since this group activity was started.

In nearly every corner of Chicagoland there are clubs now promoting the old fashioned but healthful hobby of walking. The Prairie club, Chicago's pioneer walking club, incorporated in 1911, continues to stage its short and long treks into different corners of Chicagoland every week.

Church Supports Clubs.

On the south side the Englewood Outdoor club conducts its hikes weekly. The Outing club, sponsored by the Chicago Park district, has been in existence since 1936. Vern F. Herlund, general supervisor of physical activities, Chicago Park district, says that the Lutheran churches in the Chicago area have a number of clubs.

Lloyd Faxon, Winnetka, Ill., one of the most active boosters of the woods and lanes walking movement, leads large groups of hikers every week from a north shore rendezvous. Members of the North Shore Hiking club of which Faxon is the director, and the Highland Park and Waukegan clubs, walk together every Sunday morning. Oak Park has its group of hiking enthusiasts. Evanston, Joliet, Chatham Park, Berwyn and other communities have organized groups of outdoor fans who get together for a weekly hike.

Newcomers Are Welcome.

All of the walking, physical fitness and outdoor clubs in Chicagoland welcome kindred spirits who like to walk and enjoy good companionship. Some of the clubs require no membership fee at all. In others the fee is small.

A number of interesting walks of varying distances are scheduled for this and following weeks when spring comes to Chicagoland. To keep outdoor fans posted on the different hikes and also make it easy for them to contact a leader of each group, the weekly schedule of all the walks will be printed in these pages every Thursday. Following is the program for this week. All of these outings are open to the public:

SATURDAY.

Brewers Hold First Hard Spring Drill

Waukesha, Wis., April 7 [Special].—The Milwaukee Brewers put in their first hard workout of the year today as they experienced the best weather since they came to Waukesha Sunday. The three hour session was climaxed by a fast fielding drill with the infield about intact. Grey Clarke was at third, Tony York at short, John Hudson and Don Johnson on second and Merv Connors at first.

Bill Veeck, president of the Milwaukee club, announced a series of exhibition games would be played when the squad was more complete. Included among the opponents will be Camp Grant, the University of Wisconsin and possibly some Milwaukee semi-pro nines.

Expected in camp soon are Prince Oana, Hawaiian pitcher counted on as a starter; Ted Norbert, home run king from Portland who was purchased recently; Frank Secory, veteran outfielder, and Hy Vanderberg, another mainstay of the mound staff. The Brewers' biggest losses from 1942 are Hal Peck, now with Brooklyn, and Eddie Stanky and Heinz Becker, two hard hitting infielders now property of the Chicago Cubs.

LEHMAN ASSETS RISE TO $34.54 A SHARE IN MARCH

Net Ordinary Income Up in Quarter.

Substantial market appreciation in the portfolio of the Lehman corporation, New York investing company, was shown yesterday in the quarterly report of Robert Lehman, president. The stock had a net asset value of $34.54 a share on March 31, compared with $29.54 on Dec. 31, 1942, and $25.09 on June 30, 1942.

The March figure was above the amount per share originally paid in to the corporation in September, 1929, which, adjusted to reflect the three for one stock split effected in 1937, was $33.33 a share.

Income Rises Slightly.

Net ordinary income for the quarter was $545,422, or 27 cents a share, against $529,876, or 26 cents a share in the 1942 period. The figure for the first nine months of the company's fiscal year was $1,870,000, or 95 cents a share.

Gross assets at market or appraised values totaled $69,923,717 at the quarter's end, and were divided: 8.5 per cent in cash or government bonds, 5.9 per cent in other bonds, 79.8 per cent in common stocks, and 5.7 per cent in preferred stocks.

Securities, other than United States government obligations, with a value of $5,118,000 were sold during the quarter and others with a value of $5,623,000 were purchased, indicating a net increase in portfolio investments of about $505,000.

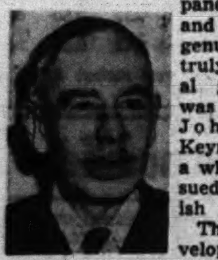
BRITAIN TELLS KEYNES CREDIT PLAN DETAILS

World Bank Would Subordinate Gold.

LONDON, April 7 (AP).—A world credit institution, designed to expand world trade and serve as "a genuine organ of truly international government," was proposed by John Maynard Keynes today in a white paper issued by the British government.



John M. Keynes.

The plan, developed by the economist and advisor to the exchequer in collaboration with other government experts, set forth as a basis for discussion an allied nations "international clearing union" to have executive offices in New York and London.

It would operate as a bank of nations, creditor nations allowing their balances to accumulate as deposits, while the union would lend these deposits for short periods to debtor nations, just as a commercial bank accepts deposits and makes loans.

Plan Subordinates Gold.

The plan subordinates gold, in contrast with the United States treasury's proposal for a 5 billion dollar international stabilization fund, and says "the purpose of the clearing union is to supplant gold as a governing factor, but not dispose with it."

The union would keep its accounts in a currency, "to be called [let us say] Bancor, fixed [but not unalterably] in terms of gold and accepted as the equivalent of gold" by all members of the union for settling international balances. [The United States proposal suggests a currency called Unitas, with a fixed value of 10 gold dollars.]

The union would not do business with traders and commercial banks, but only with central banks and similar institutions, such as the federal reserve in the United States.

Each nation would be given quotas, governing both their borrowings and their deposits, based on the volume of their world trade, and altered from time to time. No fixed sum is mentioned.

Balanced Dealings Seen.

Keynes outlined the institution as a mechanism thru which each nation would in effect deal with the rest of the world, instead of all nations engaging in a criss-cross of transactions and arrangements with each other.

He said that it would aid each nation in keeping its dealings in balance with the world, and thus promote a free and expanding flow of funds and commerce.

In the case of countries doing excessive borrowing, the union would influence them to put their house in order by such means as reducing the value of their currency, or surrendering a portion of their gold.

In the case of creditor countries, such as the United States, the union would make it desirable for them to let their balances accumulate as Bancor deposits, where they would be used as a basis for credit instead of being sterilized as gold hoards in bank vaults.

Conflicts with U. S. Plan.

If a nation's accumulation of credit balances became excessive it might be influenced to expand its domestic credit, reduce tariffs, or even increase the value of its currency.

The plan is in apparent conflict with the United States proposal, which would give a veto power to the United States by arranging for at least a 25 per cent vote on a governing board, in which an 80 per cent vote would be necessary for important decisions.

"Management of the institution must be genuinely international, without the preponderant power of veto or enforcement lying with any country or group," Keynes said.

The British government, however, described the plan as only a preliminary contribution to discussion, and said it was "not committed to the principles or details of the scheme," altho it had been presented for technical examination to United States government experts, and discussed with officials of the dominions and India.

WHO WANTS CONTROL OF OUR GOLD HOARD? MORGENTHAU ASKED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Rep. Frederick C. Smith [R., O.] condemned Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau's plan for an international stabilization fund in the house today as "underhanded and wholly unfair to the American people." He termed the plan a secret New Deal scheme and demanded an answer to these questions:

"Why all the secrecy?

"Who wants control of our gold hoard?

"Who are the real forces back of this sinister scheme?

"Why did Mr. Morgenthau and the interests he represents, in setting up this plan, take the rest of the world into their confidence and fail to let our own people know anything about it?"

Rep. Smith promised to inform the people of the peril that he said is in the scheme and declared:

"The people must be immediately aroused to the crucial danger to our freedom and sovereignty that is involved in this clandestine movement."

REALTORS ELECT PERCY WILSON TO PRESIDENCY

Percy Wilson, head of the real estate company bearing his name, has been elected president of the Chicago Real Estate board, it was announced last night at the monthly meeting of the board. Wilson, who ran on the regular ticket, defeated Frank C. Wells, vice president of L. J. Sheridan & Co., who headed the "members' ticket."

Three other candidates on the regular ticket were elected. They are J. L. Hess, vice president; Joseph Ford, treasurer, and Louis Sudler, secretary. Ford was the treasurer candidate on both tickets.

Cyrus Crane Willmore, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, addressed the meeting.

Output of Electric Power for Last Week Declines

Electric power production declined in the week ended April 3 to 3,889,858,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. The preceding week's output was 3,928,170,000, and for the corresponding week of 1942 it was 3,348,608,000. The Commonwealth Edison group of companies reported power output last week totaled 171,311,000 kilowatt hours.

Chicago Tool Maker Earns More in Year

The Independent Pneumatic Tool company, Chicago, yesterday announced net income of $1,611,636, or $4.29 a common share, in the year ended Dec. 31, compared with $1,555,005, or $4.14 a share in the preceding year. President Neil C. Hurley said results of renegotiation of war contracts on last year's profits could not be determined at this time. The company's tax bill increased to $5,023,558 from $2,944,153 in 1941.

Refunds to the government resulting from renegotiation of contracts and voluntary contract price reductions cut last year's net income of the Fairchild Aviation corporation, Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., below that of the preceding year, the annual report revealed.

Provides for Refund.

Profit of the company, which manufactures military and commercial aerial cameras, photographic laboratory and radio equipment and similar products, declined last year to $926,004, or $2.74 a common share, from $1,060,981, or $3.14 a share, in 1941. The report said that altho renegotiation proceedings are still in initial stages the company has provided $800,000 for refund of 1942 profits, in addition to voluntary contract price reductions totaling $3,364,709.

Income and excess profits taxes were lower in 1942, totaling $211,000 and $2,803,500, respectively, compared with $798,402 and $3,020,000 the preceding year.

Air Line's Profit Rises.

Pennsylvania-Central Airlines corporation, Pittsburgh, had net earnings of $408,055, equal to 95 cents a share, in the year ended Dec. 31, compared with $127,284, or 11 cents a share, in 1941. Profit last year included $369,725 profit on the sale or other disposition of aircraft and equipment, and was after provision of $225,000 for federal income taxes. In 1941 profit on the sale of equipment was $38,507 and federal taxes were $91,602.

Net income of United-Carr Fastener corporation, Cambridge, Mass., maker of fasteners for wearing apparel, and for automobile, airplane and motor boat upholstering, slumped to $751,592, or $2.46 a share, from $1,069,023, or $3.50 a share, in 1941. Income and excess profits taxes increased to $3,750,249 in 1942 from $1,585,779 in the preceding year.

Gold, Copper Stocks Rise as Others Sell Off

New York, April 7 (AP).—The stock market weakened today under a substantial run of profit taking sales. Altho final prices for some favorites were up from the lows a majority of the 1,005 issues traded closed lower with many off a point.

Gold and copper issues rose briskly in the last hour. Buying of the gold shares was associated with disclosure of the treasury's plans for post-war currency stabilization.

The broad downward trend of rail and industrial stocks was attributed by market observers to "technical" weakness resulting from the recent long rise.

Volume Stays Above 2 Million.

Dealings totaled 2,099,582 shares compared with 2,463,900 yesterday.

Rails, long popular with speculative buyers suffered a sharp setback in the early dealings with losses running to 2 points. Steels had a mild comeback from bottom levels.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite was down 0.4 of a point at 49.4. Yesterday's closing average was highest since May 9, 1940.

Aluminum of America dropped 3 points on the Curb.

CHICAGO PRICES SAG.

Chicago Stock exchange prices declined yesterday on turnover of 57,000 shares. Actively traded issues included Chicago corporation and Armour, each down ⅛; Aviation corporation, up ¼ to 6 after touching a new 1943 high of 6⅛; RCA, down ½ and Middle West corporation, up ⅛. In the final half hour American Radiator, Consolidated Oil, Curtiss-Wright, New York Central and Republic Steel declined ⅛, and United State Steel ¼, and Commonwealth Edison and Libby, McNeill & Libby advanced ⅛ from the New York close.

RAIL BONDS DECLINE.

New York, April 7 (AP).—Railroad bonds weakened today under profit taking after an unbroken advance starting the middle of last week. Losses at the lowest ranged to about 2 points but a mild flurry of buying just before the close cut the declines in numerous cases. Other domestic groups were mainly steady.

N. Y. LIFE SELLS BUILDING AT 33 WEST JACKSON

The property at 33 West Jackson boulevard, a five story building on a lot 70 by 50 feet, was sold yesterday by the New York Life Insurance company to the 33 West Jackson Building corporation. Revenue stamps indicated the price was $85,000. David S. Chesrow, attorney, is president of the building corporation. Henry D. Hirsch was broker.

The lot fronts 70 feet on Jackson boulevard and 50 feet each on Dearborn street and Plymouth court. Erected in 1917, the building was for many years known as the Southern Pacific building. Chesrow plans to remodel the second floor into law offices.

New York Life acquired the property about a year ago in satisfaction of a $275,000 first mortgage which it had placed on the property in 1931. The assessed valuation, according to county records, is $335,000.

SEED POTATOES MAY BE BOUGHT IN ANY QUANTITY

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Victory gardeners won't have to buy seed potatoes in 50 pound lots after all.

To aid persons with small gardens, the OPA today removed its 50 pound regulation, originally established to curb sales of seed potatoes for human consumption in order to escape price ceilings.

Purchases for planting purposes now may be made in any quantity.

FARMERS FIGHT TO END BUYERS' STRIKE IN HOGS

Receipts Are Held to Only 10,000.

A concerted farm effort to force packers to end their "strike" against high hog prices which began last Friday was seen in yesterday's small receipts. Only 10,000 hogs arrived at the Chicago stockyards, including direct shipments to packers, the second smallest Wednesday total since March, 1941.

Receipts have been rapidly reduced since last week. During the first three days of this week only 42,600 arrived, the smallest three day total since September, 1941.

Curtailed selling by farmers is nation-wide, indicating stiffening opposition to packers' attempts to buy hogs nearer their "cutout" value. Twenty large markets in three days handled 48,000, 16 per cent drop from a week ago.

Small Supply on Way.

No relief is in sight for packers, according to the department of agriculture, which estimated only 13,000 hogs are on the way for today's market, which would be one of the smallest Thursday totals in recent years.

After a scattering of sales had been made at 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher the market came to a standstill with buyers representing the principal local packers and sellers in a deadlock for several hours. Final sales were at steady to 5 cent higher prices, but four of the biggest packers remained out of the market rather than pay more than steady prices. Some of these plants have not bought a hog here since last Friday, but managed to obtain a few at other points and some direct from farmers.

Average Rises 5 Cents.

Early sales of good 190 to 325 pound hogs were made at the 5 cents higher top of $15.90, and a small lot reached $15.95. Later, however, most of the principal droves sold at $15.70 and $15.75. The average rose 5 cents to $15.75.

Opposition to high live costs also increased in the cattle market, resulting in a draggy trade at weak to lower prices after a steady opening. The first steer sales were made at $17.85, equaling the highest since 1937, but the majority sold later 15 to 25 cents lower.

Most lambs sold steady.

Offer Morgan Estate's Stock; Wilson Bonds Reach Market

Priced at $200

New York, April 7 (AP).—A group of investment bankers headed by Morgan Stanley & Co. and Smith, Barney & Co. has bought from the estate of J. Pierpont Morgan its holdings of 18,750 shares of stock in J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc.

Public offering of the stock will be made tomorrow at $200 a share, with a concession to dealers of $3 a share and with the offering subject to allotment.

Taxes May Be Reason.

In Morgan's will, his two sons, Junius S. and Henry S. Morgan, who with the corporation are executors of the estate, were authorized "without limitation" specifically to exercise their powers in respect to this stock. Steep inheritance taxes were mentioned today as possible reasons for the offering.

This will be the second such distribution of Morgan stock in the long history of the institution. On Feb. 3, 1942, Smith, Barney & Co. sold publicly 16,500 shares at $206 a share. The shares were purchased from holders and did not represent new stock.

R-K-O Offering Planned.

Another banking group, headed by Dillon, Read & Co., was reported about to make a secondary distribution of large blocks of securities of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation. The offering will consist of 44,757 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, 412,357 shares of common and 555,253 warrants. About 96,000 shares of the common was acquired from the Rockefeller Foundation and the remainder from Radio Corporation of America.

A special offering of 7,492 shares of Vick Chemical company stock at 42½ with a commission of 60 cents a share was made by Lehman Brothers and Hallgarten & Co. on the floor of the New York Stock exchange today. The offering quickly was taken up.

Will Redeem Others

A new 20 million dollar issue of Wilson & Co., Inc., 3 per cent first mortgage bonds, due in 1958, will be offered publicly today by a nation-wide syndicate of 41 firms headed by Smith, Barney & Co. and Glore, Forgan & Co.

The bonds of the Chicago packing company will be dated April 1, 1943, and will be priced at 100 and accrued interest. They will be redeemable otherwise than for the sinking fund at par and accrued interest plus a premium ranging downward from 4 to ½ per cent. For the sinking fund they will be redeemable with a premium of 1½ down to ¼ per cent.

The outstanding $16,390,000 of 4 per cent bonds due July 15, 1955, and $4,165,000 of convertible 3¾ per cent debentures due April 1, 1947, will be redeemed.

CUT IN SHORTENING DECLARED THREAT TO OUTPUT OF BAKERIES

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Baking industry representatives protested to Food Administrator Chester C. Davis today that a 30 per cent cut in shortening ordered by the OPA would reduce the amount of baked goods available to the public as much as 60 per cent.

"Do you realize that you are creating the anomaly of a bulging wheat bin and a hungry people?" they asked in a telegram to the food administrator.

"If you do not correct this you will create a food problem that will grow progressively worse as noncereal foods become more scarce and as war workers and their families rely more than ever on ready to eat baked foods."

The telegram was signed by Ralph D. Ward and Peter Redler, co-chairmen of the joint war committee of the American Bakers' association and the Associated Retail Bakers of America.

DART ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF UNITED DRUG

Justin W. Dart, former Chicago drug company official, yesterday was elected president of United Drug, Inc., a New York organization controling manufacturing companies and a large system of retail stores thruout the country.

Justin W. Dart.

He became vice president and a director of United about a year ago. He succeeds Joseph A. Galvin, named board chairman.

Dart, one of the youngest of the nation's top business executives, became associated with the Walgreen company in Chicago in 1929 after his graduation from Northwestern university. From 1932 to 1939 he directed Walgreen retail operations.

Besides operating Liggett and Owl drug stores thru subsidiaries, United's retail outlets include the independent Rexall stores.

UNITED TO FILE AIR PASSENGER FARE REVISION

Plans General Cost Reduction June 1.

United Air lines, Chicago, announced yesterday that its proposed general fare revision, notice of which has been filed with the civil aeronautics board for approval, will result in substantial reductions between Chicago and scores of other cities. The air line estimated that the reduction will total about $1,600,000 annually on the basis of present business volume.

If approved, the new fares generally will be no higher than first class train travel costs, United said, and in several instances, the air line's fares would be lower. United's notice, filed by W. A. Patterson, president, advised the CAB that the lower fares will be filed as of May 1 with a proposed effective date of June 1.

Planes Better Utilized.

"The proposed reduction in fares is attributable to the sharp war time increase in the number of passengers per airplane and greater utilization of equipment," Patterson said. "It is also in line with the company's desire to reduce fares as rapidly as consistent with sound business practice and as conditions warrant. We plan reducing existing passenger fares between cities in varying percentages to establish, as far as practicable, a uniform rate of fares over our nation-wide system."

Patterson said United also has accepted a 40 per cent cut, on a pound-mile basis, in its mail pay, and that for transporting the same volume of mails as last year, it would receive $1,700,000 less mail pay annually from the postoffice department.

New York Fare Cut $6.10.

United gave the following examples of the proposed fare reductions from Chicago: $100 to Vancouver, B. C., a reduction of $6.90, and $38.85 to New York, a decrease of $6.10. Fares to Los Angeles and San Francisco, Cal., would be cut by $5; to Omaha, Neb., by $2.45; to Denver, Colo., by $5.17; to Cleveland, O., by $1.60, and to Philadelphia, Pa., by $4.25.

The reduced fares would apply on all of United's planes, the company said, since it is at present operating standardized, 21 passenger planes.

EACH DAY the powerful machine that is America turns more swiftly. The giant factories and manifold skills of the most highly industrialized nation in the world are now concentrated on bringing defeat to our enemies.

Obviously, these arms could not be produced without the necessary funds to pay for materials, time and labor. Thus it is essential that the Second War Loan Drive be a complete success. To make it a success we, as individuals, must show a willingness to invest equal to our industrial ability to produce.

We at American National, as at other banks, stand ready to do everything in our power to assist war bond investors of Chicago in purchasing the attractive securities which they now can buy. There is a War Bond suitable to every pocketbook; we are anxious to provide you with full information concerning any of them.

They give their lives—you lend your money!

GRAINS UNEVEN; REBOUND FROM EARLIER SLUMP

September Corn Break Unsettles Market.

A break of ¾ cent a bushel below the ceiling price for September corn yesterday unsettled grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade and a rush of selling pushed wheat down about 1 cent a bushel and rye 1⅝ cents before the downward movement was checked by short covering and professional buying.

September corn, which has been holding at $1.05, the ceiling price, for several weeks, dropped to $1.04¼ on scattered selling which disclosed less aggressive support, but when buying appeared the market rallied as quickly as it had declined and the close was at the top. May and July sold at the maximum prices permitted by office of price administration regulations.

Wheat Prices Uneven.

Other grains rallied with corn. Wheat finished ⅛ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher. Oats were ¼ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower and rye was unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

A belief that the Bankhead bill would be shelved by the senate, after disclosure that it could not be passed immediately over a Presidential veto, was responsible for the selling of corn, brokers said.

[The senate late yesterday kept the Bankhead bill alive by sending it to the committee on agriculture and forestry.]

However, the dimmer prospect of obtaining full parity price of about $1.10 for No. 2 yellow corn, or 8 cents over the ceiling for corn sold by farmers failed to disturb farmers.

Purchase from Country.

Purchases of 150,000 bushels were made for deferred shipment from the country, largely representing sales by small interior elevators who obtained the corn from producers some time ago.

It was disclosed the Commodity Credit corporation had sold virtually all of its holdings of cash corn.

Elevator interests intimated yesterday that the cash corn situation was becoming extremely acute, and reports were current that grain will be shipped from Chicago to Peoria industries in order to keep plants in operation, altho the corn will cost 2 cents more than if shipped from St. Louis.

CREDIT UNIONS' LOANS DROP AND HOLDINGS CLIMB

The extent of improvement in the financial standing of the average Illinoisan because of increased employment and restrictions on spending brought about by the war is indicated in the annual report on state credit unions published yesterday by Arthur C. Lueder, state auditor. The report showed that at the close of last year there were 713 of these small loan institutions serving 298,306 members, 16,606 fewer than in the preceding year.

Loans to members, ranging from $1 to $1,000 and averaging $147, totaled $14,725,602, a decrease of $8,214,581 from 1941. Cash on hand increased $1,371,465 to $7,390,586.

E. L. BRUCE.

What is the E. L. Bruce company doing to offset the fact that new home building has been stopped?—A. G.

Answer: While private building has been sharply restricted, large scale public housing projects have been continued in areas where new war plants necessitated the construction of living quarters for workers.

One of the E. L. Bruce company's principal products is hardwood flooring finished at the factory and ready for use as soon as it is laid down. This product fits in, of course, with the need for speed in public housing construction. In July, 1942, the company began the manufacture of prefabricated demountable houses for the national housing agency.

Net sales for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1942, amounted to $7,705,637, against $6,893,153 in the corresponding period of 1941. Net income was $203,756, equal to $1.22 a share on the common stock, compared with $412,560, or $2.80 a share, for the six months to Dec. 31, 1941. The company's fiscal year ends June 30.

ALTON RAILROAD.

Will you kindly give me what information you have on recent earnings of the Alton Railroad company?—W. T.

Answer: Gross revenues of the Alton railroad for 1942 were $31,712,090, compared with $20,245,864 for 1941. Freight revenues increased to $22,841,754 from $14,519,007, and passenger revenues to $5,629,895 from $3,055,743.

The amount available for fixed charges was $3,691,588 in 1942, covering total fixed charges 2.44 times. In 1941 the amount available for fixed charges was $2,039,886, and the charges were covered 1.10 times. Net income was $2,180,330 for 1942 and $192,038 for 1941. The operating ration last year was 60.4 per cent, against 72.4 per cent the year before.

Earnings gains have continued this year. January gross operating revenue was $3,000,455, against $2,053,407 a year ago, and in February the gross was $2,878,636, against $1,823,436. For the two months the gain over the 1942 period was 51.6 per cent.

Adverse Weather Hinders Planting Thru Grain Area

Drouth conditions in parts of the main crop producing area and wet soil in others, together with below normal temperatures recently have resulted in a late start in field work, and the outlook for major grain crops is regarded by experts as much less favorable than a year ago.

Parts of Texas, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota, New Mexico, and Illinois are in need of surface moisture, a weather bureau summary, the first of the crop year, said. Flood conditions in the Red river valley in the northwest, normally a large small grain producing area, may prevent plowing and seeding until late in April.

Farm Work Long Delayed.

Husking of corn continues in Ohio and Indiana, work that should have been completed three or four months ago, and in Illinois and Iowa soy beans still are being combined, the bureau said. Growth of the beans was stopped by killing frost late last September.

Seeding of oats, barley, and other small grains is progressing in many areas, with part nearly completed in areas in Illinois, Iowa, and the Ohio valley. Wet soil conditions in the Dakotas and Minnesota continue to hamper field work. Outlook for the winter wheat crop is varied, the report says. Volunteer wheat in western Kansas lacks moisture, but conditions are generally good. Field work in Iowa started two weeks late because of unfavorable weather.

Conditions in several midwestern states:

ILLINOIS—Oats all sown in a few localities. Progress of winter wheat poor to good; much winter damage in some localities; plants 1 to 4 inches high.

IOWA—Farm work started two weeks late, but made rapid progress the last week. Oats seeding in western and southern counties heavy. Increased acreage in flaxseed is expected. Corn husking and soy bean combining continues.

Report Some Plowing.

MICHIGAN—Grasses and winter grains beginning to green in south. Some plowing in the southern part of the state.

INDIANA — Plowing and oats seeding continues, with seeding nearly completed in some counties. Condition of winter wheat mostly fair to good.

OHIO—Week was favorable for plowing, drilling oats, husking corn, and combining soy beans. Much winter killing of wheat and clover evident. In some places wheat is being plowed under and replaced with oats.

MINNESOTA—Some field work began at end of week on uplands and light soils in southern counties. River bottom lands flooded in many localities. Flood conditions in the Red river valley will delay field work until late in April.

People and Events

John McKinlay, president of the National Tea company, announced yesterday that B. J. Dickens, vice president, has retired from active executive work and had tendered his resignation to take effect April 30. McKinlay said Dickens would continue a director.

John S. Campbell, aged 70, senior marketing specialist in charge of the live stock market news office of the food distribution administration, will end 25 years of service on his retirement April 10. He will be succeeded by Lemuel M. Wyatt.

Leverett S. Lyon of the Chicago Association of Commerce, chief executive officer will discuss business and its part in post-war planning at a meeting of the association next Wednesday in the Hotel Sherman.

The American Dry Milk institute will hold its 18th annual meeting April 14 and 15 in the Edgewater Beach hotel. Industry leaders, educators, and government officials will discuss war problems.

WALGREEN HAS RECORD SALES IN MARCH, QUARTER

The Walgreen company reported yesterday that sales in March and the first three months were the highest on record. March sales increased 19.3 per cent to $8,981,370 from $7,527,320 in the corresponding 1942 month. In the three month period sales totaled $26,215,870, compared with $22,265,691 a year ago, an increase of 17.7 per cent.

Following are comparative sales figures, with percentage changes from a year ago:

STEEL WALKOUT ENDS; OUTPUT IS CUT 5,900 TONS

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 7 (AP).—Approximately 2,600 steel workers struck today at the Edgar Thompson plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, busy with war orders, but work was resumed by the night shift. Company and union spokesmen said the cause of the strike was the transfer of 16 time takers to other jobs in the mill at a reduction in pay. The company estimated the work stoppage resulted in a production loss of 5,900 tons of steel and pig iron.

Dubuque Strike Ended.

Dubuque, Ia., April 7 [Special].—The five day old strike of 550 employés of Carr, Adams and Collier company, sash and door manufacturers engaged in war work, ended this afternoon after the war labor board wired the AFL workers to resume their jobs.

End Seafood Strike.

Boston, Mass., April 7 (AP).—Six hundred striking seafood workers whose five day strike has tied up 2 million pounds of fish, ratified an agreement today to submit all differences to the Massachusetts board of conciliation and arbitration and agreed to work tomorrow.

CHARGES EFFORT TO CURB SMALL TIRE RETAILERS

Washington, D. C., April 7 (AP).—Jules Newman, an independent Chicago tire dealer told the senate small business committee today that Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., and "the major rubber companies" had opposed "openly or subversively," every attempt to improve business for independent tire handlers.

Newman appeared with eight other witnesses in support of legislation by Sen. Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] to provide for the sale of all new, rebuilt, retreaded, and recapped tires thru independent dealers.

Newman said tire manufacturers sold tires to independents and at the same time competed with them for the retail and commercial tire business, often selling thru retail outlets at prices lower than independents could obtain. The mail order companies have purchasing advantages over small concerns, he said.

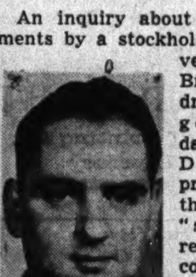
'ASK CONGRESS,' HOLDER WANTING DIVIDENDS TOLD

Revere Head Says Taxes Take Most Earnings.

An inquiry about dividend payments by a stockholder of the Revere Copper and Brass company drew the suggestion yesterday from C. Donald Dallas, president, that the question "should be directed to your congressman."



N. C. Hurley Jr., promoted by Independent Pneumatic Tool company.

Dallas told the stockholders at the annual meeting in New York that about 13 million dollars, or $10.80 a share, was earned by the company before federal taxes, but "please note that federal taxes alone took $12,140,000, equivalent to $9.43 a share on common."

Running Federal Plants.

He reported substantial increases in production of war materials and said the company is operating several government owned plants and with others near completion.

Stockholders of the American Tobacco company at their annual meeting gave the management "the largest vote in recent years," with about 98 per cent of the votes cast supporting management position, the company announced. The statement said a proposal to change the method of selecting independent auditors was defeated by 98.3 per cent of the shares represented and that 97.7 per cent opposed a plan to change the method of conducting the annual meeting.

Hurley Gets New Title.

Neil C. Hurley Jr. was elected executive vice president of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company at a meeting of the directors. Hurley has been with the company for 11 years, serving the last four years as a vice president and a director. John A. McGuire was elected secretary, and E. R. Wyler, vice president, with headquarters in New York. All other officers and directors were reëlected.

Stockholders of Mandel Brothers reëlected all directors and later the directors reëlected all officers. Edwin F. Mandel, president, presided at the stockholders' meeting.

DECREE PERMITS WIDE OUTPUT OF SUPER-GASOLINE

Newark, N. J., April 7 (AP).—Under a federal District court decree filed here today, all gasoline manufacturers will be permitted to make a super-fuel which the Standard Oil company of New Jersey has announced can deliver 40 miles to the gallon in post-war automobiles at a price cheaper than ordinary gasoline.

Three closely related war time uses occupy plants working under the new process; production of basic ingredients for 100-octane aviation gasoline, for synthetic rubber and for tri-nitro-toluol, the TNT that goes into high explosive shells. Automobile engines after the war will have to be redesigned to use the fuels, Standard said.

The decree is the latest step in anti-trust litigation which the justice department launched against Standard Oil [New Jersey], parent company in the world-wide organization; Standard Oil of New Jersey, its biggest operating unit, and other subsidiaries.

Northern Pacific Road's Profit Increases Sharply

The Northern Pacific railroad reported yesterday it had February net income of $1,017,037, against $227,502 in February, 1942. Net income for the two months ended Feb. 28 amounted to $1,874,576, compared with $294,151 in the corresponding period last year.

COAL CONTRACT HOPELESS, SAY MINE OWNERS

New York, April 7 (AP).—Contract negotiations between Appalachian soft coal mine owners and the United Mine Workers reached a climax today when northern operators declared that a pact could not be made thru collective bargaining.

The operators proposed that the present contract, which expired March 31 but was extended 30 days, be observed for the war's duration, subject to any government required changes. This was promptly rejected by John L. Lewis, UMW head.

Edward R. Burke, head of the group of southern Appalachian operators, meeting separately with the union, said the war labor board would be asked by tomorrow to step into the dispute unless the miners agreed to a motion made by the operators a month ago that negotiations be shelved until 90 days after the war.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SALE OF SECURITIES BY THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY.

NOTICE AND SPECIFICATIONS.

[1] Pursuant to the regulations prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its Order of October 6, 1919, as amended October 4, 1920, in its Docket Ex Parte No. 54, The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company [hereinafter called the "Company"], hereby requests bids for the purchase of $5,200,000 par amount of its Equipment Trust Certificates, to be known as "Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Equipment Trust of 1943, Serial Equipment Trust Certificates," having the following terms, provisions, and security:

[a] The said Equipment Trust Certificates are to be issued under an Agreement to be dated May 1, 1943, between H. C. Strong and A. M. Waldron, Vendors, Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee, and the Company, whereunder the railroad equipment described in paragraph [b] is to be held by said Trustee in trust for the equal benefit of the holders of said Certificates;

[b] The said Equipment Trust Certificates are to be issued to provide, in part, funds required for the acquisition of 2,380 new, standard-gauge 50-ton composite type hopper cars, to cost approximately $6,577,037, which equipment will be leased by said Trustee to the Company by Lease to be dated May 1 1943;

[c] The said Equipment Trust Certificates will be of the aggregate principal amount of $5,200,000, will be dated May 1, 1943, will mature serially in equal annual installments from May 1, 1944, to May 1, 1953, both inclusive, and will be guaranteed as to principal and dividends by the Company. These certificates will bear dividend warrants at a rate per annum to be named by the successful bidder, payable November 1 and May 1 in each year.

[2] The Company invites bids on the form available upon application at the office of the undersigned, and all information required in said form must be submitted. Each bid should specify the dividend rate to be borne by the certificates, which must be some multiple of one-eighth of one per cent and must be the same for all maturities. No bid for less than 99 per cent of par plus accrued dividends from May 1, 1943, to the date of delivery, will be considered.

[3] Each bid must be enclosed in a plain envelope securely sealed, bearing no indication of the name of the bidder or the amount of the bid, and shall be marked, "Bid under proposed Contract No. 1 for Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Equipment Trust of 1943, Serial Equipment Trust Certificates," and shall be addressed to the undersigned at his office at 3400 Terminal Tower, Cleveland, Ohio. All bids must be received on or before twelve o'clock noon, Eastern War Time, April 15, 1943. Bids so received will be opened by the undersigned, or in his absence, by A. M. Waldron, Assistant Treasurer of the Company, at said office immediately after twelve o'clock noon, Eastern War Time, April 15, 1943.

[4] All bids are to be submitted subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission of the assumption by the Company of obligation and liability in respect of these certificates. The Company reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Notice of acceptance of the most favorable bid, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be telegraphed to the successful bidder not later than three o'clock P. M., Eastern War Time, April 15, 1943.

[5] Delivery of the Equipment Trust Certificates, in temporary or definitive form, will be made against payment in full therefor to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee, at its principal office in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, on such date as the Company may designate on five days' notice to the successful bidder, such date of payment to be as soon as practicable after the Interstate Commerce Commission shall have authorized the assumption of obligation and liability by the Company in respect of said certificates and approved the bid or bids, but not later, however, than fifteen days after the date of such authorization and approval, and not earlier in any event than May 1, 1943. If the Interstate Commerce Commission shall not have given its authorization and approval as aforesaid on or before May 15, 1943, then the successful bidder may withdraw the bid by delivering written notice of withdrawal to the Company not later than May 20, 1943.

[6] Copies of the proposed form of Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease and the form for submission of bids, are available upon application at the office of the undersigned.

H. F. LOHMEYER,
Secretary and Treasurer,
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company.
3400 Terminal Tower,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dated: March 31, 1943.

HOW TO GET THE MOST OUT OF FOOD POINTS

1 Let the family help decide how the food ration points are to be spent. Daughter Susan may wish to use some of her points for the canned peaches she dearly loves, and son Jim's plea for cherries for a pie should be heard.

2 Set aside a definite time to plan meals. A guide like the menus which appear every Monday in The Tribune can be helpful. It suggests ways of spending points for meats, fats, cheeses, and processed foods to achieve a balanced diet.

3 Think twice before you use a can of vegetables or fruit. If you have the fresh equivalent, you'd better save the can until you need it more. When you do decide to use a can, try to make it last two meals or more.

4 Don't spend any of your ration points for baby food unless you have a baby in the family. Little fellows like this one shouldn't be deprived of their strained vegetables by babyless families who like to use low-point infant foods for soup.

5 Don't be impatient with grocer or meat dealer. Remember, he has many more ration headaches than you! It isn't his fault that many foods have disappeared or that shopping takes longer these days. A cheerful attitude helps him and you.

6 When you use a rationed commodity, stretch it as far as you can. Use only half the can of tomatoes for the spaghetti, adding more onions than usual to help extend the flavor. Save the rest of the can for sauce for meat loaf tomorrow.

7 For a week's budget of 48 points in blue stamps, you can buy a bargain in vitamin C—a huge can of tomato juice, 31 points; a No. 2 can of tomatoes, 16, plus (not shown) a 1-point can of mushrooms or pimientos.

8 Or 48 points will buy 14 cans of baby food (2 cans a day for the week), 14 points; a bottle of catsup, 10 points, a No. 2 can of salad fruit, 16 points, plus (not shown) 2 pounds dried beans, 8 points.

9 For another 48 points one might obtain 2 cans of soup, 12 points; 1 No. 2 can of corn, 14 points; 1 box of frozen blueberries, 10 points, and have 12 points left for a can of tomato or pineapple juice (not shown).
